

When You Want a Suit, Coat or other Garment Remember

That our large, first-class assortments are at your service.

Our suits are bought in New York. Personally chosen by Mr. Young Jr.

The styles are the latest and best and the workmanship and materials are above reproach.

Our stock is as large and well chosen as any in the central valley.

We buy for cash and give you the best possible values for your money.

Nearly every express brings something new for this department. We are sure that we can please you. Convince yourself. Come and see.

We have a very good fine weave, fancy worsted suit. Coat is the popular 30-inch length, extra fine satin lining. Skirt is the very newest cut, with pleated front and back. Comes in navy and black—all sizes. Priced at $16.00.

Suits for stout people. Made especially for them—sizes up to 44.

Other lines at $20, $25, $30, up to $50.

THIS MORNING DO IT YOURSELF

News From Albany's Six Early Trains.

J. E. Willoughby, sentenced last evening to a year in the state penitentiary, left for Salem to begin his residence there, accompanied by Sheriff Smith. Mr. Willoughby is another victim of the liquor business.

W. A. Kimsey, nominee for county treasurer, left for the country in the interest of his candidacy. He is making a good fight for the office on a good record as a man and citizen, backed by excellent qualifications for the office.

O. E. Perry and family left on a Portland visit of a few days.

Prof. Wilson went to Salem to look after his Willamette class.

Mrs. E. S. Robe, of Portland, returned home accompanied by her mother Mrs. Marks.

Mrs. Alex. Parker came down from Lebanon.

Mr. and Mrs. Minnick, parents of Mr. Ed. Minnick went to Portland to reside. Mr. Minnick expects to open a store there.

J. E. Ray, of Mill City, returned home.

Father Lane went to Portland.

Chas. Straus, the commercial traveler left for points north accompanied by Mrs. Straus.

Mrs. Stone, the Simmons magazine representative, left for Brownsville.

OBSERVED

By the Man About Town.

Railroad street heretofore a rather unsightly thoroughfare is blossoming into a fine looking street. Under the order of the city council sidewalks are being built from First to Seventh street, with curbs, transforming the street.

One of the finest new homes going up in the city is that of Fred Harris, at First and Hill streets. Chris Howland is doing the work. It is one and a half story, with basement with cement floor. The arrangement is particularly good and the appearance very attractive.

A place that is always busy is the chair factory of Veal and Son, going at full capacity with hustling to meet orders. The firm covers the coast and makes a good many shipments to the Hawaiian Islands. The output is nearly one hundred thousand chairs a year, 700 or 800 dozen a month, a splendid business built up on first class goods. Several with the factory now have been there for a good many years, among them Nelson R. Adams, W. S. Richards socialist nominee for governor, Millard Hayes the engineer, and W. J. Meisner the expert packer and shipper.

Watson Bros. at their iron works are busy on a logging outfit, with some good pieces in the outfit.

Many of the old-time faces are no longer seen at the Alco Club, but a younger set of fellows, a live crowd interested in things numerous. Just now some good bowling is being done, a good exercise.

At the Alco Club.

There is great interest at the Alco Club. Each night finds the game tables and bowling alleys crowded with a throng of those devoted to these games. Lively times are in prospect for the winter and it is expected that the coming season will be the best of any late years from the standpoint of real interest and entertainment for the members.

Bowling, pool, billiards and card tournaments are now being arranged and there will be opportunity for all to find something in which they can enter. The bowling tournament will begin on Monday night and those desirous to enter are requested to register with the steward of the club on or before that date. Two turkeys are to be given away to the successful ones in this tournament. The contest will close immediately before Thanksgiving day.

Returned From Pullman.

Mrs. Narcissa Carothers, now 83 years of age, and her son, A. J., have returned from a trip to Pullman, Wash. where they had a visit with A. F. Carothers, formerly of Albany. He left here with nothing and now has a good farm and large family. They saw thousands of acres without any crops, though sowed, the wheat not coming up because of the dry season. It was the poorest season they ever had in the Palouse country. Pullman is a good town with the Washington Agricultural college and many fine homes, and is dry, but Mr. Carothers says is peppered with dances and moving picture shows, so much that many leave for Willamette Valley colleges.

You Have Heard People Say

"That fellow is the LUCKIEST chap, he always gets such dandy values in clothes." They mean clothes that always look well, wear well and hold their shape. But LUCK is only an abbreviation for "Utilized Opportunities" and opportunities show no favoritism. The opportunity is now, the clothes you have always wanted are here, you'll be lucky if you avail yourself of this opportunity and buy now.
