COURT HOUSE. HOW IT GETS INTO ALBANY.

The route of the Oregon Electric into Albany from the north is an interesting one. For inearly two miles beyond Main street it will parallel the South ern Pacific with a common right of way line between, diverging just beyond Main and striking Fifth street through the property of Mrs. Moench and children, for which about nine lots are being secured by legal process. and children, for which about nine lots are being secured by legal process, made necessary by there being minors. The price has been agreed upon. Just beyond it crosses the Salemroad, takes in a slice of A. W. Dockstedder's property, runs through an old house at Pine street, on down through an open space to Geary and Salem road, where it will cut in two the home of W. H. Hiatt, which he has bonded with about three lots for about $4,000. There will be a station at this place. Then it goes through the farm of W. C. Burkhart, a cutting in two an eight acre wainut and peach orchard. On this place the water street route begins, in all a little over five acres of being required of Mr. Burkhart for the two lines. The Water street route will make a cleanup of covpastures and small trees, a decided improvement.

New High School.

The contract was let today in the office of Wm. Hand architect for a new two room high school building at Crab tree for districts 109, 110 and 114. It will cost nearly $3,000, with the heating plant, a p-etty structure.

Camp Cosgrove, Wash. Aug. 12.—
The Albany Company are all in good health and enjoying camp life immensely in spite of the fact that there is much arduous labor each day. Drilling and maneuvering consumes most of the day, but the boys all have time for a plunge in the lake or a trip to Tacoma and no complaint is heard from them. The Y. M. C. A. have two large tents here for the use of the men, one for entertainment and one for writing and reading and it is needless to say that they are always full. On Wednesday Gov. Bowerman of Oregon, and Gov. Hay of Washington, visited the camp on a tour of inspection and seemed to be well pleased with the appearance of the troops. A sham battle full of exciting incidents took place between the Red Army and the Brown Army and the honors captured by the "Reds" of which the Albany company formed a part. During parol drill on Thursday afternoon and while the Albany boys were advancing on the enemy, they were called upon to assist in fighting a forest fire which was rapidly nearing a farm house and heavy timber. After several hours severe work it was finally extinguished. The Albany company is very fortunate in having as cook this year, H. J. Moore of Albany, and many "Regulars" have complimented him on his cooking as well as the "Guard" officers. LELAND R GILBERT.
