FOR WEST

East to West North to South,

A large audience greeted Oswald West, nominee for governor, at the opera house last night.

Hon. W. R. Bilyeu presided and introduced the speaker in a neat speech that, took showing how West is a man of the people and his opponent the tool of the interests.

Mr. West spoke for an hour, just giving a shop talk, in a manner to convince any one of his honesty and earnestness. The great question in this campaign is whether the common people are going to rule or the great corporate interests. When Oregon broke loose from the system that has dominated the state to its injury it took a great step forward in the progress of good government and our people should see that it is perpetuated. A campaign was begun in the last legislature to wipe out this rule by the people in a bill favored by Bowerman, and, then, again, when regardless of the defeat of it, Mr. Bowerman and others established the assembly, which is simply a convention. The corporate interests are afraid that the people will bring about through the initiative an equitable form of taxation. Gradually the state should derive all its revenue, as is done in some of the middle east states, from public service corporations.

Mr. Bowerman professes to be a friend of the public school system, but when in the legislature he shirked his duty when there was a chance to do something. Bowerman is telling that he can save the state $50,000 a year on buying supplies, which is a slam at the heads of the different departments; but if there is anything to be saved depend upon it Mr. West will also look after it for the state.

That mileage incident was explained, showing it to be a rare act of honesty, instead of a thing to be condemned.

Mr. West promises the enforcement of law, whatever it is, and will seek to promote better tax laws, banking laws, good road and business laws.

Mr. West made a good impression, and is going to receive a splendid vote in this county.

THIS MORNING

News from Albany Six Early Trains.

Mr. Oswald West, whom many believe will be the next governor of Oregon, left for Portland, on the way of course stopping to see his family. He has been having a strenuous campaign; but he is for the right against the wrong in popular government and will win.

Rev. W. H. Foulkes, of Portland, came over from Corvallis and left for Portland. He will be back Thursday night for the address at the mass meeting, at the Opera house. He has been doing splendid work for the anti-saloon movement and does not have the least doubt that Oregon is going dry. Everywhere the signs are that way.

Jas. Shahan and son, once Albany people, came down on the Springfield train. W. H. Ingram and son Oscar, prominent socialists, of Lebanon, arrived on an Albany trip.

Rev. Jones, P. E., of Corvallis, returned from a trip to the Coos Bay country, by way of a stage from Drain. Fred Ficklin went to Jefferson for a hunt.

Mrs. Josephine Barnes Harnish arrived from San Francisco, for a visit with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. H. Barnes. Captain Harnish is now with the government at the Presidio. For several years they resided in the Philippines.

Foot Ball Saturday.

A foot ball game worth seeing will be played here on Saturday between the Albany high school team and the Corvallis high school. Corvallis has a strong team, and Albany has already demonstrated that it has one of the best high school teams in the valley. The team that beats it will have to do some hiking.

MISS HARNED.

No better, finer play could have been secured than "The Woman He Married" by Herbert Bashford, for Miss Virginia Harned to display her splendid talents that have made her recognized by the theatre-going public as America's leading actress. Several of this country's greatest managers tried hard to secure the play from Mr. Bashford, but he had only one actress in view and he offered it to Miss Harned. No money has been spared to make this presentation massive. The scenic effects are described as really wonderful. One car is used to carry the furniture alone.

At the opera house Friday night.

An Umbrella Story.

An Albany hotel once had on hand twenty-four umbrellas, left there by guests who forgot them. That was nearly enough with which to go into business; but he didn't have them long. Gradually they were all borrowed never returned, and soon there was not one of them left. After all the umbrellas in nearest common property there is, except the exchanges in a newspaper office.

PERSONAL

Ed. Barrett this noon returned from a Portland business trip.

J. F. Troutman, joined his family today for a short Albany visit.

Miss Beckwith of Corvallis, is visiting at the home of N. H. Wheeler.

Dr. G. S. Mathews, recently of Walla Walla, has bought out the practice of Dr. Eaton, Psy D. M. E.

Miss Marcus, the evangelist, who has been doing special work at Lebanon, came down yesterday for an Albany visit.

Manley James, the boy, son of H. T. James, who recently accidentally shot himself with a revolver, is reported in a critical condition today.

Jesse Doughton has returned from a hunt up the Siuslaw, where he helped kill several deer and three wildcats. He was gone five weeks and had a good time, a regular old fashioned hunt.

The E. A. Miss Neva Bilyeu was over from Albany over Sunday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bilyeu. Mr. John Neeley of Albany also came over, Sunday to accompany Miss Bilyeu back to Albany.

Dr. Foulkes Will Speak.

Dr. W. H. Foulkes, of Portland, a splendid speaker, will address the temperance mass meeting at the opera house tomorrow night, and there will be a crowd there to hear him. He was recently in Kansas and learned for himself how prohibition works there, and is fearless in striking for the home against its greatest foe the saloon.

Are Making good.

Messrs Athey and Athey and Miss Mandeville are giving some fine vaudevilles this week at Dreamland, a talented company of Oregon artists. The Athey boys were brought up in Clackamas county and have made good in their profession and Miss Mandeville is a charming performer. A picture that is particularly striking is a country school house story, full of comedy, with some dandy characters.

Bingham Will speak.

I. H. Bingham, independent candidate for joint senator of Linn and Lane, favoring the direct primary and statement number one will speak at the court Friday night, and the people of Linn county generally are invited to be present. Mr. Bingham will state plainly his position on the issue of the day and it will pay to hear him.
