THIS MORNING

News From Albany's Six Early Trains.

Another wet one, with the travelling public not yet recovered from election returns.

The first ballot box to be brought to Albany was from Harrisburg, with several men to look after it.

V. W. Robnett came down from Shedd. He said Shedd did not make the record on several things it generally has, but it gave a great vote for West, about three to one.

Owen Beam left on a Seattle trip. Rev Lacey came down from Lebanon on new church business.

W. B. Chance, mill inspector, left for Salem.

Hon. J. K. Weatherford left for Salem.

District Attorney E. R. Bryson, arrived from Corvallis.

A Bright One.

"The Girl, the Man and the Game" is the fetching title of the new musical farce, which Billy (Single) Clifford will offer Saturday night. The piece is described as a musical fantasy in two parts. It is a farce, in other words, with music, and it is one of the sprightliest and best entertainments of the kind offered this season. Mr. Clifford is seen as a roistering blade, with many gay qualities, and it is a role that fits him to perfection. There are all sorts of ludicrous complications in the piece, and the fun is fast and furious from curtain to curtain. Along with the fun Mr. Clifford offers numerous songs of the catchiest and gayest imaginable. The piece is, in fact, one of the brightest and best of this season's offerings and it offers entertainment of a high class.

For the Park.

The Owl Drug Store will be formally opened tomorrow, when there will be music and the ladies of the Civic Improvement Club will serve tea or coffee with other good things for a reasonable consideration. Mr. Dawson also offers to contribute 20 per cent of the total sales of the day for seeding and shrubbery in the new park.

This offers a practical way for boosting for a more beautiful Albany, with the added attraction of lovely flowers and delicious things to eat. No well wisher for Albany should stay away.

After Fruit Land.

Lebanon E. A. J. J. Merrill of St. Paul, Minn., and Henry Merrill of Portland, Ore., representing a syndicate which wishes to purchase a large tract of land suitable for fruit growing, were in Lebanon last Friday, having just returned from Sweet Home, where they had been to view some of the western sections of the Willamette Valley and Cascade Mountain Wagon-road land. The Messrs. Merrill visited Hood River, and thence through the Willamette valley as far south as Roseburg. These gentlemen ventured the opinion that this section presents as great or greater opportunities for the fruit-grower as any locality visited.

Death of Mr. Benight

Samuel M. Benight died this morning at his home in east Albany, at the age of 67 years. He is well spoken of. He had been a resident here eight or ten years, and leaves a wife and two sons, Chas. and Guy. The trouble was dropsy, with heart failure.

The Tuesday Club.

The Tuesday Club met yesterday with Mrs. Mary Raister in a very pleasant session. Some time was spent in reading from the Lady of Decorations, a very pretty and entertaining piece of literature. The contest was in looking at a table of forty or fifty things, then going into the next room and writing down as many as possible from memory. Several had the same number.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our thanks for kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our son and brother and also for the beautiful floral gifts.

OWEN BEAM, Room 4 Stark Bldg., Albany

APPLE FAIR.

This is the opening day, but the work of opening has been handicapped by the heavy storm and the election, coming right after election materially affecting it. Getting the exhibit in shape has been slow work, but those who go to night will be repaid. The opening exercises this afternoon were delayed. The program was the address of welcome by the mayor, with an address by H. C. Atwell, president of the state horticultural society on the commercial apple, one of decided importance, demonstrated by Mr. Atwell.

Tonight there will be a fine musical program under J. C. Irvine, which our people should hear.

AT THE COURT HOUSE.

So much election other business is at a stand still.

But there were some marriage licenses secured: Oscar Jenks, aged 15, a Rose Mabel Carroll, 20; C. D. Trass, aged 30, and Rose Sandner, 24.

The Chrysanthemum Fair.

A repetition of last year's brilliant success is expected next week on the 14th and 15th of November, only this carnival will surpass the other for it is to be held in the new armory and several new attractions will be added. For instance a Pay Streak is being planned that will be the marvel of the age.

Again the living pictures will delight the audience and this year they will be quite elaborate.

The booths will represent different nations and characters and refreshments. And the good things that are being prepared to serve in each booth are the best and most delicious that Albany cooks can prepare. The music for both nights will be furnished by our best talent and that in itself will be worth hearing.

Of course every one will be eager to see the fine display of chrysanthemums and they will be extra fine this year.

SIMPSON'S POEMS.

The Democrat appreciates a volume of the poems of Samuel L. Simpson, well printed and neatly compiled. It is entitled: "The Golden-Gated West, Songs and Poems," by Samuel J. Simpson. The volume is a credit to the great state of Oregon, and will place Simpson among the great poets of the United States. The volume contains 308 pages and the poems are divided as follows: Nature, historical and narrative, memories of the west, occasional, sentiment, patriotism, life and death, miscellaneous. The first poem properly is Beautiful Willamette. The original title in the Democrat was Ad Willamettam. This poem is a classic, one of the finest things ever written by any one anywhere.

Simpson was a former Albany man, and wrote a number of his poems in this city, notably Ad Willamettam, and the people of the city should be liberal in their support of this costly publication. It deserves a place in every home in Albany. A. J. Martin, of Portland, has charge of the circulation of the volume, and will be in Albany later. Those who wish the volume at once may secure it by return mail by sending $2.50 to A. J. Martin, Room 423 Hamilton building, Portland, or W. T. Burney, 316 Alisky building, Portland.
