ODE TO MOUNT HOOD.

—By William Steward Gordon—Author of music, majesty and might, Lift me to nobler heights than I have known—Expand my soul, breathe bigness in my words,
For mighty Hood demands a song high-pitched Above mere Kipling rhymes and common things.
No puny pipes o' Pan play here on reefs,
But Boreas, whose smile the rainbow is,
Sounds forth its deep voiced organ on the north.
Majestic monarch of the proud Cascades, I drink thy beauty as the gates of dawn
Are lifting o'er thy gilded glacier fields.
Was heaven stripped of all her gorgeous dyes
To paint this rainbow on the skies, that fills
The vast horizon's arch, and crowns in light Thy solemn silhouette against the sky?
What cataclysm reared thy mighty form
And strewn thy fragments for a hundred miles?
Does old Aeolus, fabled King of Winds,
Dwell here, "Steel's Cliff" his brazen sounding board,
His acolytes the harpies of the storm?
From whence this curling smoke and sulphur fumes,
And why this heat around thy ancient throat?
Will stygian fury some day spew its rage
Anew on lurid skies and leaping hills?
On Cloud Cap Inn, and new Pompeii's Camps?
No "Alps on Alps" beyond thy crest arise.
With ermine robe and Hermes' fleecy veil Thou hast the morn's first kiss and last good night.
Just now the dove of peace hangs o'er thy head
And hovers gently in the sleepy clouds, Which pendant hang as o'er a new born heaven—
But while I speak, I hear the rumbling storm
Like chariots o'er these hollow fields of ice,
And heaven's dome is etched with zig-zag light,
And frosted with the foam that breaks around Thy head—the target of the thunderbolt.
Thy lakes—thy coves are reservoirs of power, Thy cliffs and canyons, autographs of God.
These pinnacles are heaven-pointing hands,
These jutting ledges, arabesques divine.
No Pharaoh bleaches 'neath thy pyramid—Nor was it built by blood of goaded serfs—
The Lord alone reigns here—He was,
and is,
And is to be thine only potentate.
Written at Mt. Hood, Aug. 14, 1910.

THE LINCOLN FAIR.

Toledo, Sept. 9.—I had the pleasure of taking in the last day of the Lincoln County Fair and meeting a number of farmers and former members of the Grange, and received much encouragement looking to the organizing of several granges in this county in the near future.
The fair here has been a decided success, and stands exceedingly well in comparison with the Linn County Fair that I attended last week at Scio.
In the matter of vegetables especially Linn will have to look to her laurels.
Mr. J. D. Derby, the famous celery grower, occupied 24 feet of space in length with farm products.
The fruit exhibit was surprisingly good. A unique part of it was a triple sided pyramid of apples, ten feet high and ten feet each side at the base.
In the center of each side was a star made from red apples.
Among the miscellaneous exhibits was a fir board furnished by the Yaquina Bay Lumbering Company, 67 feet long and 14 inches wide, without a knot.
A section of a spruce tree was 8 feet 2 inches in diameter.
A large block of coal mined four miles north of Toledo was on exhibition.
Also a 56 pound salmon, donated by the Elmore Canning Company of Sit-let Bay.
A Boa Constructor's skin 12 feet long from the Panama canal was among the curios. Considerable Indian bead work was seen. Among the exhibits of the work of the schools was one from the Lacombe school, Linn county, placed on exhibit by Miss Mary A. Ewing who taught that school so successfully last winter.
Among the latter exhibit was a quilt made by the young ladies of Lacombe, valued at $10. There was least work-map drawing, and specimens of examination papers, etc. Coming from another county, no awards were given.
The floral exhibit was beautiful.
The permanent exhibition building is 40x100 feet.
It was well filled and more space is in contemplation for next year.
In the matter of stock it will be several years before Linn will be equal to what Linn has.
Strange as it may appear it has been quite a day here in the Willamette Valley. There will be a 22nd dollars deficit, which the county court will by petition be asked to assume, and will no doubt gladly do so.

In a voting contest for Festival Queen ending today with 10 candidates Miss Esther Copeland of Toledo won with 585 votes; Miss Edith Casteel was second with 526 votes.
It has been a great task to collect the material on exhibition, owing to scattered condition of the settlements, nestled among the hills, and along the streams of Lincoln county.
This second fair shows what can be done and it would seem no more than fair for the state to appropriate $1000 to pay premiums, the same as Linn county receives annually.
Lincoln will yet be one of our best grange counties.
In all my organizing work I have never met a more cordial reception, and a greater desire to belong to the grange.
Lincoln county will surely more and more honor the memory of our immortal martyr president, whose name she bears, and be renowned for her civic righteousness.
CYRUS H. WALKER,
Chaplain Oregon State Grange and a State Deputy.

TUESDAY.

A GREAT VICTORY.

Mayor Frederick M. Plinstead, of Augusta, Maine, was elected governor of that state yesterday by a big majority, the first democrat to be elected governor in over forty years, the last democratic governor being the father of the man elected. Besides this three democratic congressmen out of four were elected.
The victory is one of the great protests going up over the country against the corruption and graft that have been prevailing in the United States; against Cannonism and trust rule. And it will spread.
In Arizona, too, the democrats carried a majority of the delegates to the constitutional convention.

Shedd.

Shirley—Duncan—Wednesday eve, at the home of the bride's parents near Shedd, Miss Lulu Duncan and Mr. Ben Shirley were united in marriage by Rev. White of Albany. The wedding march was played by Hazel Ackerman.
The bride was tastefully dressed in a dress of cream serge. There were about 25 relatives and friends present.
A dainty lunch was served. The young people have the good wishes of their many friends.
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brasfield left Wednesday noon for a trip east.
Hillard Ackerman and wife came Wednesday noon from a trip to Newport.
Miss Ida Espeland started for Iowa after a few weeks visit at C. Lawson's.
Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sprenger left Thursday morning for a trip east.
The Millholland threshing machine is at John Millers now. This will wind up the threshing season around Shedd.
J. H. Mears and family will leave Monday for a trip to Ohio and New Jersey and other points in the east.
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sherley left Sunday for Eugene, from there they will go to France their new home.

37 Fine Linn and Lane Claims Taken from him.

Judge Bean, in the U. S. court at Portland yesterday made a decision of a striking character, ordering cancelled 37 timber claims owned by Chas. A.
Smith in Linn and Lane counties. The court held that Smith was charged with knowledge of the frauds perpetrated by Stephen A. D. Pater, Horace Mc-Kinley and Dan W. Tarpley, so familiar to Albany people, the seat of some of them, in obtaining entries and making the filings. The burning of correspondence in the office of Smith was declared a corroboration of the fact.
The value of this timber is said to be $592,000. In the case of eight claims the law limitation was declared to operate. Frederick A. Krebs, well-known here, was the agent, and his knowledge, the court held, was that of Smith, and the new Linn and Lane Co. is responsible for their knowledge of affairs.
This conspiracy against this government was begun by McKinley and Pater in 1900 and the first patents obtained in 1902. Many Albany people will remember the visits of the men to this city, and were aware of the fact that local men were being made tools for getting timber land for some big corporation.

Sam Dolan of the O. A. C.

The O. A. C. has sent a news bulletin over the state, that transforms big Sam Dolan, guard and tackle, down into a little quarter-back. Here it is:
The announcement of the appointment of Sam Dolan, Notre Dame's star quarterback, as instructor in civil engineering for the coming year, will be of especial interest to football enthusiasts, since he will doubtless give some assistance to the athletic instructor in coaching the O. A. C. team for the games scheduled for this fall. Mr.
Dolan is a son of S. M. Dolan of Albany, and attended the agricultural college before going to Notre Dame, where he received the degree of bachelor of science in civil engineering last June.
He succeeds W. W. Gardner, who is retiring from the instructional field.

Jack Johnson says that since the light he has received letters from six hundred ministers who want financial help for some project, and yet before the light the ministers all over the country did their best to stop the fight.
Johnson's fine fight can appreciate consideration.

A GOOD START.

The State Fair Has Splendid Prospects.

The state fair opened yesterday with a good attendance. People were pleased with the fine showing made in the different departments, though on the first day there was something doing —everywhere getting things in shape to be seen. Special attention has been given to fruit this year. As always in Oregon there is a great display of stock, and Ed. Schoel has gotten together the biggest flock of poultry ever seen on the coast.
There was some good races. Fran-cona won the 2:12 pace in straight heats, the best time being 2:10. King-brook took the 2:25 trot in straight heats, the best event of the day. The time was 2:13 3/4 and 2:14 both of the other heats. Babe H. a Corvallis horse owned by B. H. Huston and driven by Woodcock, was third.
There is a fast program on for today, which is German day, with a crowd of Germans present from all over the state.

At the Hotels.

F. E. Taylor, Hubbard.
Lee Keegan, Shearville, Kan.

G. K. Berry, Ashland.
W. B. Holmes, C. W. Holmes, Ashland.
J. A. Donaghue, Pendleton.
T. W. Miles, Medford.

WEDNESDAY.

Yesterday was German day at the fair, and the Dutch were there from all over the state. Special exercises were held, with a long parade.
There are not many county exhibits, but those presented by Marion, Douglas, Benton and Columbia are splendid ones.
Benton county particularly, under the O. A. C. professors, has a display that will be hard to surpass.
In the races Albany made a showing.
Kit Crawford, driven by Fred Woodcock winning the 2:25 pace, after a game struggle with Os. West's Bender second, it taking five heats. Kit Craw-ford's best time was 2:15. Bender won the second heat in 2:13 3/4. The 2:15 trot was won by Alfreda, a Spokane horse, the best time being 2:14. The 2:25-trot for three year olds was won by Mamie Alvin of San Francisco.
This is the second day of the races are the 2-20 race for the three year olds, the Greater Oregon race, 2:08 class for $5,000 and a 2:30 trot.

Insurgency is sweeping the country.
Yesterday it struck the state of Washington. Under Washington's new law Miles Finkbeiner, of Spokane, is the choice for U. S. senator and will be elected. He is an insurgent. Will E.
Humphrey, a regular, played the same game Hawley is working, and declared if elected he would not support Cannon, but he had supported Cannon before and the voters did not support him. He is defeated for nomination for congress.
W. A. Lafallett, a cousin of Senator Lafallett has been chosen to run for congress. Stanton Warbutan, another insurgent, it is thought is nominated for congress, all three representatives undoubtedly being insurgents.
President Taft tried to help the regulars, but just now the people are manning things.

The new Central Addition to Albany has been laid out and is a good one, well situated at the south end of Ferry street. Streets have been graded, sewer set, and the whole will show an addition that will make a residence district that will be a credit to the city. It is convenient to business and well located for homes. In fact Albany is fortunate in having this addition put on the market, just the thing needed these growing days. The owners propose to protect people desiring good homes, by placing a limit on the price of the home built, $1000 or $1200, something that will prevent the erection of one and two room houses, always a drawback to a section. Collins & Taylor have the exclusive agency for the addition and will pass the sale of lots in that addition. It is said the price will range from $250 to about $550 a lot of 50 by 125 feet. Go out and see what has been done.

The enlarged and improved Albany College Lecture Course for 1910 11 offers eight high class entertainments by stars of the Chautauqua and lecture platform. It will be by far the best course ever offered in Albany. There will be a concert company better than any in Albany for two years at least, and probably another first rate musical attraction, three very attractive lecturers, a cartoonist of world-wide fame, a reader of the highest merit, and an impersonator who is unrivaled. A reserved seat for these eight splendid attractions will cost only $2.50, or 31c each. Single numbers will cost 50c or more.
The course opens Oct. 7 with a wonderfully attractive lecture by Captain Jack Crawford, the Post-Scout, soldier, orator, Indian fighter and most thrilling entertainer and uplifter.
Harold Morton Kramer, from Indiana, novelist lecturer, author of "The Crystals" and other popular novels, a Spanish war officer, a leader in the movement for civic honesty, is highly commended for the literary charm, optimist philosophy, wit, humor and earnest purpose in his lectures.
Mrs. Bessie Gearhart Morrison comes next. Leading Chautauqua managers say that she is the best reader they have ever employed, one whom they engage year after year.
Rev. William Hiram Fbulkes, D. D., of Portland, will deliver his wonderful lecture on the Oberammergau Passion Play, on Dec. 6. The Portland Telegraph said of his newspaper article on this play that it was one of the best pieces of journalism it had ever seen and his pleasure to print.

The Perry Carter Co. consists of the famous cartoonists, Perry Carter, of the Minneapolis Tribune, and Marie Carter, soprano. He draws and talks most entertainingly. Marie Carter's finely cultivated soprano varies the program pleasingly. Dec. 20 is the date.
So music lovers in Albany the great attraction of the year will be the Grand Opera, Sextette, on Feb. 3. They sing in full costume, with scenery, famous portions of famous operas. Faust, Chimes of Normandy, 11 Trovatore, Lucia etc.
Mr. Gilbert A. Eldredge, Impersonator, has filled more than 1200 engagements in seven years. The press reports are wonderfully enthusiastic. He comes Feb. 17.
The eighth number to be announced later will probably be a high class musical attraction.
The value both to the hearers and to the community of such a course of first class entertainments is exceedingly great. The purchase of season tickets for the whole family, if possible, would seem to be equally the rich privilege and sacred duty of all who either look out for good things for themselves or are public spirited in their expenditures.

Utter a system that would not be permitted in any kind of a business circle Frank W. Benson is receiving two salaries, those of secretary of state and governor of Oregon, not Benson's fault as much as that of the system.

MISFITS.

Cannonism is getting it in the neck.
Everywhere the people are speaking against trust rule.

Some mighty good insurgent sermons are heard these days.
There's a smile on the face of the insurgent when he reads the news from Maine.

As Maine went there will be others.
High tariff, double priced rule will have to quit.

The grand jury at Chicago yesterday indicted ten big packers. A good beginning.

Some people in the world are so full of visions they can't see every day facts in plain clothes.

New towns are springing up over the hills, with immense possibilities and numerous probabilities.

Roosevelt's trip has caused many a sting. There are some things in this country that need stinging.

Wait until the Oregon insurgents get a whack at the machine. It will make the Oregonian tower shake.

The truth is both Seattle and Portland are added to beat the band. It was a fight for population supremacy.

The men who have helped to make Cannonism should be put out. The voters of this district have a chance to show their colors.

President Taft is about to make a grandstand play just before an important election, to find about the enormous leaks of the government.

From the surf-beat shore of Maine to the golden gate of California or the sparkling mouth of the Columbia there is something stirring politically.

A suit case of gunpowder was found near the stand where Roosevelt was to speak; but a little thing like that will not disturb the great lion hunter.

Cannon will not be speaker again.
Even the yellow stand pat journals admit it; but it is the people who are doing it. They are speaking out in tones of force.

The Home Rule Association of Portland was referred to by an Albany man as a band of Philistines. When you come to No. 323 and 329 help knock the Philistines out by voting a heavy No.

A Spokane man horsewhipped a man who insulted his wife a former lover, and the judge fined him $1 and the man whipped $100 and 30 days in jail, and was sorry he couldn't send him to jail for life.

About the only argument the standpatter has is that the country is prosperous, which it is regardless of the drawback of misrule, because the marvellous industries and resources of the country have made it so. But they don't want to see the point.

A. E. Hofer, of the Salem board of trade, has just returned home after a trip to the California line. He was struck with the progress of Eugene, Roseburg, Grants Pass, Medford and Ashland, but does not mention Albany; but Albany is getting there just the same.

A picture at the Empire told an odd story: A young woman's sweet heart left for the wilds of Canada to make his fortune. While gone, though retaining her love for him, because her mother was ill and she needed to send her away, she married a rich banker.
In five years both the aged banker and her mother died, and she then left for the tall timber of Canada after her sweet heart, whom she found living with a pretty Indian girl, his wife. She sought to get him away; but very properly he stood by his Indian wife, and the story closes with her returning in a canoe, with her guides, to her gold.

Lebanon.
The E. A.— L. T. Berry's new residence, situated east of S. M. Garland's home, is near completion, and he will occupy it this week.

Mrs. A. M. Wilson and Mrs. Alex Power went to Salem last evening to visit Mrs. W. B. Gilson, who is quite sick.

Miss Esther Johnson, who has been principal of the Lebanon high school for the past two years and has been re-elected for this year, has resigned the position.

At the meeting of the fourth quarterly conference of the M. E. church last Friday evening it was unanimously voted to request the return of the pastor, Rev. A. F. Lacy for another year.

Roy E. Cornet, Frank Ellsworth and Newton Lewis returned today from a successful hunting trip on the Umpqua river, in Douglas county. They report having killed five deer as the result of the hunt.

All Oregon Fruit Show.
The list of prizes is out for the Oregon State Horticultural Society, to be held at the Meier & Frank store, Portland, Nov. 30-Dec. 2. It is elaborate.
The general prizes are big ones. Seven have county prizes, Benton putting up $100, Clackamas $30, Hood River $50, Lane $15, Linn $50, Marion $25 and Coos not yet given. There is $1 for the best biggest apple, and $100 for the best 25 boxes. It is an all-Oregon affair and deserves the support of the entire state.

The republican party needs splitting.

DOINGS OF THE WORLD.

Samuel E. Young, a native of Scotland, yesterday at Eugene, filed his declaration papers.

The little town of Thornton, near Coffax, Wash., was burned yesterday, nearly a complete loss.

To him that hath is given. Cornell has just been given $689,000 more, and his present endowment is immense.

A new divorce suit at Eugene is Thomas Thomas, the well known S. P. engineer against his wife, formerly of this city. Extravagance is charged.

Mrs. Alice Stebbins Wells, of Los Angeles, has been appointed policeman at that city and will wear a star. She will have special work among women.

Welch Bros. of Salem, have secured the contract for the new Christian church at Eugene, at about $50,000.
The total cost, with heating plant and everything will be about $75,000, one of the most costly churches in Oregon outside of Portland.

Lakeview Herald—Rev. G. W. Gibo-ney, Sunday school missionary of the Presbyterian church, was in town this week and delivered a pleasing address Wednesday evening at the Methodist church. Rev. Giboney is anxious to see a Presbyterian church established in Lakeview.

J. P. Howe, a Eugene real estate man, died yesterday. He was once associated with John Cort, the famous theatrical syndicate man. He was the promoter of the College Crest addition to Eugene and a hustler. But the Great Reaper cuts down the slow and the fast, the hustler and the dron.
