Eibert Warford, yell leader at Wilamette, came up to see his folks, just back from their eastern trip.

Mrs. L. Dorris and mother, Mrs. Hedra, of Independence, arrived this noon on a visit with Elmer Dannals.

Even the Oregonian, as strong a whiskey sheet as it is, advises people to vote as they please on that home rule bill.

W. G. Ballock has begun the erection of a new residence on his property on West 7th street, the former Fuster block.

The so-called infamous search law is just the same as the one that now prevails and has for six years, in the local option law.

Judge Coke, candidate for reelection in the second district, was in the city. A splendid official deserving of election regardless of politics.

Mrs. A. D. Barker and daughter, Miss Margaret, returned this noon from Portland. Mr. Barker's trunk has arrived from Chico, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCoy, of near Fossil, are visiting in the city the guests of Mr. McCoy's brother, A. R. McCoy, and sister, Mrs. F. M. French. Mr. McCoy was a pioneer of 1845, then a small boy, the oldest of the McCoy family. It is 25 years since he was in Albany, hence a very striking change has been discovered here.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pfeiffer have returned from their eastern trip. After a visit to Milwaukee they went back to the Atlantic, visiting prominent cities and among other places mingled among the Dutch of Pennsylvania. They had a splendid time, but continue to think the Willamette Valley the best place in the world and Albany the Hub.

RALLIES FOR TEMPERANCE.

Another big rally for temperance and righteousness was held at the Baptist church last night, with the house packed full, a splendid expression of the people of Albany for the home and against the saloon.

Rev. S. A. Douglas presided. As an introduction the article from the Eugene paper exposing W. A. Wasson, a former Episcopal minister, who is disgracing himself and the church by fighting for the saloon, was read.

President Homan of Willamette University then presented a powerful arraignment of the liquor traffic. In opening he paid his respects to his dishonor Mayor Rose, who at Cottage Grove had to introduce himself, and at Lebanon only one man could be found, a lawyer, to introduce him, and he said if the devil himself came there and wanted to speak he would introduce him. Rose's arguments have been that prohibition does not prohibit, that it makes hypocrites and enemies among neighbors and takes away a great revenue. Mr. Homan satisfied reasonable people that the place without the saloon, even if there is bootlegging, is ten times as good a place in which to live, with less crime and poverty, and hence does in a great measure prohibit; that the saloon is the great breeder of hypocrisy and the cause of contention and trouble and that in the matter of revenue where $1 revenue is received there is paid out $16, worse than wasted, besides the crime engendered and the homes destroyed.

These are facts, write most of the saloon campaign is based on lies. The move against the saloon is deep and lasting, not a fad. It is against alcohol, which destroys life in its making and always in its use. It is a poison, not a food, and nothing can make right the sale of the damnable stuff as a beverage. The prohibition of its traffic is just as reasonable as a pure food law for the protection of health. It is a scientific question, one of absolute fact and the fight against the traffic is one backed by demonstration.

The state is one unit in this question just as much as in the regulation of pure food, but the saloon men and their friends of course want to narrow it down to the smallest section possible in their struggles to keep the infamous business going.

It was a great meeting, and a great address.

Thursday all day there will be a prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church, with a big rally at the Opera house in the evening, with the address by Dr. Hinson, of the White Temple, Portland, and next Sunday night Dr. Benjamin Young, of Portland will address a union meeting at the U. P. church.

News From Albany's Six Early Trains.

Rev. I. G. Knotts left for Donald, a little town on the Oregon Electric, where he is looking after the completion of a new Presbyterian church.

Miss Zona Haight returned from her Eugene trip.

After spending Sunday at home Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cougle returned to Lebanon.

Nels Wheeler's Party.

Here are the particulars: Time, Saturday afternoon, at the home of N. H. Wheeler. Games were played on the lawn, and in the parlor solos were executed by Muriel Simpson, Dorothy Lee, Nels Wheeler and Violet Nutting. A fine lunch was served in the dining room, beautifully decorated with candles, Jack o' lanterns and red and black cats, and consisted of sandwiches, cocoa, pickles, ice cream and candies.

With Miss Houck at the center of the table Nels lighted his seven candles on a beautifully decorated cake. Misses Aizina and Mary Parker, Carrie and Vesta Senders, and Winifred Mullen did the serving, and each guest was presented with a small Jack o' lantern. Nels received many beautiful presents. The following were present: Dorothy Lee, Dorothy Cockerline, Dorothy Backleman, Barbara Pfeiffer, Frances Hass, Margaret Dickover, Uldine Prochnow, Florence Fortmiller, Evelyn Rohson, Verna Simons, Gladys Crane, Louise Collins, Mary Davis, Mazie Teeters, Mildred Taylor, Muriel Simpson, Imita Smith, Kamila Kroeschel, Jaunita Kroeschel, Kermit Brandeberry, Geo. Gesebrucht, Geo. Broders, Russ Fletcher, Albert Senders, Edward Sox, Winifred Mullen, Curtis Winn, Violet Nutting.

Foot Ball.

In one of the best games of foot ball played in Albany the high school team defeated Willamette second, a strong aggregation of heavy weights Saturday afternoon 8 to 0. The Albany scores were made by Bain, with a touch down, and Myers with a place kick. Albany played the modern game good and strong. A couple of forward passes were effective and a number of good runs were made, one of the quarters ending with the ball within five yards of the goal. Archibald, full back, Bair and Abraham half, Bigbee quarter and Beeson and H. Archibald ends were in the midst of the generalship.

U. O. defeated Idaho 29 to 0, O. A. C. Fuiman 9 to 4.

THE WHISKEY SIDE OF IT.

W. A. Wasson, a former pastor of an Episcopal church back east, of whom Bishop Scadding is said to be ashamed, recently exposed by a Eugene paper, given in the Democrat, spoke at Eugene Saturday night. He read some testimonials to counteract the exposure, said to have fallen flat. He said there wasn't a thing in the Bible to condemn liquor drinking,—and the Bible is full of it,—and referred to Christ's using wine; but it was made from water and was undoubtedly unfermented. He calls it a rank fraud to identify prohibition and temperance, and he just wants the liquor sold and people to spend their time reforming those made drunkards by it! He said it is a brazen nerve for people to try and dictate what we shall or shall not drink. Just as brazen as the pure food law, or the law regulating the sale of poisons, like opium, etc. Alcohol is the prince of poisons. He tried to make tea and coffee out as bad as alcohol,—a sample of his arguments,—declaring that physicians never prescribe tea and coffee as they do alcohol. You bet particularly in dry territory. He said he had four boys growing up and he hoped they would never have to reside in dry towns. If they are like their father, good Lord, keep them out of Albany. Then he appealed to Eugene to vote for the saloon in Portland because Portland voted for the U. O. appropriation. And he is undoubtedly paid for working for the saloon by the saloon people and brewers, posing under the name of Home Rule Association.

These are facts, write most of the saloon campaign is based on lies. The move against the saloon is deep and lasting, not a fad. It is against alcohol, which destroys life in its making and always in its use. It is a poison, not a food, and nothing can make right the sale of the damnable stuff as a beverage. The prohibition of its traffic is just as reasonable as a pure food law for the protection of health. It is a scientific question, one of absolute fact and the fight against the traffic is one backed by demonstration.

The state is one unit in this question just as much as in the regulation of pure food, but the saloon men and their friends of course want to narrow it down to the smallest section possible in their struggles to keep the infamous business going.

82 Years of Age.

A family reunion was held yesterday at the home of J. M. V. Blyden, 603 Water street, in honor of the 82nd birthday of F. P. DeVaney. He received many presents and hearty congratulations, with best wishes for many more birthdays. The dinner was a fine one. The following were present: F. P. DeVaney, S. A. DeVaney and family of Philomath, Geo. M. DeVaney, wife and daughter, Harrisburg, F. W. DeVaney and wife, Thos. R. R. DeVaney, and wife, and daughter, Seio; T. M. V. Blyden and family of Jefferson; S. P. Hansard and family, Lebanon; M. V. Blyden and wife, Albany; John D. Gilbert, Mrs. A. DeVaney's father, of Seattle; Wm. Messner and family, of Albany; O. H. Russell and wife, of Albany; O. H. Russell, Sweet Home; Wm. Cook, Albany.

A Good Collection.

The work of collecting magazines and other material for Albany College Library was carried on actively Saturday. Some eight or ten one horse loads were collected and piled in the lower hall. Duplicates left after the college files are filled out will be given to the city library so far as they care for them. The remainder will then be sent to the county hospital or jail or given to any who care to come for them. The residence district was covered from the ditch to railroad street. It was found impossible to reach most of the houses outside these limits, but this will be done later upon notice from all those who have material to give. The college wishes to thank the givers of every gift. Many were important enough that names should be mentioned. The gift of a magnificent twenty five dollar portfolio of German Art by Mr. J. G. Crawford is one of them.

A New Directory.

Albany is to have a new city directory, already needed here. It will be gotten up by the Albany Directory Co. J. S. Mathews, with many years experience, as compiler, all home people, Mr. Mathews having located here. It will cover the city and new additions, with the addresses of all over 15 years, a complete street and avenue guide, with much valuable information about the city.

Quarter Centennial at St. Mary's.

Announcement was made yesterday at St. Mary's church of the coming celebration of the quarter centennial of the local parish. The date of the celebration will be Nov. 20, and Archbishop Christie will be present and a number of distinguished visitors will attend. One of the principal addresses will be made by the Rev. Prior of Mt. Angel who was present 25 years ago at the dedication of the first church.

Another Grange.

Eddyville, Nov. 2.—Eddyville grange was organized last evening by C. H. Walker, with a good charter list, and the following officers: master, S. T. Louden; lecturer, W. F. Wakefield; secretary, R. W. Veit.

Linn county with 7 granges stands among the leading grange counties of the state. The assembly nominees stand very low among the farmers of this county and Oa. West will no doubt get a majority vote as governor.

Dr. William Essex, a Portland physician, has been arrested on the charge of abortion. If guilty hanging is good enough.

Mrs. Mary Harris Armor was robbed of $160 in a crowd at Eugene.

A BOY SHOT TOGETHER IN THE FRUIT BUSINESS.

Manly, the ten year old son of H. T. James met with a serious gun accident yesterday that was a close call to a funeral. The boy got a revolver and was working with it when the instrument "went off" good and hard. The ball went directly up towards the boy's head, just scraping the skull and indenting it some, on the right side. Dr. Hill was called and dressed the wound, the boy standing the operation like a soldier. He is doing well and will come out all right, but there will be a scar to show for the experience.

DIED.

Isaac McClung.

Isaac McClung, for nearly sixty years a resident of this section, died Saturday evening at his home near this city, at the age of 89 years.

He was born in Ohio and came to Oregon in 1852 by the Panama canal, settling near this city, where he lived on different farms until his death, well known and respected.

He was born Sept. 18, 1821 at Jamesville, O., and came to the coast during the gold excitement of 1849.

He was married twice, having seven children by his first wife and three by his second wife, to whom he was married in 1876. Mrs. McClung is a sister of F. M. French.

He leaves a wife and the following children: Robert A. McClung, Sprague, Wash.; Isaac M. McClung, B. O.; Thomas J. McClung, Vancouver, Wash.; Mrs. Emma A. Moore, Seattle; Mrs. Ella Soules, Woodburn; and Frank M. and D. C. McClung.

The funeral was held this afternoon, Rev. White preaching the sermon.

Richard S. Wilkins.

Richard S. Wilkins died at his home in this city early yesterday morning, of Bright's disease, and Albany loses a good citizen, a splendid father and neighbor. He was born in Kansas 59 years ago, and came to Albany in 1891. He was in the lumber business. He was a member of the Methodist church for many years and also of the Woodmen of the World. He leaves a wife and five children, Rev. Richard Wilkins, of Goble, Calif., William S., Harry F., Pera and Elmer Wilkins, of this city.

The funeral service will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m., Rev. J. W. McDougall, of Portland preaching the sermon.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 63-87. The river is 8 of a foot. Prediction: fair tonight and Tuesday.

TUESDAY.

Elmer Fromm is reported to be improving.

W. W. Pollock returned this noon from a west side trip.

Yesterday one Johnstone flew 9714 feet high in an aviator. Foolish man.

Dr. Lowe the optician and optometrist will be in Albany Nov. 18 and 19.

Mrs. William Holloway went to Parisburg this afternoon on a visit with her daughter Mrs. E. D. Truelove.

An Albany man recently through eastern Oregon says the sentiment is general that West will be elected.

There is a sun flower at J. F. Powell's 58 inches in circumference. That's growing some, a big sun flower for a fact.

A ten point caribou head from Canada is being mounted by W. N. Patterson, now at Corvallis, for Dr. Hill's museum, a fine one.

The Linn County Orchard Co. has just gotten out a prospectus, a fine affair, with a very pretty cover in three colors. Rawlings did the work, an artistic job.

Churchill is printing 20,000 ballots for the coming election. They are about two feet long in three columns, and samples will now be on the street for studying.

H. R. and Fred Schultz and John Morris have returned from a hunt up the Crabtree getting six or seven deer, George Cline and Jas. Fitzpatrick, who hunted up the Calapooia, got only one.

Tom McClung and family, of Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McClung of Roseburg and Mrs. Soules of Woodburn, were among those here to attend the funeral of Isaac McClung.

J. L. C. Shell jr., and M. J. Cashell, of Crofton, North Dakota, former neighbors of Wm. Ritchie, are in the city, in the valley looking for a business location.

H. A. Lake and family have returned from their trip to Nebraska, where they succeeded in not being blown away. They had a good time at their old home; but are more Oregonians than ever.

Harry L. Waldon and bride have been having the times of their lives on a bridal trip back east. Post cards received from Washington, D. C., and Alexandria, Va. recently tell of the trip, now towards home.

A hallo'een party was given last night by Miss Clara Mulver, of the Home Telephone office, at her home at 6th and Jefferson. A fine lunch was served with four little girls as waitresses. Japanese lanterns were the decoration. The following were on the party line: Grace H. Hughes, Lora Sixwater, Lulu Forgye, Anna Pierce, Lizzie Rhyland, Myrtle Wun, Helen Hodges, Lottie Walleit, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Saffey, Mrs. Roy McDaniel.

Miss Marian Bradley gave a good party, enjoyed by a live crowd. It started with masks, followed by music and some nice refreshments. Those present were Misses Monteith, Laura and Gertrude Taylor, Patton Bain, Hammett, Pfeiffer, Lutzer, Roberts, Simpson, Gilbert, Schwitz, Swank, Stevens, Knight, Stevens, Humphrey, Mrs. Lela Bradley and Maggie Stevens, all these serving.

TOGETHER IN THE FRUIT BUSINESS.

At the get-together meeting of the Albany Commercial Club last night the matter of handling the fruit business according to the progress of the time was well presented, creating a good deal of interest.

W. A. Eastburn, manager of the Linn County Fruit Union, spoke on the marketing of the orchard product, presenting the subject well. The great need is a good union, with a manager having power, then the fruit packed and shipped must be first class from top to bottom, honest fruit, rightly packed, and properly graded, just exactly what it is bought for.

The best land for apples is the higher land newly grubbed, not old worn out land, and for peaches it must be on the west slope and sheltered from the sun in the morning. He showed the big saving for the member of the union and the need of all to get into it. Linn county is to rank with Medford and Hood River in apple culture.

E. A. Johnson spoke on a comparison of places, giving an autograph of his life covering fifty years, from his birth in Wisconsin, through life in Florida, Kansas, Colorado and California, when he started in Oregon life, going to Drain and three years ago coming to Albany, the best of all the places, with splendid environments for sure crops, the best people in the world socially, good schools, and churches and the good old time religion.

F. J. Fletcher was down for the retail business and F. M. French for what can be done on ten acres, but both were unable to be present.

J. M. Hawkins boosted the Santiam and Calapooia valleys for the fruit business, with a good talk that hit the mark. He was first attracted to this section on a trip over them with W. K. Newell and found the two valleys to be ideal for fruit raising, as rich soil as there is in the world. The time will come when they will be settled, with men on every twenty acres, perhaps ten, and a road running through them for transportation of their great natural resources.

Upon motion of W. H. Marvin, after setting forth the splendid adaptability of this valley for orchards, making the valley a mecca for fruit raising, a resolution was passed that the Club go on record as desiring to assist all enterprises for the upbuilding of the fruit raising, and that correspondence looking to investment be invited with an emphasis upon the fact that we can do business with natural irrigation. Mr. Grey just from Oklahoma was introduced.

Short suggestions were made by C. H. Stewart, C. M. Giddings and E. H. McCune.

Upon motion of J. C. Holbrook the names of all persons growing apples were requested, in order that personal invitations may be sent them to come to the apple show and particularly the address by Mr. Shepherd and others. J. C. Holbrook, C. H. Stewart, W. A. Eastburn, Geo. Taylor and F. P. Nutting were appointed a committee to attend to it.

Among those leaving was William A. Wasson, a former Episcopal minister, who has been speaking through the state in the interest of the saloon. His appearance and bearing do not suggest anything very serious in the gospel work. Sending such men here has crystallized the temperance element in the state and added to it, and ten to one Wasson has made votes for prohibition. His speech last night was according to the program outlined in the Democrat.

Mrs. C. W. Sears went to Portland to attend the funeral of her uncle J. F. Jones, a pioneer and prominent resident of Portland for about fifty years.

Mr. Presnell, president of the Northwest Fruit Association, returned to Salem after being here to assist in the business of the association. This has been a good prune year, high prices prevailing.

A. M. Templeton, republican nominee for Sheriff came down from Brownsville.

George Cline returned from a hunt up in the hills.

James Fitzpatrick returned from the Calapooia valley.

Mayor A. M. Reeves, of Lebanon, went to Portland on a business trip.
