THURSDAY. THE COMING APPLE FAIR.

One of the features of the apple fair will be community exhibits, something of decided importance in the development of the apple business of the county. When the fair convenes in November the display of apples in ten or more box exhibits promises to be marked, due to the campaign that will be made for displays from the different sections of the county. The general committee at a session appointed the following to look after the different places in the county:

Scio and Lacombe J. M. Hawkins.
Lebanon C. W. Tebault.
Sweet Home, Corvallis and Benton county D. W. Rumbaugh.
Holleyville Geo. H. Crowell.
Brownsville Geo. H. Crowell.
Shedd and Tangent J. A. Howard.
Crabtree W. A. Esatburn.
Jefferson F. J. Fletcher.
C. H. Stewart and W. A. Eastburn were appointed to look after the advertising, and W. A. Eastburn was appointed secretary in the absence of Mr. Struble.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

Roy Wood has returned from Eugene. The Palmer milk wagon horse took a spin today.
Fred Anderson went to Eugene to see the wild bills.
It is a fight to bring the government back to the people.
The great modern game: something out of somebody else.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Goins, Sept. 21, a girl, their seventh child.
Some very pretty show windows at Albany's leading department stores.
Miss Hallie Reynolds, of Portland, arrived this noon on a visit with Miss Ora Harkness.
Linn McBride, of Colorado, who left Wilson county, in 1868, is here for the first time since.
Just over a dog Julian Mock of Medford killed Jesse Smith, a friend, stabbing him four times, once in the heart.
Joe Webber jr., arrived this noon from Portland on insurance business. An old Albany boy always welcome.

42 people were killed yesterday in a head-on collision on the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley R. R., the result of mistaken orders.

Johnston, Pa., once famous for its flood, has kept growing, and now has a population of 55,482, an increase of 54 per cent in ten years.

Louis Pinkham, who has been spinning the summer surveying in Linn county, will be an assistant coach of the U. O. football team this season.

E. F. Sox last night entertained his S. S. class in a pleasant manner at his home on Ferry street. About twenty were present, bright young ladies.

A logger 7 feet 6 inches tall was arrested by one policeman, in Portland, for being drunk and disorderly. The giant went meekly to jail and paid his fine.

Manager W. R. Struble returned from Portland this noon, after a siege of lumbago. He will be here until the first of October, when he will close his work here.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Bruckman, of Portland, have been visiting at J. S. Rankins. Today they went to H. Rickard's at Granger for a visit.

M. J. Flanning at the Baptist church tonight. He hits the mark. Mr. Flanning has talked temperance for years and knows what he is talking about.

Mrs. Leo Egan, of this city, took two first prizes at Scio on a draw, and one at the state fair at Salem, a good record for this neat accomplishment.

J. A. Harper, a plumber, was fined $10 yesterday by Recorder Redfield for being drunk and disorderly. He went down to the opera house and had to be put out.

Mrs. John Egan was called to Roseburg today by an accident to her daughter, Mrs. Lulu Halky. While skating last night she fell, breaking one of her arms.

D. H. Pierce, a former Harrisburg man, recently of Eugene, has bought a 320 acre farm near Coburg. The farm is in Linn county, so Mr. Pierce again becomes a resident of old Linn.

Prof. Tallander and wife, recently of Corvallis, were in the city last night on their way to Medford, where the Professor will open a music school. He has resigned his position at the O. A. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McClellan, of Marvsville, Kan., left for home this afternoon by way of California, after a visit with their cousins Denver and T. P. Hackleman, and their families.

Earl Fortmiller went to Eugene yesterday to enter the University on a two years course preparatory to studying medicine, with a Dr. before his name in view.

According to the Salem Journal Col. Hofer is quite ubiquitous. Tomorrow night he is to speak at two places at the same time, at 8:30, besides at three other places the same evening at different times.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jones returned last night from Glendale, where Mrs. Jones visited with her folks several weeks and Mr. Jones a few days. Mr. Jones is now making an issue of the history of Linn county, but later will pay some attention to his candidacy for the legislature.

A live moving picture film at Dreamland is the Ruling Passion, presenting a Mexican story, with the hot blood of the Spaniard dominant. A horse race is shown and the scenery is interesting. These moving pictures though only telling a story give one some scenery, the real thing, worth seeing.

A resident of the third ward says the street crossing at Jackson and the S. P. railroad is in a horrible shape, so bad the women have to actually carry their baby buggies over it. Complaint will be made, but the council, though it will make property owners put in cement walks far out, will not do anything with the railroad to make it put the place in a passable condition.

KNIGHTS A SALEM.

The 24th annual convocation of the Knights Templars of Oregon, began at Salem this morning, with the following welcome:

Sir Knights, if we should try to tell how very glad we are to meet you, the time would come to say goodbye before we'd have a chance to greet you.

The Cherry City's wholly yours
Along with every "Cherry" in it,
From center to circumference,
And every single blessed minute.

Tin-can our dog, or tease our cat,
Or climb the shade trees, if you want to
And if there's anything you need
Just whisper and you'll get it—"pronto."

At 10 o'clock there was to be a drill on Court street.
11 o'clock meeting of the grand commandery.
Luncheon at Masonic Hall for the ladies and men, with this grace: "Now grace is said, no longer wait, with eyes downcast on emtie plate, carve Goodman, carve, with speed and skyl, Ye guests spare not, but eat your fill."
Grand commandery meeting in the afternoon with a special session tonight.

Cowboy Drama.

Another pleased audience was at the opera house last night and witnessed the presentation of the stirring Wyoming play, A Lone Trail, one full of comedy and tragedy, bringing out the excellent talent of the different members of the company. It was a cowboy story, for sure, one that is always enjoyed, full of changing situations and snap. Mr. Athon appeared as John Daniels, the prairie kid, and little Miss Johnson, as the kid. Mr. Ross as the cattle rustler, is particularly strong, but there is not a weak place in the cast, well balanced.

Tonight the Amateurs will be presented, and there will be a local offering in it.
The Athon Company is growing in favor, making good as entertainers.

The Bills in Town.

Buffalo Bill and Pawnee Bill, with their wild west and wild east shows had to stop at Albany, the Hub anyway, to get their bearings. Early this morning one of the trains of the show was switching at the railroad center of the valley, when a car of chairs jumped the track just opposite the oil tank on the Corvallis line. The wagons of reserved seat iron chairs were tipped over, and upon the ground, which was scattered with reserved seats. The Democrat man held one down, but Detective Keeley was around and was unable to keep it. The car was soon gotten on the track, the seats replaced in the lumbering wagons and the cars were taken to Eugene by a special engine, in time for the show this afternoon. The show that attempts to pass the Hub without stopping will hear from it.

At the Dreamland.

Tonight is the last time the present program will be shown. The picture entitled A Ruling Passion is one worth seeing. It tells a tale of love and hate racing in Mexico. "Over the Cliff" is a good drama. "Floral Types" is educational, and the big screaming comedy is entitled "Wanted a Wife." The management have secured for Friday and Saturday an extra attractive program. "Childish Impulse," a biography. "Baby and Captain," a biography. "Volunteer Hero," and A Lazy Tanner."

Butterworth on Deck.

Telegram—John Butterworth, railway mail clerk, has been fined for refusing to carry an empty and useless mail pouch on the Southern Pacific run. It was made useless by putting the Shasta Limited on the run, but through some oversight the custom of sending the sack has been forgotten. When Butterworth protested, he was fined, but an order at same time was issued stopping the useless handling of the sack.

Alaskan Dogs.

Eli Smith appeared at the Electric last night with his Alaskan dogs, and the sled, upon which, Smith traveled through the icy north with them being some stereotyped sleds showing the route traveled, as rugged, striking exhibition as there is in the world, making an exhibition instructive as well as entertaining. Tonight Smith will again make his trip up the Yukon and again on Saturday night. Be sure to see him.

Mill City Lights.

Mr. Alfred Bradley was in the city on his way to Mill City to improve the electric light plant there. He is a former O. A. C. man in the electrical engineering department and is doing good work. The Mill City plant will be increased to a 75 kilowatt and used to help light the residences of the town as well as the plant of the Curtis Lumber Co. Mill City will shine.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 70-45.
The river has been rising and is now 1 foot. The low water record of the year was .6 of a foot, about as low as it ever gets. It is said it has never been down to zero since 1851.
Predicted fair tonight and Friday.

The Hackleman Park.

Whatever other park propositions may come up Hackleman's grove should be made a city park. It is the old one and should be the new one. The time will come when Albany will need and will want it worse than a circus wants a crowd. Mr. Williams, who left for home this afternoon, stated that unless taken soon the property will be platted and sold in small tracts.

Joe DuBruille.

Cottage Grove Leader—D. J. DuBruille, formerly of the Leader, now of Portland, spent Monday in this city. He does not enjoy life in the metropolis, in fact his health has been poor ever since he located in Portland. He contemplates associating himself with the Eugene Guard as soon as he is able to active newspaper work.

BACK TO FARM MOVEMENT.

Portland, Or., Sept. 22.—As a practical move in the back-to-the-farm campaign, the Portland Y. M. C. A. will try the experiment of establishing farm homes for its members. Plans have been made for the purchase of a big tract of land of almost 1000 acres within ten miles of Portland by the association. This land will be cut up into small tracts of ten and fifteen acres, and arrangements made whereby members of the Y. M. C. A. can obtain titles to the property.

"These lands will be placed in charge of a secretary who knows something of the raising of livestock and farm products," said H. W. Stone, general secretary of the Portland association.

"The tracts will be sold at a reasonable price to young men of the Young Men's Christian Association. This will help them to start a home. That's what the Y. M. C. A. is for, to get young men to get married, tied up to a church and get a home started."

HE COLLEGE.

Following will be the faculty this year:
Harry Means Crooks, president and professor of English literature; Miss Laura E. Anderson, Latin and German; Miss Mary Louise Blackwell, oratory and physical culture; O. R. Clutter, science; Hans Flo, principal of commercial department; F. G. Franklin, history and political science; Franklin H. Geselbracht, philosophy and morals; Miss Grace Lemar Houck, piano and musical kindergarten; Miss Elizabeth Irvine, English; Miss Adna Alicia Smith, director of the conservatory, voice, theory and history of music; Miss Emma Rebecca Sox, piano and harmony; David Torbet, mathematics and registrar; E. Ludwig Wilson, instructor in violin.

Notice will soon be given of the date when the College Library will send wagons around to gather up magazines, pamphlets and books that the people of Albany may wish to contribute to it. This effort is designed especially to secure valuable magazines and pamphlets. Duplicates secured can be sent where they will be useful.

Every room in Tremont Hall is occupied by the year, with all the students but three living two in a room.

By Friday all the faculty are expected to be in Albany. Miss Laura E. Anderson comes from Rochester, Pa. Prof. Clutter from Salem, where he has been occupied through the summer; Prof. Flo will return from Washington; Miss Grace L. Houck will also arrive on that day from McMinnville.

Opening date Sept. 25.

FRIDAY. TWO B'S.

A circular received in Albany today, at the eleventh hour, signed by L. E. Bean, assembly candidate for joint senator, created a good deal of interest, with signs of its acting as a boomerang. Mr. Bingham, attacked in it, made this statement:

"Mr. Bean has in my employ as press correspondent J. M. Shelley, whom I defeated four years ago in the primaries for state senator. What makes his opinion that while advocating great friendship by local option he was defeated by temperance people who found out how he really stood on the question. The statement made by Mr. Bean that I was defeated in the assembly is false and malicious."

Mr. Bean served one term in the legislature and did less and made more enemies for the time than any member in the legislature. One of his measures, which made him notorious, would make it misdemeanor and subject a man signing statement number one to a term in jail. My record shows me to be a better friend to the temperance cause than either Bean or those he has hired to do his work."

"The real issue is whether the primary law is to be safeguarded, and Linn county people appreciate the fact."

Mr. Kay, in the city today tells how that resolution of Mr. Bingham, referred to by Bean, about moving the state capital, was simply a joke, and everybody knew it.

Apple Fair Matters.

The apple fair board last night met to revise the premium list, heretofore published. The matter of a gazette or booklet being gotten out, was discussed and a strong resolution passed against the apple fair having anything to do with it.

J. H. Ralston and family left for Portland this afternoon by auto.

Grover Birtchett college student, returned this noon from Mt. Jefferson.

J. H. Simpson and Cecil Cathey this afternoon returned from a Yaquina fish.

Mrs. Mochel and daughter returned this forenoon from Woodburn.

Miss Rhoda Stalnaker, who has been visiting friends at Halsey, will be home tomorrow evening.

A new suit at Portland is W. W. Crowder agt. Mary E. Crowder. Formerly of Albany.

Melissa Martin, one of Albany's brightest students, went to Eugene this afternoon to enter the U. O.

The opening show windows of Chambers & McCune have attracted a good deal of attention, among the finest seen in the valley.

W. C. Tweedale and S. S. Train, of this city were articles in the Oregonian this morning on corrupt practices act and non-judicial matters.

Hon. T. B. Kay, the watch dog of the treasury, and candidate for the treasuryship, was in the city this afternoon. He is anti-assembly.

Mrs. J. O. Hasfurther, Socialist nominee for Supt. of public instruction, will speak at the corner of 1st and Ellis north Sts. tonight. She was a former Linn county girl.

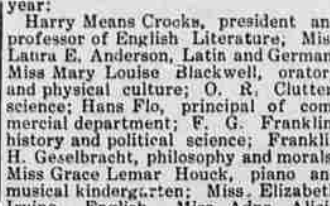

T. C. Turner, formerly of this city, has opened his new general merchandise store in his own building at Lebanon with a large stock and flattering prospects.

Yesterday was political day at the air at McMinnville. Among the speakers were: Judge Galloway, I. H. Van Vinkle, P. H. Kelley, B. F. Mulkey, Grant Dimmick and Os West.

Gene Simpson, of Corvallis, the great Chinese pheasant dealer in the world, has as order for five thousand pheasants, which is a little too big for even Gene. He recently sold 2,000 eggs to the state of Missouri at 25 cents per egg and met an order from Louisiana for sixty Celestials.

Notwithstanding all the blow Galveston, Tex., has gone backwards, losing 1 per cent in ten years. It now has 6,951. Fort Worth has 73,312, a 1 per cent gain, San Antonio 95,614, a gain of 81 per cent. Even Mr. Chester 4 H., has gained 22 per cent in ten years and has 79,423.

COLLEGE DOINGS.

The new piano teacher for the primary and intermediate grades in Albany Conservatory is Miss Grace Lemar Houck, of McMinnville. Miss Houck is a graduate of the McMinnville conservatory and has had other training. She has taught successfully in Washington and Oregon and is recommended at once as a very capable performer, an excellent accompanist, and a teacher who gets results. Miss Houck is possessed of a very charming personality and will be a very distinct addition to the college community.

The portion of the college building containing the chapel and the commercial department is being reshingled this week.

Rapid progress is being made on the work of the new steam heating plant. An additional piano has been placed in Tremont Hall for the conservatory—five in all.

Though changes have been made in the commercial courses at the college, the one year commercial will be offered for this year. The success of this course has been demonstrated.

Inquiries have come concerning the present standing of Albany College at the state university. All college work done in Albany College is credited toward the appropriate degree at the university; for example, a student completing to years in Albany College enters the university as a junior. (He would be a junior, should he return in Albany.) Neither the college nor the state university credit as college or university studies branches pursued in a high school. The entrance requirements of Albany College are on a level with the university entrance requirements.

The college plans a football team, but is unable yet to announce the coach or coaches.

Registration begins Monday afternoon 2 to 4 and continues on Tuesday 10:30 to 12:00 and 2 to 5. Monday afternoon is registration day, particularly for Albany students. The opening chapel service will be held on Wednesday at 2:00 and class work will begin immediately thereafter. The indications are for an increased enrollment and students are urged to register early that there may be no delay in beginning work.

News From Albany's Six Early Trains.

Dr. C. W. Lowe arrived from Lebanon on his steenth trip to Albany, where he has been coming numerous times a year for nearly twenty years, doing a fine business here, a very competent man in his business.

I. H. Bingham, who is making it tropical for the assembly named candidate for joint senator of Linn and Lane, returned from Lebanon. The Linn county republicans according to indications will give him a big majority over Bean.

Joe Webber, the insurance man, left for Brownsville, and thence across lots to Lebanon and back to Albany this evening. Joe is a red hot assembly man, and wants to be in Portland tomorrow to vote the straight assembly ticket from top to bottom and through the middle and back again.

Mr. Arthur Schmitt returned to Portland.

Eli Smith left for Corvallis with his Alaskan dogs and sleds.

Claire Baker returned early this morning from Eugene, with the switch engine, having taken the Wild Buffalo Bill wrecked car with its seats there in time for the show. After that Eugene liked metropolitan ways so much the engine was kept at work all the afternoon and evening.

The Best Ever.

Invitations are being sent out for the monthly booster meeting and Get-Together luncheon of the Albany commercial club, to be held on Monday night next, Sept. 26, at the club rooms. The guest of honor on this occasion will be the Hon. Chas. B. Merrick, Postmaster of Portland, who will deliver a short address. Other speeches will be made by members of the Albany club; special music will be provided, together with a luncheon and cigars. This is the "best ever" of the series.
