MR. TUSSING'S PLATFORM.

Brownsville, Oct. 5.—I hereby accept the nomination for the office of Representative to the Legislative Assembly, tendered me by the Democratic party on the 24th day of September, 1910.

Lined Up for Bowerman.

Portland Daily News: Are the liquor interests lining up behind Bowerman? Early in the campaign the breweries and wholesale liquor dealers pledged themselves to keep out of politics, but there are indications that they have broken the pledge.

Enforcement of Law.

Ex.—The citizen who admits that the liquor traffic is a great evil and then says that it can't be abolished because the law can't be enforced brings a tremendous charge against our government.

Hcn Tom F. McKnight.

Mr. Thomas E. McKnight, formerly of this county is running for representative on the democratic ticket in Union county, and the Democrat hopes to see him elected, a young man of excellent attainments.

Yaquina Oysters.

Dr. M. M. Davis, the oyster king of Yaquina, returned to his home at Eugene this afternoon after a trip to the Bay. He reports a good many eastern oysters being shipped from the beds there to the Portland market.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 70-49. The river 14 feet. Prediction by Mr. Bales: Fair today and tomorrow.

The famous Sealup of eastern oysters, as advertised in leading magazines, are now on sale at Bennett-Fletcher Co's store.

SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

This week Spain has been having a time of it by illness of its emperor. His bones are crumbling and he will die just as quickly as if he were a common laborer, and he is no better than thousands of them.

There is a political campaign on in Oregon, with a new feature operating, and whatever the paid organs may say about voters being in line, there is a tremendous uncertainty about the result, for men are going to be mighty independent, in keeping with the spirit of the age.

In Oregon a very important contest is that over several measures affecting the morals of the state, one being for prohibition straight. It should carry, but it is very doubtful if it does at the present time, because of the large vote in Portland against it, and yet the sentiment against the legalized saloon is growing.

This week a horrible crime was perpetrated at Los Angeles against the employees of a great paper, resulting in the death of about twenty. The spirit that incited it was one of anarchy, and the people of that city do well to put an immense price upon the heads of the men who did it.

SATURDAY.

LINEMAN KILLED.

F. C. Crossley, a lineman, was killed at the corner of Lyon and Ninth street about 11 o'clock, near the Dooley store. He went up to cut a wire, and in doing so crowded through between two primary wires, receiving a 2300 volt shock, which threw him off the pole, and he fell down about 35 feet striking on the back of his head and shoulders, on the corner of the curb. He was picked up and taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where he died in about an hour.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

Big Bill Walker, Joe Keebler and Charles Walker left this morning for the wilds of Tennessee. The latter made up his mind to join the men at the last moment. They had tickets a mile or less long and started out with high anticipations of a good time.

Prof. E. L. Wilson, the violinist, left for Brownsville, where he has a Saturday class. He has been engaged as violin teacher at Willamette University and will go there every Wednesday.

Col. J. B. Eddy right of way man of the S.P., after spending the night at Albany, left for his home at Portland to spend Sunday.

Dr. Myers left for Portland to see his daughter who has just arrived there from Colorado to reside.

Mrs. J. C. Myer and son Franklin came down from Lebanon for a short visit.

Mrs. Seymour Washburn arrived from Lebanon. Will Crawford and Frank Albrecht left for Clackamas county. Prof. Hargrove returned from a Lebanon trip.

Prof. J. B. Horner, O.A.C., left for Portland. Miss Mary Nolan and Mrs. Carmo, of Corvallis went to Portland. Miss Emma Sox went to Portland to play Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie Baker and daughter left on a trip to Portland and Astoria. Henry Boggs went to Portland for a couple days visit.

An Editor Around.

Editor Hammerly, of the McMinnville News-Reporter was a 6 o'clock caller this morning, at a time when the Democrat man enjoys work. He has bought a monotype, a fine type making machine that costs nearly $4,000, and is out among his fellow newspaper men selling some of the faces. The machine not only sets the common news type, but also display type for advertising, making a fresh face every issue. Mr. Hammerly is a tustler, and as well a clean man in morals, a good thing these days.

At the Dreamland.

The biograph picture shown at the above theatre is a great picture and is entitled 'The Sorrows of the Unlucky'. It tells a tale of a young girl who throws over her original lover for a new one, this causes lots of bad feeling and eventually murder and suicide hence the name of the picture. 'A Woman in the Case is another good story and should not be missed. Lovers of horses should not fail to see the picture entitled 'The Akleria Stud'.

MISFITS

You never know how some men stand on anything.

The politicians are going to support Bowerman, but the masses in the party are not. Put that down with a spike.

The trout are so thick in Sandy Creek, near Gresham, that they trip a man up if he attempts to wade the stream.

"You may vote the open saloon as an allurement for my boys, but I never will for yours," is a motto worth considering.

A miner spent 16 years in Alaska after a fortune, which he finally got and started out with it. On the steam-er he met with an accident and died. And so it goes.

Using a respectable name the brewers and liquor dealers of Portland are making a terrific effort in the interest of the saloon. Home Rule will fool very few people.

There are said to be five J. W. Miller's in Linn county. It has now been definitely settled that the nominee for representative is the county clerk.

The real dynamite in the republican party is the Oregonian. It is a bomb thrower and has done more to disrupt the party than anything else.

"The ex mayor of Beerville" is the way the Corvallis Gazette-Times man refers to a gentleman from the east who is trying to get the saloon back into dry places in Oregon, under the Home Rule or Ruin Association.

Portland is full of dives, a disgrace to the city, a sample of the open saloon. The blind pig that you have to hunt for with the most expert detective to be found, is a saint compared with the Portland rum shop.

The best thing Linn county ever did, both from a moral and business standpoint was when the open saloon was driven from the county, and it was the best thing for Albany, a splendid movement.

Mr. Rose whacked Corvallis. Upon telephoning it was learned he met with a frost, and that about half of the people got up and left. Here there was no enthusiasm, and the crowd failed to go up and shake hands with the ex-mayor at the end.

An Albany man, of absolute reliability, who was at American Lake, says when Acting Governor Bowerman was there during the encampment about the first thing he did was to call the officers together in the officer's tent and treat them—whiskey straight too.

Whatever is claimed this home rule is a saloon movement. The best saloon that can be produced is a disgrace to a community, and the whole license system is a partnership with the business. The only way is to prohibit it, and then enforce it as well as possible the same as other laws, even if there is some theft, murder and drunkenness.

Governor Chamberlain says: "The democrats have nominated a strong man in Oswald West. Both he and his opponent in the democratic primaries were personal friends of mine, and under these circumstances, while I had my preference, I did not feel that I ought to take an active part in the fight between them. I do not believe there is a stronger or more forceful man in the state or anyone who will make a better executive than Oswald West. By force of a strong personality, integrity of purpose, honesty and capability, he has won his way to a first place in everything he has attempted to do."

A History of the Telephone.

The Democrat has received a copy of the History of the Telephone from the publishers A. C. McClung & Co., and it seems to be a good number, covering the history of this wonderful instrument, now in every home, from the hovel to the mansion. It sells for $1.50.

The Leisure Hour Club yesterday met with Mrs. Harry B. Cusick in an enjoyable session.

Public Speaking.

The Democratic candidates for county offices will address the citizens of Linn county at the following times and places as indicated below. Republican candidates for county offices are respectfully invited to attend these meetings and divide time with the Democratic candidates in the discussion of the issues of the campaign: Brownsville, Oct. 12, 2 o'clock p. m. Sweet Home, Oct. 13, 8 o'clock p. m. Waterloo, Oct. 14, 10 o'clock a. m. Sodaville, Oct. 14, 2 o'clock p. m. Mill City, Oct. 18, 10 o'clock a. m. Jordan, Oct. 19, 1 o'clock p. m. Crabtree, Oct. 21, 2 o'clock p. m. Seio, Oct. 22, 1 o'clock p. m. Lebanon, Oct. 29, 2 o'clock p. m. Harrisburg, Nov. 2, 7:30 o'clock p. m. Halsey, Nov. 3, 2 o'clock p. m. Shedd, Nov. 4, 2 o'clock p. m. Albany, Nov. 5th, 2 o'clock p. m. T. J. STITES, W. R. BILYEU, Secretary, Chairman.
