SENATOR CHAMBERLAIN IN OREGON.

From the Telegram:-

From the Telegram:—
"Oregon is getting a tremendous amount of attention in the East today, not only from those who study her commercial, industrial and financial possibilities, but also from those who study progressive political work," said Senator George E. Chamberlain this morning, upon his return home following the congressional work at the national capital.

morning, upon his return home following the congressional work at the national capital.

"I am glad to get home," continued the senator. "I have been proud of Oregon for years and never felt better than upon considering the fame which our state is now attaining in everything that speaks for greatness and future success. Instead of the state being looked upon as the fool of the family, it is looked upon as the most progressive state in the Union.

"As I returned home I read of the scandals that have developed in Pittsburg and the demands being made by the people for the initiative and referendum, the recall, and what they call The Oregon System." As I came through Nebraska, I picked up a paper and found one of the candidates declaring for what we have in Oregon, offering this to the people as a special cause for support. We are known, are attracting intelligent thought, and we will profit by it."

Senator Chamberlain believes the state fared well in congress this session, especially in the matter of river and harbor improvements. In public buildings and everything else in this line, he finds things entirely satisfactory. Thedelegation worked hard, he says, often under adverse circumstances, and the results achieved are held up for full comparison with whah has been done at other times, when there was perhaps more propitious environment.

In the matter of working for greater recomition in the Federal reclamation

In the matter of working for greater recognition in the Federal reclamation work, Senator Chamberlain particularly advises the state to urge comple-tion of the two existing approved pro-jects on the plans furnished by the Service.

SHOULD CONGRESSMAN HAW LEY BE RE-ELECTED?

The spirit of independence is prevailing in the land, and there is somewhat of an insurrection among voters. Congressman Hawley, who stood pat with the regulars on about everything that came up, will find a strong insurgent vote in Oregon that will be against him. Not only that but he has also to face the fact that he is an assembly candidate in a state that has a different system provided for the nemination of a candidate.

Among the things charged against Congressman Hawley is that he voted for the ship subsidy bill, the rankest thing ever before congress.

That he voted to impose a dollar per thousand tariff on lumber at the dictation of the lumber barons and against the interest of the users.

That he voted sustaining Cannon in every contest.

That he voted sustaining Cannon in every contest.

That he voted in the interest of the sugar trust, and consumers are now paying one or two cents more than they should.

That he helped raise the cotton schedule, increasing the price of cotton goods at least 25 per cent. That he did nothing to stop the wool schedule going up.

ule going up.

That he did nothing to help cause a physical valuation of railroads, etc.

All over the United States people are inquiring into these things, making are inquiring into those things, making an issue that is causing more interest than anything for years. Mr. Hawley has taken sides with the stand-patters, or what is now known as regulars, and it is up to the people of Oregon to say whether he shall be returned to Washington, or shall even be given the nomination in the direct primary.

thation by the state legislative candidates as to what designation to put after their names on the primary ballot? Do any of them object to the words "assembly candidate?" If so of that gilded air castle of which they but yesterday had such beautiful visions?

If the word "assembly" is to be the ways had been several very ways had seen be a several very ways he for sev

If the word "assembly" is to be rejected, the logical thing to do is to go on the ballot as "rump candidates."
Or, if something more emploine is desired, let it be "hump candidates." Perhaps a prophetic designation might be "dumped candidates." Of course, there ought to be some mark or sign in commemoration of the three secret conferences of corporation managers conferences of corporation manager at which the slate was fixed up. For haps the coat of arms of the railway light and power company, suitably engraved, would be a vote catcher.

MRS. LONGWORTH'S CIGAR-ETTE SMOKING.

A Christian Endeavor Society of Fairybury, Neb., has ordered its secretary to ask Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth to refrain from the use of cigarettes in the interest of better morals, and because of the bad influence of her example in so doing. This may cause some jokes, but it is really a serious matter when a woman of the prominence of the daughter of an Ex-President indulges in a habit so bad in its effect as this one, one that men should be above indulging in. Mr. Roosevelt is suposed to stand for a high standard of morals, but there sevidently something loose when his daughter becomes addicted to the cofin nail habit. The effect it has on her personally is not so important as the in nail habit. The effect it has on he personally is not so important as the effect her example may have on the young people of the country.

SATURDAY NIGHT' THOUGHTS.

The people have been interested this week in some charges made by Sena-tor Gore, of Oklahoma, that he was offered a $50,000 bribe in connection with a big Indian reservation graft, involving the vice-president of the United States. Senator Gore has be-bellier. Centred States. Senator Gore has be-come quite prominent as a brilliant orator, with a presidential ambition, and the charge is bound to be consid-ered. It is of course denied, and will therefore affect both Senator Gore and Vice-President Sherman, with and Vice-President Sherman, with followers of each.

Joe Gans, a famous negro pugilist, the best in his class, has been at death's door this week, the victim of consumption, the great knocker out regardless of pugilistic record.

One's thoughts make one. They are the great character indicator. Good thoughts always mean a good character. The things to think about are those that are true, honest, just, pure, lovely and of good report. Try it and don't accuse the Democrat of plagiarism from the Bible because suggesting it.

MISFITS.

The people are interested anyway.

It is the same all over Albany: new

They are all country editors if not in Portland.

Albany carpenters were never busier

Oklahoma has a bribery scandal that Cotton is king and it takes a hand in almost everything.

Oregon is attracting attention in the ast. It has the goods.

Go out in the suburbs if you want to see how things are growing.

The democrats and insurgents practically agree. Why not get together.

Better register. You may want to vote and take sides one way or the other. Some explosives have heen invented that will make war too horrible for

John P. Rockefeller is doing a good business selling oil for sprinkling the streets of Albany.

The tax on liquors in Oregon is said to bee be the biggst yet. Running blind pigs comes high.

One of the dirtiest shames of the age is the abuse of Col. Hofer by senseless newspapers and others.

Prof. L. D. Kinney upon leaving Coos Bay declared it to be a land of character assassins and ingrates.

Notarial commission J. F. Powell it is time. The people are waking up. filed.

Business is good. Several Albany merchants report sales ahead of last year for the first seven months, and last year was an uncommonly good one.

Ballenger says he will stick to the job until fired. His resignation would be acceptable, but the president doesn't dare demand it.

800 Albany business men propose to keep in touch with the other towns of the 13,924 county, even the foot hills. There are no country-jakes in Linn county. We are all one. The Oregonian in its usual small polities is trying to make capital by plac-ing the anti-assembly people as puppets of Jonathan Bourne. Better be a pup-pet of Jonathan than Harvey; but it is all twaddle.

The Oregonian has discovered that the real issue is Bourneism, that it is not real opposition to the assembly; but it is all the same opposition to a nominating assembly when a different arrangement is provided by law.

Through the power of the press one S. A. D. Hamilton has been traced from Scio to Albany, to Eugene, to the Bellknap springs, back again to Eugene, Lebanon and Scio, making a noise wherever he went.

It has often been said that Albany to has often been said that Albany could have gotten the Lebanon paper mill instead of Lebanon, but as a matter of fact, there is nothing in it. Albany was never given any show on it. The original owners selected Lebanon and went there because it was the location wanted.

The Oregon system is attracting wide attention through the east. It has given this state a standing far ahead of anything else that has ever occurred. It is this system the Oregonian is try-ing to down. It is fighting the very thing that has put Oregon on the map. The people are invited to take notice.

Several editors have received letters from Col Hofer, in which he says he expects to be the target of abuse from narrow minds and does not appeal to radical people who take their orders from some imported and salaried agitator, but to honest men. The Col has become considerable of a joke.
