BINGHAM OR BEAN, WHICH?
Engene Guard: L. E. Bean, assembly candidate for joint senator for Lane and Laim counties, has made a set campaign speech devoted in its entirety to an attack upon his direct primary, Stateemat One opponent, I. Bingham. It is printed in the morning paper, and, quite appropriately, was delivered in Cortage Grove, its county seat of "Nesmith county, whose vote was responsible for Mr. Bean's nomination in the primary election. Also, it was a fitting place for the delivery of such a tirade against Senator Bingham because it was poured into willing cars and evoked boisterous applause from those who are devoting their time and energy, not to the upbuilding of a greater Lane county, but rather are engaged in its disemberment; who have seed-eld from the established government of the county, and for the sake of creating a commy seat boom for selfish purposes are endeavoring to override and set at naught the wishes of four-fifths of the taxpayers of the county.

Senator Bingham has incurred the county of the county divisionists because he has fought them squarely, fairly and above board, and his telling blows have connected, while Mr. Bean has not hired a finger during the county and to respect to their move all devoting their time without compensation to preserve the integrity of the grand old county of the county divisionists because he has fought them squarely, fairly and above board, and his telling blows have connected to the servery of the county of the county divisionists because the transplant to assist those who are specularly and above board, and his telling blows have connected to the servery of the county of the county divisionists because the transplant to a servery of the grand old counties. The servery of the grand old county of the county divisionists because the many particles of the taxpayers of the county. Senator Bingham has incurred the county of the county divisionists because the county of the county divisionists because the has fought them squarely, fairly and above board, been and in right and justice ought to remain.

The striking contrast which may be drawn between Messes. Bingham and Brain in respect to their attitude regarding "Nesmith county" is just a regarding "Nesmith county is just always tool for the direct main lass always stood for the direct maintains, and regarded for it in this campaign, and regarded to sign Statement One two years ago. realizes the strength of the anti-as-sembly sentiment, and professes to favor the derect primary plan of nom-ination. Instead of standing con-sistently for a principle he trims his sails to varying breezes of popularity as they fan the brow of the practical politician.

Mr. Bean's political pronunciamento, delivered from the paper capital of the opera pouffe county of Nesmith, should make many votes for Senator Bingham, and we mistake the temper of the people of Lanc county if it does not.

See them flying through the air. The Oregonian, or whoever is back of its and its candidates, are being hit daily by their own weapons. The story hatched about crookedness on the part of Mr. West in connection with some mileage received has turned against Bowerman and every where is making votes for West. The whole affair was one of decided credit to Mr. West. The alleged Bourne-Chamberlain machine has been found to be simply hot air in the minds of the assemblyites, and it is turning upon them. Intelligent people despise mind-throwing, and that has been to foundation of the Bowerman campaign as conducted through the columns of the Oregonian and Telegram. People generally have learned that the Oregonian is absolutely unreliable in political matters, and the course taken is being resented from end to end of the state. Several republican papers have risen in their manhood and declared against the infamy.

OBSERVED

By the Man About Town.

J. A. McChesney is doing a good job on the new concrete block of Fortmiller Bros., on Water street. It is to be 34 by 94 feet, two stories, with a cement basement, giving it nearly 10,000 square feet for storage of furniture.

The demand for up to date rooms for homes is illustrated in the master in which the new four room sults of rooms in the Burggraf block have been taken, all going, with demands for more. They will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gould, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Chambers and Mrs. Newton and daughter, some of whom are already at home there. The residence of L. C. Marshall, vacated by Mr. Merrill, is to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holman.

Fred Dawson has begun moving into his fine new store in the new Cusick block, elegant drug quarters. Huston brothers have been shaving a day or two in the shop on Brondaibin street, and the second floor offices are being put in shape as fast as possible

H. N. Cockerline, next the Democrat office, today put his safe in and is about ready to open the office permanently, with a clerk in charge during his absence through the valley, making Arbany the headquarters for Northwestern business.

SAW THE PLAY

A Former Corvallis Man the Villain

A large sudience saw Miss Harned, nee Mrs. E. H. Sothern, in The Woman He Married, at the opera house last night, one of the most dramatic efforts ever presented in Albany. Miss Harned sustained the reputation she has as an artist in emotion and expression. Her support is good in every part, a feature always agreeable to a critical audience. One of these was G. Lester Paul, formly editor of the Corvallis Gazette, who took the difficult role of a penniless English Lord, the villain of the play, with great genius for the lines. Mr. Paul is a thorough actor. After retiring from the Gazette he opened a dramatic school in Portland, then going on the stage, since appearing in a number of productions and companies.

The model scene was one of the most striking ever seen here, an artistic affair.

Besides the show there was also a fine fair.

Besides the show there was also a fine display of Albany toggery, the best the city has, metropolitan in its taste.

A dozen prominent Corvallis people came over in their automobiles and filled a row in the parquette. Most of them were old friends of Mr. Paul.

The Democratic Campaign

Mr. West was unable to be at Halsey yesterday afternoon, and his place was filled in an able manner by Senator M. A. Miller, who is making a great cam paign, not only for his own candidacy, but for the ticket. The entire democratic legislative ticket is a strong one, and all four men should be elected. You know how they stand, every one of them. No one knows for certain how any of their opponents stand. They have not made a speech, and have kept mum on statement number one and the direct primary. The voter is a peculiar fellow who is going to cast his ballot without knowing what it is for.

Tonight the democrats will hold a meeting at Shedd.

Come to the Albany Apple Show.

SITE FOR A LIBRARY

Presented by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Young.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Albany Library Association, held at the library last evening. Mrs. S. E. Young on behalf of herself and husband offered the lot at the corner of Ferry and Third street for a public library, the deed to be made whenever ready for its use.

and Third street for a public library, the deed to be made whenever ready for its use.

Upon motion the liberal gift was ordered accepted and a vote of deep gratitude and appreciation extended Mr. and Mrs. Young.

The plan is to secure as soon as possible a Carnegie library. This can now be done, and under the state law the city is authorized to levy such a tax as is proper for its support, and the council has already informally expressed itself in its favor. A 4-10 of a mill tax would probably meet the demand, though some think it should be a little larger in order to secure a more expensive building, Mr. Carnegie giving one costing ten times the appropriation. The people of Albany are universally in favor of the library and a liberal support of it.

MISFITS.

Put character into your vote.

This Bourne-Chamberlain machine is simply a spook in the diseased mind of the Oregonian.

With both the Oregonian and Ex. Gov. Geer fighting Os. West there ought to be no question of his election.

The worst of all fakery is the pro-posed law for a model saloon. If the saloon wins it will be the same old hole.

Oregon should have two good normal schools, and one of them should be at Monmouth, the original normal school

A vote for R. G. Smith, a competent man, for congress, is a vote against Cannonism, the disgrace of our govern-

The Oregonian this morning has a good picture of itself entitled "carping critic," a good illustration of its dishonest attack on West.

Twelve O. A. C. hazers had to beg the pardon of their victims before President Kerr, of the O. A. C. That helps; but kicking the hazer out is none

The Oregonian has no recommenda-tion on the home rule bill, which shows that it ought to be whacked good and hard. A thing too mean for that paper to support must be the limit.

West, who has been accused of being in a Bourne plot, has only seen Bourne twice in his life. The charge is simply rotten politics, and all over the state people are getting next to it. Bowerman is the greatest political contortionist in the history of Oregon, squirming into any shape for yotes, which he will not get.

A prominent Portland man on the wet side, when he saw such men as Darrow being brought here in the interest of the saloon said that was enough for him and he is going to vote dry.

Bowerman seems to think he is running against Bourne; but it is another fellow. Put Bourne and Bowerman in a sack and you wouldn't have so very much after all, two somewhat of a kind, only different.

Normal schools are needed in the in-terest of the public school system, an institution for the proper education of teachers for our schools. Oregon should have no more than two, and Monmouth should be the place for one.

This Home Rule fight has been backed by a mass of falsehoods. The last circular is against the search law, declaring that one cannot even have inquor in one's possession, which is not the law at all. It does not change the present law at all except to make it constitutional and adds the word search.

According to a big ad. in a Medford paper Medford might lose the paradise by losing the saloon. Think of a paradise having a saloon, the wrecker of the home, the breeder of divorce, at the bottom of much of poverty, the creator of misery untold. Such rot is enough to turn the stomach of an alligator.

The Monmouth normal is entitled to a vote in the interest of the cause of education. Good teachers is the foun dation of effective work in the public schools, the normal being the best trainer for the work. Of all the normal propositions Monmouth is entitled to first consideration and 318 X Yes will be a vote in the right direction.
