THE COLLEGE LIBRARY.

Albany College has been put on a working basis the past year, and it is intended that it shall develop rapidly henceforth until it becomes adequate to the college need and in large measure serviceable to the community. It merits the sympathetic interest of every person in Albany. Claiming all the good will that is due it, it invites everyone to help it to become more serviceable to Albany on to Oregon.

During this vacation about 350 feet of new shelving have been added, which barely meet the present need. Much more work has been done in classifying and arranging books and periodicals. With the opening of the new school year all the resources of the library will be in shape to be used easily and quickly.

This is a library age. The intelligent man must be trained in the use of many books and know how to use a library to answer his questions. The student in school must be taught to educate himself in the library. The student and the citizen must depend very largely upon magazines and pamphlets for down-to-date information. They must have large collections of these at hand in orderly arrangement, and must know how to find out what is in them and then how to find it in them. It is the business of libraries to save and classify everything in print and to educate the public to use its treasures.

In the homes of Albany are large quantities of periodical, pamphlet, and book material much of which has become burdensome or of little use to its owners. New value is at once given to this material when it is collected and assorted on the shelves of a library. Albany College Library wants all of this material that it can get. If we get duplicates that we do not need we can dispose of them where they will be used. Some things you can bring to the library. We want everybody in Albany to come and see it.

We will gladly send for what you have. Please notify us by phone or card. We are planning for a day very soon when we shall send drays to gather up your surplus magazines, etc. Of this we shall give further notice. We count upon the reader's co-operation in all of this work.

Every letter or diary or scrap of print from pioneer days should be saved in the library for the historian of the future.

Sincerely yours, F. G. FRANKLIN, Librarian.

THE WAY IT IS WORKED.

The following is from the Ukiah, Calif. Times, is timely, and will be read with great interest by the voters of this congressional district:

"It is managed this way: Mr. Cannon and the 'leaders' make up a list of the congressmen that have been especially serviceable to them. This means the men in congress who do just as they are told, vote exactly as directed, and can be depended on at all times in any emergency. Of course, these are the men the trusts and others of the privileged class want back, so they go to them and say: 'Mr. So-and-So, how do you stand in your district? What are your chances of being elected again?' 'Now Mr. So-and-So is from an inland district where the insurgent feeling is strong, and he knows his people don't approve his voting constantly with, by, and for Cannon and those he represents. So he expresses his doubts and fears, and is asked if he doesn't want a postoffice building for one of the largest cities in his district, or if there isn't a river somewhere that could be dredged out so the turtles and catfish would have better navigation, or if he couldn't use an appropriation for a park or reserve of some kind, or a few thousand dollars to drain an old swamp.

"If he is from a coast district he can have a lighthouse or two and some life-saving stations, with postoffice, harbor dredgings, river improvements, Indian schools, and perhaps a fort or two thrown in as they seem to be needed. So these items are included in the appropriations and go through like greased lightning.

"Then the candidate for re-election is all right, no matter how he voted on the tariff, rules committee, postal savings banks, or anything else. He has the 'dope' to bunco the people with and he proceeds to bunco them. He sends out 'press reports' to the newspapers that he knows he can use, because they are as easily buncoed as any one, telling what he has done for the district, how much money he has secured for the district, what great improvements he has won for the district, and how deserted and ruined the district would be without him. This the puny editor enlarges upon, drawing heavily on his hand-book of superlatives, and closes by pleading with 'our readers' to 'work their tails off for Mr. So-and-So, that he may be sent back to congress to continue the good work.'

GOOD USE FOR CALOMEL.

Most anything may be expected from Lincoln, Neb. Here is a good one:

That a good dose of calomel is as good for a tree as for a man who is ill is the curious doctrine worked out by William Morrison, station agent here, who says results prove his assertion.

Morrison has a large plum tree in front of his house, which is supposed to be about 25 years old. For years the tree has borne few plums, never more than one or two years. A friend ful believer in calomel for the ills of men, Morrison determined to try his remedy on the tree and last fall bored a hole in the tree and in this hole inserted a spoonful of the medicine and then plugged the hole up tight.

The result has been wonderful, for the tree, that hardly bore enough plums to give it a name, has several hundred quarts ripening on its limbs. So pleased is Morrison with the effect of his treatment that he will now begin a regular course of medicine to revive the aged tree.

HAWLEY IN THE CITY

Congressman Hawley has been in the city today looking after his fences, which just now are in a somewhat critical condition. While it is probable that he will be nominated again, it is a fact that Mulkey is making it warm for him, and is at least making people open their eyes. In a challenge for a joint debate, either under new dates or those already arranged by the Congressman at the cities of Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass, Cottage Grove, Eugene, Albany, Marshfield, Tillamook, Corvallis, Dallas, McMinnville, Hillsboro and Forest Grove, Mr. Mulkey says:

"Unquestionably the people have a right to know how each of us stand on the questions of direct election of United States senators, the direct primary nomination of officers, and the position that we would respectively take in the organization of the next national house of representatives, in case of election. I am opposed to Speaker Cannon, and am strongly opposed to the election of another man, than holds Mr. Cannon's idea of parliamentary organization. If I am elected I should vote for Victor Murdock, or some other man who holds with the progressive Republicans of this country; and I am as anxious to secure the development of the rivers and harbors of Oregon, as you are.

"The public have a right to know whether you are to continue your old alignment in the organization or whether you are to stand for the higher impulses of the Republican party and the awakened conscience of the American people, as represented by Cummins, Dolliver, Murdock, Norris, Bristow and other leaders representing progressive ideas."

Shelburn.

Mr. Frank Vaura and family left Friday morning for Iowa, where they will make their future home.

Earl Gooch and wife visited friends in Shelburn last week.

Picking was completed in John Bino's hop yard Saturday, and many are now leaving for the yards at Independence. The first services were held in the new Catholic church Sunday. Quite a large crowd attended.

A. M. Templeton, W. N. Francis, F. M. Woods and C. Scott visited Shelburn last week.

Mr. John Trollinger, Jay Oglesbee and James Trollinger left Monday for the coast on a two weeks vacation trip.

Services were held in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening. Lee, W. W. Henry preached.

A peculiar incident occurred at the home of Mr. Chas. Oglesbee near Shelburn last week. Upon hearing a noise among the chickens, Mrs. Oglesbee went out into the yard and found one hen with a huge snake coiled around her body. She succeeded in killing the snake, which was found to be one of rare variety in this neighborhood.

About a R R. Rate.

H. S. Gile, of Salem, complained to the R. R. Com., that the rate of 27 cents on fruit between Salem and Albany was too much, where it is only 28 cents between Albany and Portland, and has asked that the rate be made lower. The answer of the Southern Pacific is that the 28 cent rate between Albany and Portland is too low, that it was made on account of river competition when that amounted to something and has remained. The R. R. Com. has not yet acted in the matter.

HOW LANE WAS KILLED

In view of the fact that in Lebanon it has been claimed that Ernest Frazier, killed at Sacramento, and brought to Lebanon for burial, was not shot while committing a crime, but was mistaken for some one else, a letter received by Superintendent James of the penitentiary from the chief of police at Sacramento, is to the point. According to it Frazier went to a store to sell a bicycle, at a very low price, which excited suspicion and the police office was notified. A policeman went to the place, and was shown Frazier walking down the street. He overtook Frazier and told him he was under arrest, when Frazier jumped upon a bicycle he saw near and escaped, the officer firing once. He was followed by a messenger boy on a bicycle and seen to go into a store, the head office notified, and Policeman Maley in an auto sent out. Frazier saw him coming and ran. Maley following, and as Frazier attempted to climb a fence made the fatal shot.

Three hold-ups previously in Sacramento, are declared to have undoubtedly been by Frazier, or Lane, the pink Domino of Portland experience.

Continues to Take.

The attraction of "The Mikado" is as potent today as ever, for at the present time it is being revived in New York City, at the Casino Theatre, with an all-star cast, where it has run for nine weeks to enormous crowds, and the universal verdict is that the modern musical comedies are not to be compared with it. The brilliancy of the dialogue and the swing of its music, renders it a delight to the auditor. Who has not listened entranced to the rhythmic songs "Fit Willow," "Here's a Rowdy Do," "Flowers That Bloom in the Spring," and the "Moon Song"? The plot laid in Japan gives scope for novelty and quaintness in scenes and characterization. Eva Pollard will be the Yon Yum, Alfred Pollard appears as Ko-Ko, and Jack Pollard as the Mikado.

The Abbey Hotel.

Parties from Newport report that the statement in the papers that Pete Abbey is to make extensive hotel improvements is correct. He will move part of the old building across the way and part of it move to the rear of his lot, excavating for the purpose, and then erect a $20,000 structure in front, a modern place, two stories high, with enlarged accommodations.

Won Second Money.

Flordora Z., the fine horse of Maurice Winter, an Oregon bred mare, won second money in the 2:30 trot at the fair at Portland, yesterday, winning the first two heats in the remarkable time of 2:16 and 2:13, the fastest ever made on the coast in a 2:30 trot. The horse was very popular with the crowd and deserved to win the deciding heats.

Rob these county division schemes of the ambition of some little town which wants to be a county seat, and the desire of a few men to increase the value of their property, or to brighten up their political chances and what have you left, asks the Madras Pioneer, in the midst of one of the fights.

BEND MAN IN TOWN.

O. C. Cardwell, formerly of this county, now of Bend, Crook county, has been in the city to day, and will leave for Bend tomorrow, where he owns property near that city. He is quite enthusiastic over the prospects of Bend. Now a place of four or five hundred it is growing rapidly. It expects both the Harriman and the Hill roads by the end of next year, and that will mean a good deal for it. The big irrigation project though is proving one of the greatest factors in building up that part of the country.

Bend has some good business houses, with large trades, two churches, Catholic and M. E., three lawyers, two physicians, etc. Among the business men is S. C. Caldwell, who is doing a fine business in hardware and plumbing. The climate is good, even in winter. Last winter the most snow was about seven inches and the temperature rarely goes below zero.

The State Fair. Salem, Or., Sept. 6, 1910.—On Monday, September 12, the greatest State Fair in the history of the West opens in this city. New features, new buildings, new landscape effects on the grounds and a general atmosphere of newness and brightness that will please every visitor.

Such are some of the things which are in sight and it is a safe guess that Salem will entertain greater crowds than ever in her history. Former State Fairs of Oregon have become famous throughout the country as among the leaders of annual state exhibitions of stock and agricultural products, but this year promises to eclipse all former successes in this state and pass into history as one of the best, if not the best, State Fairs in America.

The endeavors of the board of directors and secretary to embody in the grounds everything possible for the education of the stock raiser, agriculturist and department for the women, not alone the carnival features and horse races, are bearing fruit inasmuch as entry lists in every department are rapidly filling up and future prospects are that the 1910 show will contain more than ever before.

Mer. in Linn county, Oregon, and the proceeds thereof applied to the payment of the costs of said sale and this suit and the remainder disbursed to the parties in accordance with their interests in said real property.

This summons is published in The Albany Democrat once a week for six weeks by order of the Hon. J. N. Duncan, county judge of Linn county, Oregon, made this Sept. 7th, 1910, and the date of the first publication hereof is Sept. 9, 1910.

C. C. BRYANT, Attorney for plaintiff.

MISFITS.

Many a flirtation is on at the hop fields. Two weeks from today school again, hooray. A New York paper says it considers it an honor to be called a liar by Roosevelt.

The assembly candidates are trying to nominate themselves just as much as any others. Uncle Sam has been mighty generous. Don't growl when he saves back a little for the future.

According to Col. Hofer Col. Hofer is sweeping things for governor down in Southern Oregon. Col. Hofer may fool the people of Southern Oregon but not those of the Willamette Valley.

Well, have you registered, or are you one of the half who don't care a whoop for anything. The autumn days are here, and the leaves are falling and the meadows getting brown and seer.

The liquor traffic is the most degrading and ruinous of all businesses and should be outlawed on principle. They say you can't fool the people all the time, but you can come pretty near it by having something new.

As usual the Chinese pheasant is being slaughtered before the open season, and what is being done to stop it. Col. Roosevelt had a strenuous Sunday, worshipping, talking. "You can't do much with a natural born fool," he said.

An idiotic Pennsylvania minister refuses to marry a man who cannot show a $2,000 income. Where would the ministers, with an average salary of about $500, be.

The savings banks of prohibition Maine have $32.22 per capita deposits, those of whiskey Illinois $13.43. Who believes all the lies about Maine not having real prohibition. With three men in the field for governor against one the anti-assembly men are making fools of themselves. On a straight assembly or anti-assembly fight the anti-assembly would win handily.

A young man in Pendleton who asked that his marriage license be kept out of the papers got a special writup by one of the papers there for his presumption in attempting to have the news suppressed.

"No settlers allowed. Back to the Town" is a foul cartoon in the Oregonian. Uncle Sam has covered the American people up with land and they have given it to the trusts. They have had opportunities galore, and because a few little strips are conserved for the future these Ballinger puppets howl.

In an advertisement in the Portland Journal E. Hofer has the following: Col. E. Hofer, the rainmaker who made Oregon go wet in 1909 and saved 53,000,000 in crops. See Oregonian? There's a quackery for you with a vengeance. If this kind of campaigning keeps up the Col. himself will become a joke.

The Oregonian with its usual narrowness says vote no on all the initiative questions, a sample of the advice one may expect from that paper, governed by its prejudices. Study the question, vote as you think that is the right way and yes if that seems the proper way, but don't be a chump, like the Oregonian.

The Democrat's prediction: Bowerman will be nominated by the republicans, because of the vote against him being divided among three men, and Os. West by the democrats; that then Mr. West and Mr. Bowerman will have a straight away contest with not only the issue of assembly in it, but that of record and service, with West due to win by a good margin.

The Democrat is always glad to correct mistakes. It recently stated that Elder Williams had gone up to Washington to preach to the heathen. A friend gives the information that Mr. Williams is a member of the Old School Baptist church, known as hard-shells, and that they preach only to the sheep, letting the sinners take care of themselves under the doctrine that it is all predestined.

I. H. Bingham, the anti-assembly republican candidate for joint senator from Linn and Lane counties will receive a sweeping vote in Linn county for the place. It is said Bean will hardly know he is in the race in the county districts. While the nomination of Bingham instead of a democrat he certainly should be nominated in the interest of respectable politics, and as a protest against the infamous bill of Bean on the election of U. S. senator.

Congressman Hawley sees the hard writing on the wall as demonstrated by the elections in the east, and is said to be doing everything possible to hedge against the sentiment that is sweeping insurgency to the front; but his record shows him to be a regular among regulars, and the favors he was hired to give should not save him from the ax.

The Oregonian has made its customary discovery that 5,000 of migrants in Multnomah county have registered as republicans. As a matter of fact there are thousands of republicans in Oregon who vote with the democrats, but do not like to be called democrats yet.
