

WE ARE NOW SHOWING EARLY FALL STYLES

First arrivals in Suits and Hats on view at this store.

In twos and threes and groups of half a dozen the new wear-things for fall have been arriving during the past few weeks. Now there is ready an impressive showing. Come and see.

You will like the cut of the suits. Jackets are short and natty. Skirts are somewhat narrow. The slender effect has been carried out in practically all the models which have been developed in both rough and smooth textures. The practical, becoming garments are bound to be popular favorites for fall.

Hats are deserving of special mention. Shapes are smart and varied—both large and small effects being included. Trimmings are novel and fetching. New fabric hats are particularly attractive for early autumn wear.

There is much to please every woman in this advance showing of autumn styles. If she be practically inclined she will be interested in the prices. Come.

APPLE MEN IN SESSION.

Forty or fifty prominent apple growers and those interested in this greatest of all things before our people at this time, met at the Commercial Club rooms this afternoon, with Secretary Van Winkle of the Commercial Club in the chair. The object of the meeting, organization to promote the sale of apples and pears to the best advantage, was stated, and at press time the meeting was getting well started.

P. D. Gilbert gave some correspondence in reference to the best buyers, and others were heard.
Among those present were Mr. McKenna, owner of the Wright orchard, a prominent Hood River apple man.
The result of the meeting will be given tomorrow.

THIS MORNING

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

A number of Albany people went to Salem to see the great and only Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, rain or shine. Among them were Jack Warner, Geo. W. Cline, Miss Zulu Winn, Mrs. Guy Thompson and Misses McKnight.

J. R. Wyatt, W. H. Hogan, Ed. Zeys and Mr. Scott left on the delayed No. 13 for Riddles, from which point they will go into the mountains on a deer hunt. Experts they always get a good showing of venison.

Col. J. B. Eddy, right of way man on the S. P., after spending the night at Albany, continued northward. A former newspaper man by the way, hence he always has a sympathetic word for the scribe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Shaw left for Portland and Astoria.

W. B. Chance left for Cottage Grove on mill inspecting business. He recently returned from Southern Oregon.

E. J. Price, the timber land dealer, of Portland, formerly of Albany, after spending the night in Albany left for home.

Mrs. J. M. Kitchen, of Stayton, returned home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Morgan.

I. B. Rhodes, field secretary for the Y. M. C. A., after a visit with A. C. Schmitt returned to Portland.
Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Turner and grandsons left on a Lebanon visit.
S. S. Bailey went to Portland.
E. L. Wilson, the violin artist, went to Salem.

Liked at Home.

The Corvallis G. T.—
E. A. Hudson, of the O. A. C. faculty last year, has accepted a position in the high school at Albany. Mr. Hudson is a graduate of O. A. C. and his position came to him unsolicited. The latter fact is also true of the Albany position. Mr. Hudson is a capable young man of high standing in this community and will prove a worthy addition to Albany's educational circles.

Chrysanthemum Fair.

The ladies of the Modern Travellers club are making arrangements for holding their annual Chrysanthemum exhibit in November. It is hoped that a large number in town and through the county will be prepared to bring flowers for exhibition. The list of premiums will be published soon as well as the exact date and place of holding the fair.

The Next Journal.

The Ladies Home Journal, now a semi-monthly, will be out Friday morning, and Riley Lohnbaugh will have a supply for Albany people at his chair. This will be particularly fine. It is a marriage number, something everybody is interested in.

A BIG SALE

Of Stock and Farm Implements for Cash.

One of the biggest sales of stock and farm implements reported was that of George McCart, of Plainview, on his farm which he recently sold for $30,000. The total sales amounted to $4945 much more than was estimated. Included in it were twelve head of horses that sold from as high as $302.50, with a good average, 70 head of short horns, bringing as high as $52.50, and all kinds of farm machinery and implements.

A striking feature of the sale was that cash was paid in nearly every case, hardly any credit being asked.

W. A. Westfall of this city, one of the best auctioneers in the valley, did the calling, and he is a good one.

R. C. and F. K. Churchill, of this city, had charge of the noon-day feast, feeding about four hundred people in approved style.

It was a great day at the McCart farm, almost equal to a celebration.

LIARS GALORE.

A Truthful Liar presented by the Athon Stock Company at the opera house last night was simply a continuation of laughs. Everybody in the play had a lying part; but it was transparent and humorous, and showed how one lie calls for another until there is a net work of them, and everybody became involved. The Company is a remarkably good one, without a stick in it, far ahead of most of the high priced performances.

In some specialties Mr. Athon, who has one of the best voices heard here and Miss Effie Johnson, as chick as a summer's breeze, made hits, and were called back repeatedly.

A good orchestra and a moving picture specialty between acts keeps things going entertainingly.

Tonight the Lone Trail, never presented here, equal to the Squaw Man, will be given. Some novelties will be a prize for the best local amateur performer Thursday night and a crossed pig will be given away Saturday night.

Chambers & McCune announce their grand opening and display Friday and Saturday.

At Dreamland,

It is not often that you see a picture combining love, drama, comedy and horse racing all in one. The picture entitled The Ruling Passion combines all these. It is a Mexican story, shows the hot blood, sport loving Mexican at his best and is exciting from start to finish. Over the Cliff is a drama of the sea and is particularly interesting owing to the superb acting of the children. Floral Types is a beautiful hand colored picture and last but not least is fifteen minutes of real laugh entitled Wanted a Wife.

Royal Neighbors tonight. Business of importance.

Fall opening and display Friday and Saturday, The Greater Chambers & McCune Store.

I. S. Stevens and family have moved from Shedd to Albany to reside, and are at 713 Montgomery street.

Forest Smith, of the express and freight department of the depot for some time, has been promoted to train director.

Gilbert & Minthorn, two reliable young men and hustlers, are now proprietors of the Pantatorium, doing a fine business. Mr. Cummings, who was in the shop, is now with Tracey Bros.

Chas. D. Montague, of the U. S. custom office, Portland, went to Lebanon this week for a visit.

Dr. H. A. Leininger has bought a lot of J. G. Gibson at Ferry and Ninth streets, the north half of the quarter block, which it is said cost about $2100, including the pavement just put down there. It is a fine location, in a splendid residence district. The Dr. expects eventually to build a home there.

Death of Henry Karstens.

Henry Karstens, a prominent Linn county farmer and prosperous citizen, died at 11 o'clock today at his home near this city at the age of 66 years. He was a native of Germany, coming to the United States when young. He leaves a wife and the following children: Henry Karstens, Mrs. Kuehl, Mrs. Dittmer, Miss Lena Karstens, of this county, Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Miller, of Nebraska, where he formerly resided, and Mrs. Kosmolaki, of Socaville.
