OBSERVED

By the Man About Town.

A sign at the corner of Ellsworth and Water streets reading: "Barrett Bros. $25,000 Garage. Material furnished by the Curtis Lumber Co., John McCheaney contractor."

One of the neatest cement walk improvements in the city is in front of the residence of H. K. Luggier, with two cement steps and walks leading to the handsome residence. The property east is to also be improved somewhat the same. It will be a fine place regardless of the Oregon Electric freight line.

A gallery in the Rawlings printery, a more room being necessary for supplies. Albany is the hub of the valley for job printing.

Ralph Wheaton, the contractor of the Schmitt block, at work with a force of men.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

W. H. Ingram and son Oscar, of Lebanon, returned from their eastern trip and left for Lebanon. While gone they were at Detroit, Mich. Mr. Ingram's former home, and also spent several days at Niagara Falls and other places, but nothing equalled the Willamette Valley, which looked good to them upon their return.

The Blind Pig Tax.

Following is the oath the blind pig dealer takes upon getting his tax receipt from the U. S. government, as shown by one shown the Democrat.

Stole a Horse and Buggy.

An attempt was made Saturday by a stranger to steal the horse and buggy of H. G. Nye, residing three miles this side of Sweet Home. While the family were in the field he went into the barn took the horse and buggy and started off with them, but was seen, and at once followed. He had a gun and fired keeping them away for awhile and then jumped from the buggy and fled. A posse was formed and followed him, but he was not found. A rifle was missing from the house of Wesley Brand, evidently stolen, and some thought the man might be Riggings, the escaped convict who got out of the Selo jail, now trying to get out of the country.

Was in Albany.

The Examiner tells of the coming appearance in San Francisco of Madame Margaret Barry, famous as a dramatic artist, on Sept. 3, when she will present the psychological poem, The Death of Eve, which she was preparing to present here. King Edward at Lady Paget's London house when his death occurred, Madame Barry, at least one of the same name, once started on a dramatic trip from this city, giving her first performance here, a talented reader.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 74-46. The river 74.4 feet. Prediction: Fair tonight and Tuesday.

BEING NAMED FOR OFFICE

We get some interesting things from correspondence in the Portland papers.

"This year many Republicans are heartily disgusted with the assembly tactics that have been trusted upon the party. They will oppose the slate made ticket tooth and nail and are not afraid to speak out in meeting to that effect.

Among democrats mentioned for Congress are Hon. J. K. Weatherford, an able attorney.

For circuit judge Wm. Galloway is the candidate for the first judgeship, and S. M. Garland, William Bilyeu, evidently meaning W. R. Bilyeu and W. S. Risley have been named.

For senator William A. Miller, the sage of Lebanon, evidently meaning Milton A. Miller, will have a clear field. Fred Dawson has been mentioned, but is out of it.

J. M. Philpot is to be a candidate for reelection, and Barney Martin and John Denney are mentioned. John Denney is a prominent republican, evidently F. J. Denney being meant. D. C. Smith, D. S. being meant, is being urged to stand for sheriff. Frank M. (C) Stellmacher is an announced candidate and Worth Huston may get in the game.

For county clerk Riley Shelton seems to be the choice and T. J. Anderson of Harrisburg is alone for recorder and Henry McMurry for treasurer.

All this is interesting and some of it is straight goods.

The Changing of Agents a Fact.

R. E. Michaels, the new agent of the Southern Pacific at this city, has been in the city making arrangements to move here with his wife, to reside, and is already in charge of the office.

He is a young man, agent at Mt. Angel for sometime, a former operator, and is highly spoken of. Mr. Montgomery has been transferred to Sheridan, and will go there after a week's vacation.

Though a small city the income is large on account of the agent also being the Wells Fargo agent. He was slated for Silverton, as reported, but Agent Moore of Roseburg, who is also being transferred had the first call and took Silverton. The Agent at Silverton, an old timer, is said to have been relieved of his commission. Mr. Montgomery has made a host of friends in Albany who will regret the leaving of him and his estimable family.

Captor of Wendling Here.

John Taub, the man who discovered Joseph Wendling, charged with the murder of little Alma Kellner in Louisville, Ky., about which so much has been written, is in St. Mary's Hospital in this city. While on his way from the city to Portland to work at his trade, that of ice cream making, Taub was taken seriously ill and got off the cars at this city. He recognized Wendling from a picture as a neighbor in his boarding house, and succeeded in having him arrested. He now claims the $11,000 reward for the arrest of the murderer.

A Child's Experience.

F. A. Wood, wife and child of Portland, were in the city on their way to Newport for an outing. Several months ago they had quite an experience reported in the Portland papers. Mrs. Wood, while shopping left the child in a baby buggy outside. The child got out and disappeared. After an all night hunt it was found the next morning in a pool of water, with its face just out of the water alive. It was resuscitated and lived a lively little youngster. They stopped at the St. Charles over night.

A Perfectly Safe proposition.

You never hear the owner of an S. W. Miller piano say, "I wish I had paid a little more and bought a $700 one or more expensive piano." There is a reason for this and it is that a better piano cannot be bought at any price. It is not what you pay for a piano, but what you get that counts. Come in and see one at our store and it will be plain to you why it is safe to buy an S. W. Miller piano.

WOODWORTH DRUG CO.

Junction Won.

In a rather remarkable game Junction City yesterday afternoon defeated the Albany Colts 2 to 1. Junction made the 2 in the first inning and Albany hit 1 in the last inning after two were out. Bill Patterson pitched a strong game for Albany, splendidly caught by his brother, and Baker and Perman, were the Junction battery.

A foot race has been arranged for the championship of the foot office crew, to be run by Dave Patterson and Charles Serling, according to present reports each man being the fastest. It is to be 100 yards, crack start without obstructions.

Jake Menear, of Foster, left for home this morning accompanied by H. F. McIlwain. They will hunt the festive deer and the roaring cougar for a few weeks. Last week Mr. Menear killed a cougar measuring 10 feet 8 inches, one of the biggest yet captured up that way.

Mr. Orval Douglas, a former student of Albany College, and his cousin Miss Florence Eastburn went to Portland where Miss Florence will spend two or three weeks visiting relatives. Orval has been visiting his brother Ross Douglas and other relatives here while on his return to Portland from an outing at the coast. He says Portlan may be the best place for some people to be would rather live up the valley.

TOPSY TURVY HIT ALBANY

An opera house full of people last night was delighted with the offering of Topsy Turvy, by the Salem young people. It was well done for amateurs, with all the little details cared for. It took.

Topsy Turvy is a musical comedy, and it was presented with a snap that was refreshing, without much of the encoo foolishness that sometimes becomes tedious.

Don Clark was the star of the occasion, Billy Falfa, the college boy into everything, and it was under his capable direction it was given, assisted by his bright little wife who was on the spot as Dolly Ringer.

The hit of the evening was "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly?" by Emmeline Klein and company. Mrs. Carlton Smith in her red costumes did splendid work as Gloria Ringer, the prima donna, capturing the audience as well as Al. Falfa, who footed the bills, taken by Aug. Hackett.

The comedians of the Upset Michael Finnegan and Patrick Cassidy, hod carrier and brick layer, taken by Roy Buckingham and Chas. Bier did well. Cairo as sung by Mrs. Dorothy Keiser and chorus was specially good.

The costumes were elaborate and it was well staged. The Salem crowd made good as entertainers.

Topsy Turvy took the morning train for Newport, where summer resort people will have an opportunity for an evening's enjoyment.

McElroy's orchestra furnished some high grade music, a fine musical institution.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

The Topsy Turvy crowd were the center of attraction, good lookers. With them were Mrs. Margaret Wilson Morgan, a former Albany visitor, and Mrs. Yantis, mistress of the wardrobe. Mrs. Carlton Smith, the accomplished Gloria Ringer, was obliged to return to Salem on account of a lame foot, and her place will be taken by some one else at Newport.

J. H. Kaufman, the stage carpenter, and Albert Smith left for the Green Basin country after a flock of deer, a cougar and a bear, but programs gang aft a-glee and they may not get everything scheduled. For several years they have gone to the same place.

Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Lawrence and baby, of the O. A. C., came over to visit Prof. and Mrs. Bushnell, former fellow teachers of Mr. Lawrence at Stillwater. He is a new man at O. A. C. in botany, and is said to be good.

William Beeson, son of A. W. Beeson, came down from Lebanon, and left for Portland, where his brother is in the hospital.

Miss Sue Breckenridge and cousin Miss Collins left on a Lebanon visit.

Alfred Holman Passed Through.

Alfred Holman, editor of the Argonaut, of San Francisco, passed through the city last night for home after an Oregon trip. Mr. Holman was formerly a reporter on the Oregonian. He reported Linn county's last fair at Albany, nearly thirty years ago, scorching things, and upon an Albany man attacking him in the paper, came back here with blood in his eyes, causing a retraction, an incident some Albany people will remember.

Senator M. A. Miller Should Run Again.

Hon. M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, was in the city to day. He has been mentioned for governor on the democratic ticket, but is not a candidate for office. He is, though, being generally urged to run again for state senator, and it is to be hoped makes the race. In the last session of the legislature he made a splendid record on the side of the people, and in need there again. If he consents to run there will be no question of his election.

Home from Hood.

Rev. W. S. Gordon arrived home this noon from a hike to the top of Mt. Hood. The trip was made with some prominent M. E. ministers, a pleasant affair, without accident. Rev. Gordon wrote his name on the very top, and now has a distinction comparatively few enjoy. The Democrat will expect a poem on the subject.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 74-19, summer resort climate. The river 7.7 of a foot. Prediction: Fair tonight and Wednesday, and warmer.

Chief of Police Cox, of Portland, has been gone ten days, and his friends are alarmed. It isn't even known by his family where he is, but he is supposed to have gone deer hunting and may have been in a forest fire. It is a stick of a man who will go off without notifying his family.
