OUR TRAIN SERVICE.

SWEET HOME GROWING

The Eugene Guard says that the Democrat came to the defense of the Southern Pacific in its train service because the train service is so arranged that Eugene's best territory is made tributary to Albany, and it is expected an Albany paper would endorse the policy of the road in cutting off Eugene's trade in the interest of that city.

THE CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT.

Because the Democrat said B. F. Mulkey should receive the republican nomination for congress over W. C. Hawley, because Hawley is an assembly man and a follower of Cannon and Aldrich, the Independence paper accuses the Democrat of trying to widen the breach in the republican party, sneaking into a clean house to foul it, all of which of course is simply talk.

CONDENSED MILK FACTORIES.

The following is from the News Letter of San Francisco, of a few months ago, and in view of Albany's numerous efforts to have a Condensed Milk factory, it is interesting:

Municipal Ownership Carried.

Salem yesterday had an election on the municipal ownership of the water works at that city and the expenditure of $75,000 for the extension of the water mains.

CH NEWS

South Lebanon leads in registration with 165. North Brownville next with 123. Albany and West Albany each has 106 and East Albany 105.

TEACHERS WHO PASSED

Following is the list of teachers who passed the recent examination, with their grade: First grade—J. C. Banks, Marie Jones, Amy Lowell, Hazel Wellar, Annetta Burch, Adda Danner, Vida Nanney, Elmer B. Williamson, Ada Cowles, Nannie L. Dougherty, Bertha Golden, Olga Post, Dorothy Engel, Esther Gilbertson, Maud Collins, Margaret Evans, Elizabeth Bell, Jca. Benner. The highest are Misses Cowles and Engel, 95, and Miss Post and Mr. Benner, 94.

A Series of Meetings.

Elder I. G. Knight, a returned missionary from Panama, of the S. D. A. church, on tomorrow night, at the W. C. T. U. hall, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, will begin a series of meetings, speaking on Strife Between Capital and Labor.

For a Non-Political Judiciary.

The no-political judiciary organization of Oregon have organized with A. C. Woodcock, of Eugene as general chairman, M. L. Pipen, of Portland, chairman of the executive committee, to fight for the supreme court ticket named by the organization, which includes Judges Slater and King, democrats, instead of the two republicans the assembly elephant is trying to force into the office because of their politics. The people should back the organization.

A Pill Diet.

Today will end the maneuvers of the soldiers at America Lake. The two Oregon regiments were to live today on pills of condensed foods as a test, with a march of twenty miles, with skirmishes and all manner of trying ordeals. Tonight they will pack up and tomorrow leave for home, probably arriving at 7:45.

The Auto Won.

An interesting race was had last night between Joe Tucker of Corvallis in his auto and the train coming out from Newport. They left Corvallis together and were in sight of each other considerable of the distance, at one place the contest being a decidedly pretty one with the auto gaining. Tucker reached the bridge in twenty minutes, flew across it along First and Lyon streets and was waiting next the W. F. building when the train backed in.

Gravelling the Track.

Grover Birchet, a prominent college student passed through the city last evening on a gravel train. During the vacation season he is helping to ballast the road with gravel. It is gotten near Junction and is being spread along the track, making a decided improvement.

WEDNESDAY.

TAKEN TO LEBANON.

The body of Ernest A. Frazier, shot at Sacramento, it was said while purse snatching, was brought to Albany on the early train this morning, and taken to Lebanon 'or burial. It was consigned to his mother Mrs. E. R. Frazier. His wife also resides there. She was formerly Miss Mona Hart, daughter of Dan Hart. When Frazier left Lebanon no one knew where he had gone but his wife, it is reported at Lebanon. He was about 25 years of age, and settled in Lebanon two years ago with his mother, frequently being away from home. According to Fred T. Merrill, of Portland, he was undoubtedly the famous Pink Domino, of Portland, who held up numerous people; but had decided to reform, and wrote Mr. Merrill only a day or two before his death that he was going to live differently. The outcome makes this look different. One claim is that his death was accidental.

The Greatest Yet.

Salem, Ore. August 16, 1916.—The opening of the Oregon State Fair, September 12, 1916, will usher in what promises to be the greatest, from every standpoint, agricultural and livestock exhibition ever held in the state. As entries for the different exhibits are well under way Secretary Frank Meredith is now turning his attention to his ground working forces and having the exhibit halls, stock pens, race-horse stables and grounds put in holiday attire for the reception of the visitors September 12 to 17 inclusive. New decorations are being placed in the exhibit halls, painters are spreading fresh paint and the entire grounds are being cleaned up so the visitor can enter every nook and corner and find that his coming has been prepared for. After boasting that better men are secured by the assembly the assembly elephant put up about as poor a ticket as has ever been named in Oregon, and the voters in the republican party will say so on primary day, where the opportunity is offered. If they get Teddy R. mad he will say something hot.

MISFITS.

Most people give the devil his due. This business might as well all stop until Teddy speaks. One good turn deserves another is the foundation of politics. Ballinger says he won't resign. What's the odds. Perhaps he will. Mrs. Dr. McKinn at Reno is so happy, so happy, she has gotten a divorce from the Dr. There is a good saying that two heads are better than one, but it just depends upon the heads. Taft agrees to make one speech. Heavy-weight men don't always make heavy-weight speeches. If Eugene gets the Oregon Electric in eighteen months Albany ought to have it in at least nine months. Billy Sunday at Oregon City yesterday slashed the liquor traffic and the saloon good and hard. A good field for whacks. Several thousand dollars were lost by the soldiers at American Lake in craps. One darkey did it. Another colored knockout. Instead of by machine in the modern way the people are being counted back in Washington by hand, and it will take a long time. From Portland to Eugene not once will the Oregon Electric cross the Southern Pacific, the entire distance remaining west of the road. Two occult students, just married, committed suicide yesterday at San Francisco to make a test of their studies. What fools some mortals be. The Oregonian is making a desperate effort to prove that the contest is really Bohrne and Bourneism; but the people don't pay so very much attention to the Oregonian's lamentations. Back in Oklahoma they think it is all right to rob the Indians because they don't know how to keep their property anyway. Then that may be applied to a good many white people. A Colorado minister in Portland is said to have pronounced Portland one of the purest cities he had seen. And it is whiskey soaked with a corrupt city government, according to all reports. A Spokane man weighed 210 pounds upon marriage three years ago. His wife began whipping him and making things interesting; generally, and how he weighs only 138 pounds, just a skeleton. Shaniko, a little one horse town in Eastern Oregon has seventeen saloons; and the reputation of being the toughest place in the U. S. Now who will select it for a home for their boys and girls. Raise your hands. The Oregonian's effort to eliminate Os. West and Jeff Myers from the governorship contest on the democratic ticket and put in Manning all alone isn't working seriously. If it is in the Oregonian politically it is easy to guess it isn't so. E. H. Kilbarn has been in Eugene looking for a job. He has no bad habits and can help a civil engineer, build railroads, is experienced in locating and reconnaissance, is a cigar store clerk, a candy maker, knows how to sell groceries and hardware, is a teamster, is a fine penman, can run a typewriter; does shorthand and is a book-keeper.

DOINGS OF THE WORLD.

Pat McArthur has gone to Salt Lake to a conference of western governors, representing the Oregon executive. Yesterday at Newport three Albany young men were fined $24 in all for causing a disturbance on the streets of the city. A. N. Richardson, a Portland barber, killed Jack Hale, whom he accused of interfering with his family affairs. The unwritten law will be his defence. The government is having a survey made at Oregon City to decide whether the old locks shall be purchased or new locks built on the opposite side of the river. The R. R. Com. is in session at Eugene today to consider the matter of passenger service between Portland and Eugene. One kick is at the lateness of the trains. Dr. H. I. Keeney, a successful Linn county product, will erect an $8,000 residence in the new Laurelhurst addition to Portland. It will be a low rambling suburban residence on the California style. Amos Hoff, of Eugene, paid the expenses of Miss Anna S. Larson from Norway to Eugene, under promise of marriage. Upon rival she refused to marry him. He has brought suit for $213.20, including $1000 for exemplary damages. Portland Telegram: Harry E. Crow, one of the most popular conductors on the Southern Pacific lines, and son of one of the oldest engineers on the road, is lying at the Good Samaritan Hospital, afflicted with typhoid pneumonia, and is reported in a most serious condition. He is a member of Portland Lodge, 142, B. P. O. Elks. Put it down that every man who runs will be in favor of good roads. The men who is not might as well hide in the choultry of an assembly thicket.

Want King and Slater.

Statesman:—There will be only one objection in the corrupt practice pamphlet. The time for filing these objections to candidates closed yesterday and during the day an objection to Judge George H. Burnett and Wallace McCamant was filed by the non-partisan judiciary people in favor of Justice Will R. King and Woodson T. Slater.

CONGRESSMAN LONGWORTH WAS BEATEN

in the Ohio primaries, showing that the people have more sense than the assemblages. He is a good example of the old convention nomination, the kind of men who should be eliminated from our politics. If you don't want so many things as the ticket to vote on don't sign every thing presented you. Refuse everything except what you are in favor of.

IT IS A RARE DAY THAT DOES NOT SEE A DIVORCE IN COURT WITH A MILLIONAIRE AS A PARTY. BOTH MONEY AND POVERTY BRING TROUBLE.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned as Sheriff of Linn county, Oregon, pursuant to an execution and order of sale issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah county, on the 18th day of June, 1910, upon a judgment rendered and entered by said court on the 10th day of June, 1910, in an action then pending in said court whereby C.
