WE SEE IT EASY ENOUGH.

There is no railroad building in the Northwest more called for at the present time than the extension of the Corvallis and Eastern from Detroit into Crook county. Everybody in Albany knows it. Perhaps Manager O'Brien does not. When the road was built to Detroit money had been raised enough to build the road clear on through to Ontario, $15,000,000 in all, but only about $4,000,000 of it was used for railroad building, the rest undoubtedly going into the pockets of Mr. Graft. While the present owners had nothing to do with this the people had. They had built up their hopes on the completion of the road far into Eastern Oregon, and certainly were entitled to some consideration. Building railroads may be a cold blooded proposition, but there is also such a thing as justice. Just as a business proposition it looks as if the road would be justified, being the one thing necessary to put commercial life into it, connecting two great sections of country that need a commercial connection at this point. We see this as plain as the Three Sisters on a clear day. Some day Mr. Lovett may also see it, particularly when Mr. Hill builds his electric road to Cascadia and on over the mountains to a connection with his Deschutes road.

WILL DISRUPT THE PARTY.

From the Rainier Review (Rep.) The force which was enacted in Portland last week under the name of the Republican assembly, would be laughable were it not for the fact that it has so significant a bearing upon the success of the Republican ticket in the state election this fall. The Oregonian would have us believe that it was the thing that reunited the Republican party in the state. We are, however, of the contrary opinion. It will be the means of further disrupting the party. The efforts of the old time bosses to dictate the party ticket in plain opposition to the provisions of the primary law will further divide the party in Oregon. Despite the efforts of the leaders in the movement to disguise the fact that there was a slate, anyone who followed the history of the late assembly is aware that for most of the candidates it was a sut-and-dried affair.

THE GALLAGHERS.

That was a mighty cowardly act when that man Gallagher back in New York city tried to kill Mayor Gaynor because he had discharged him from office. No matter what the cause there was no occasion for resentment. The man who goes into politics should take what comes, the ins and outs. The truth of it is, not enough men are discharged from office for incompetency. While it is true that there ought to be more care in the appointment of men to office it is also true that when it is learned that men are not filling the bill they should be promptly relieved of their authority. A decent man will take it gracefully. This Gallagher represents a class of men who assert that it is the business of the country to give them and their family bread and butter anyway.

VALUE OF GOOD WATER.

Good water counts in a city. It is an immense asset. Its absence is, on the other hand, a handicap. The following from the Salem Statesman is a scorching:

People do not have to send their children to Salem to drink impure water. There are other places. The state government does not have to remain in Salem, to have its officers killed with typhoid germs. There are other places for the state capital. Better think, Mr. Salemite, if you have not yet thought, before you vote against the bonds. Do you want to ruin your city?

WOULD MAKE A MULE HEE-HAW.

Democratic papers can at least have lots of fun these days seeing things. Here is J. V. Beach, for instance, four years ago a prominent democrat. Then he registered as a republican to beat Fulton or some thing else. Now he is running for circuit judge, as an assembly nominee, while old-time republicans are being squeezed out into the great cold darkness of obscurity. Isn't that enough to make one become Mand the Mule?

PAYNE-ALDRICHISM!

Ladies' gloves that were $1 a pair before the passage of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, are now $1.25. Ladies' shoes that were $3 are now $3.50. Ladies' sandal rubbers that were 25 cents a pair are now 75 cents. Even the kitchen broom which once cost but 25 cents, now retails for 35 and 40 cents and more.

Coming Sure.

Richard & Pringle's Famous Georgia Minstrels, which come to Albany, Aug. 18, promises the best show that they have ever brought here, and that is promising much, for this well known company has been coming here for years, and has never disappointed. They have always brought a show absolutely clean and meritorious.

This season they bring a large company, headed by Clarence Powell, Billy King, Kid Langford, Charlie Wilson, David Smith, Oscar Cameron and eight other well-known comedians. The vaudeville portion of the program has received unusual attention and will be a surprise.

SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

The death of Harvey W. Scott, for many years editor of the Oregonian, has been an event of wide concern. The press has universally spoken in high terms of the ability of Mr. Scott, characterized as rare. He was a man of great force, aggressive and individual. One paper declares that he possessed intense prejudice, which he expressed in his editorials without feeling. Another that he lacked human sympathy, that he was cold and severe. But all declare him a great editor mentally. He will be missed universally.

This week thirteen people were killed in an accident on a railroad in California, due entirely to carelessness of a character that should be entirely avoided these modern days. The system of train orders should be so exacting and severe that it would be impossible to make such a mistake as was made on this occasion.

Secretary Ballinger of the interior department has been in Oregon this week looking over matters under his department. He has been a bone of contention for some time and his visit is of special interest; but it will settle nothing.

This week the president of the greatest railway system in the world was in Albany, coming here across the mountains. His trip by the Lebanon road and through Albany had no significance at all, though some have tried to put a roof on it.

The annual encampment of the National Guards of five states began this week at American Lake, a gathering together of a crowd of soldiers from civil life who have always been found equal to the occasion when demanded. While it is somewhat of an outing after all it is much more, a military training of importance.

A teachers' examination this week is of decided importance, a part of the preparation for a work that is of immense concern to everybody.

Uncle Tom's Cabin was presented here this week. It had some hand marks; but considerable of the play is made a farce under modern methods.

The air continues full of assembly talk. The latest is an effort to throw a chunk of assembly disfavor at the democrats by ringing a little one-horse assembly into their camp; but it has fallen flat and has fake ears.

Stewart & Sox Hardware Co have just received a stock of the latest in Androns. Call and select while the assortment is full.

Harrisburg.

Bulletin:— Walter Huston has purchased the Tommy Rodgers residence on Smith's tract across the railroad.

Johnnie Templeton has sold his three acre tract in the edge of town to G. F. Myers of Lebanon, consideration $550.00. Mr. Templeton and family have already moved five miles west of Junction City where they will operate an 180 acre farm.

Bird Rose and John Warner returned last week from their sixteen days auto trip through Central Oregon. They took in Madras first then going south to the state line, stopping at all the principal towns and villages. There is evidence of a rapid settlement of all the country through which they passed.

The surveying party of the Oregon Electric passed a line down Fourth street today, coming into town from the north just a few feet east of the C. E. Maxson residence property. They practically parallel the S. P. line at least to the other side of the river. In coming from Albany they found a fine route and one that will scarcely call for a second survey.

Barnum and Bailey.

Announcement is made that on Saturday, Aug. 27, the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on earth will visit Salem. For fifty-five years this has been the leading show of the world. This year it comes forth with an entire new equipment which cost the management $2,500,000.

The main performance is given in three rings on two stages on an immense Roman race track and in the dome of the home of Mr. Sam Mullen, while on their way home. They formerly resided in their Albany home, Mrs. Brownson being a daughter of J. J. Graham.

Misses Hamilton and Hoenck of the Hamilton Store, have returned from San Francisco, where they spent a month there and in adjoining cities, having a pleasant experience. They made a specialty of studying the latest in millinery.

Lawyer A. A. Tussing, of Brownsville, returned last evening from a Portland trip and went home this morning. He is prominently mentioned for the office of circuit judge as running mate of Judge Galloway, a good lawyer and a splendid student.

One hundred sixty people arrived on No. 19 this noon for the Bay, besides a large number already here going. Among the Albany people were Misses Mabel and Maude Blount, Mrs. W. M. Parker, Mrs. Frank Froman, Mrs. Dawson, Fred Veal and H. A. Nelson.

An Oil Party.

An oil party was held last evening at the corner of Washington and Fifth streets. Crude oil was boiled, put in sprinklers and two men in old clothes spread it along the street, previously wet down. It is fun of the highest order—for the audience, several being present to watch and hiss. Then sherbet and cakes were served and conversation flowed. Several of these parties have been held in different parts of the city.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 80-40. Two days in succession the temperature of the previous day is just twice that of the night following. The river: 3 feet. Prediction: Fair tonight and Sunday.

A LECTURE ON LINCOLN.

Dr. Bancroft last night presented his lecture on the Assassination of Lincoln, at the Presbyterian church, to a much larger audience than greeted him the night previous. He has an old fashioned way, a conversational style, backed by a long experience in telling the story, and a subject matter of intense interest to everybody. In early days he was in Kansas with John Brown, and when Lincoln became president was one of a guard of Kansas men, at the white house. His great story was the actual assassination of President Lincoln, the greatest tragedy of the century. J. Wilkes Booth took a glass of brandy and he was crazed for the awful act, which started the whole world. Mr. Bancroft told of picking up a piece of the theater program with a drop of the blood of the president, which had fallen upon it as he was taken from the theater. The pursuit and capture of the assassin were presented and other incidents in connection with Lincoln, the beloved of the American people.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

A distinguished party of hunters were Prof. Arthur Burton Cordley, zoology and entomology, Prof. Geo. Wilkes Peary, forestry, Prof. Arthur Lee Peck, landscape and Prof. William Arthur Jensen, the president's private secretary, of the O. A. C., who arrived on the early train, on their way home from a deer hunt in the mountains beyond Cottage Grove. They had a great time, getting five bucks and a bear, besides an immense crop of whisks, transforming their appearance as they stood on the platform in their hunting toggery.

Several hundred people from all through the valley left for Newport, among them being Editor F. M. Brown and wife, and Peter Bither of Brownsville, Rev. Baker and family, and Mrs. J. C. Mayor of Lebanon, J. B. McCoy and wife, here on a visit from Los Angeles, Mrs. Grant Froman and sister, Mrs. Omer Hendricson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Crowell, Deputy Sheriff Del Smith, "Bill" Coates, Chas. Fox and Arthur McChesney of Albany. Fifty-five arrived on No. 14 from the south joining them.

Frank Purdom, wife and daughter, Mrs. Leo Egan, left for Portland on a visit with their daughter and sister, Mrs. Phillips.

Dr. Akin went to Portland. Rev. L. K. Giel, of the Bay, and sister Miss Mary, left for Sweet Home. Dr. Bancroft, the lecturer, left northward.

Rev. John Acheson, of Portland, returned to Portland. He had been here to have the plans for a new building for the Third Church approved by the superintendent of missions, Rev. W. P. White. It will cost about $7,500 and will be located on 37th street.

J N. Hart Was Here.

J. N. Hart, assembly candidate for attorney general of Oregon, was in Albany last night, while on a trip through the valley in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Hart was once schoolsuperintendent of Polk county, graduating from that office directly into the district attorney's office after a close call. Upon completing his term he went to Baker City, where he has since practiced. If he has opposition in the direct primary the vote he gets in this district, where he is well known, will be interesting.

MISFITS.

Wanted some ruin. Growth makes new problems.

More hydrants and more lights. There should be a law against the indiscriminate sale of revolvers.

Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown, whether that of king or mayor.

Judge Lovett and Manager O'Brien were shot in Portland, by the camera fiend.

Strange how many people lose their balance wheel when they look at a moving picture.

They are trying mighty hard to throw some of the assembly unpopularity upon the democrats.

Gallagher's favorite authors are Chas. Dickens, Henry George, Shakespeare and William R. Hearst!

Judge Lovett warns people against excessive land prices. The warning is all right, but what of it.

Gallagher is a disciple of W. R. Hearst and praises him to the sky. Wonder how that suits Billy.

Keep out the Japs, keep out the Hindus, keep out everybody, more or less, is the cry. A great problem.

Now we know what the army can do, put out fires. It can also fire the best of any in the world when it has to.

The average saloon keeper would like to make the block in a city the unit. Some day the whole U. S. will be the unit.

Back in New York in an international contest a man ate 64 1-3 bananas and won the prize as the banana hog.

The republican papers are telling the democrats what a blunder it would be to nominate Bailey. Well, he won't be nominated. Gov. Folk should be.

The democratic party is notorious for blunders, according to the Oregonian. So is the republican party, so is everybody else. This is a blundering old world.

Albany should not only look after all parts of the city, but it should reach out and take in more and look after it, east and west and south. We must face the music.

The Eugene papers had it all figured out that President Lovett and party would pass through Eugene, but they did not. They passed through Albany and we sat on the fence and saw them go by.

Some of the moving pictures bring one mighty close to the great world in which we live. Take the Havana scenes, for instance. Seeing them is next to taking a trip to Cuba. You have the reality, the action itself.

The demand for sewerage and water and good grades at the east end is a proper one and there should be a hustle to provide them; but east end people must not be impatient. It is a part of the life of suburban districts to have to wait.

W. S. Richards, the able superintendent of the chair factory, has kept coming up with leaps and bounds, in the political world, running for many of the offices from those of the city, up through the county, to the highest office in the gift of the people of Oregon.

The Guard claims that the Southern Pacific discriminates against Eugene. Sometimes the same claim is heard as to Albany, and other cities. As a matter of fact Eugene has been favored as much as any city. But the truth is, there is probably no discrimination at all. Most of such claims as a rule are bugaboos.

The city of Albany cannot afford to reject the offer of a city park on the Bryant tract across the city. A parkless city can't go begging. It is time there was action in this matter of a park. For years the city has indolently let everything slip through its hands. This Bryant park proposition should be jumped for alacrity.

'If the growlers made the weather they wouldn't please themselves, so let us gently pass them up and lay them on the shelves,' says Jos. W. Dorr in The Sunset Shores. Also— The grumblers growl at April. And they grumble at July. There's too much rain in January. And August is too dry.
