

Linen Time

The best time to replenish your linen supply is right now, while the stock offers the largest and best assortment. We have received a large shipment, bought for holiday selling. The patterns are exceptionally pretty and are undoubtedly the choicest we have ever shown, although our linen department has the reputation of showing the finest linens.

Buying in large quantities and importing direct from Belfast, Ireland, as we do, enables us to give values that are hard to duplicate elsewhere.

See the special assortment of Table Linen.

Rich, fine, superb designs—as elegant as any you ever saw—two yards wide.

Special, 98c yard. Napkins to match.

Other values priced from 50c to $2.50 yard. Napkins, $1.25 to $7.00 dozen.

A visit to this department will convince you much sooner than print. Come and see this showing while it is at its best. See the rich display in the show-window.

A NEW SHIPMENT OF LADIES SHOES.

Patent leather—button—dull tops.
Patent leather—button—plain toe—cloth top.
Gun metal, calf—button. Three popular styles.

THIS MORNING

News from Albany's Six Daily Trains.

Dr. C. W. Lowe, the oculist, came down from Lebanon, and went to Stayton. He will be in Albany in a few days, one of many trips here.

Uncle Billy Wright returned from Lebanon, another frequent Albany visitor for many years. His hot stuff is great for the digestive faculties.

Clyde Laughhead, of the Albany Supply Co., went to Brownsville. The company is doing a fine business through the valley, a great convenience for grocers in this part of the state.

John R. Penland, the civil engineer went to Millers to do some work.

Mrs. W. A. Thrift went to Portland for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Earl, who has not been well.

Mrs. Kate Vaughn arrived from Lebanon on a visit with her sister, Mrs. Z. H. Rood.

Mr. Leary, of the Home Restaurant, went to Portland on a short business trip.

Married.

On Wednesday, November 15, 1910, at the Home telephone office, a good place to start out in life together, Elmer Richardson and Miss Minnie A. Bahrke aged 23, both of Lebanon. Rev. Esson performed the ceremony.

THE MUMS.

Mrs. Haight Has the Finest Flowers.

The judges, Prof. Flint, of the O. A. C. W. S. Duncan and Mr. Pennebacker, of this city, men who understand flowers, made their awards last evening, as follows:

Finest and best exhibit.—Mrs. H. D. Haight, of Knox Butte, a cut glass vase presented by the Modern Travellers. 2nd. Mrs. Henrietta Brown, a rug presented by the Hamilton Store. 3rd. Lucy Gard, a bed spread presented by S. E. Young & Son.

Best ten varieties.—1st. Mrs. Chas. H. Stewart, a rug presented by Gilbert Bros. 2nd. Mrs. Howe, a rocker presented by the Formiller Furniture Co. 3rd. Mrs. Clyde Bryant, toilet water presented by Dawson.

Best 5 varieties.—1st. Mrs. Jas. Ownbey, of Tangent, photos of Crawford. 2nd. Mrs. Johnston, cut glass knife rest by Foshay & Mason.

Best single mum.—1st. Mrs. Haight, a Goodness Gracious, a leather bag presented by Chambers & McCune. 2nd. Mrs. Custer, an Englehart, bottle of perfume presented by Burkhart & Lee. 3rd. Mrs. Jas. Ownbey a M. Bonnaton, a picture presented by H. Jones.

Best collection in pots.—1st. Mrs. Guy Howe, a jardener by the Woodworth Drug Co. 2nd. Mrs. A. H. Martin, an embroidered handkerchief by W. B. Stevens & Co. 3rd. S. A. Nicholls had a nice collection and received a pottery jug from the Ohling-Hulbert Co.

Other excellent displays were shown by Mrs. Young, Mrs. Maxwell, Mr. Geffert, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Cummings.

Among the mums observed were the Nevins, Mrs. Chamberlain, Dolly Duess, Goodness Gracious, Ostrich Plume, Kiderow, Pink Ivory, Glory Pacific, White Ivory, Bird of Paradise, Frank Wood, Mrs. Tom Lawson, Mrs. Robinson, Golieth, Lavender Green, Silver Cloud, H. Barns, White Pearl, Fannie Neal, Golden Wedding, Ruth Cleveland, Kate Roberts, Glora Yellow, Vivian Morrell, Bergman, Simpson, Pink Pearl, Virginian Pachtman, Yellow McKinley, and the Green, a novelty shown by Mrs. Nicholls.

The display is much the best shown in Albany, and elicited the highest commendation of the judges, Prof. Flint declaring it the finest out-door collection he had ever seen.

The booths attracted a good deal of attention and did a fine business. The Japs with tea and cocoa, the Spanish with its hot stuff, the German with its sauer kraut and bolognas, the American with its beans and pumpkin pies, the French with its confectionary, and the domestic with its home made products.

Striking characters were Pocahontas, Miss Kate Stewart, and Sacawajee, Miss Neta Schultz, wearing original Indian costumes, the property of Dr. Ed. Stewart. Others made fine appearances in keeping with their nationality.

The living pictures were greatly appreciated, pretty affairs. Miss Lila Patton was a neat witch; Mrs. G. E. Sox, St. Colla; Mrs. R. E. Mason, Queen Louise, and the Seven Ages brought out some fine figures. Pleading musical numbers were presented by Misses Ireland and Smith.

The show has been open today, and will close tonight with another living picture show, all new characters.

Albany people should get their lunches there tonight, 5 to 7.

All overcoats just $15 at W. F. Pfeiffer's.

OBSERVED

By the "Man About Town."

A fine display of apples in the Linn and Benton windows, prettily packed, something that always shows fruit off better, the artistic adding to the effect. The newly arranged offices are very attractive.

The Pomona, at the docks, among other things, this morning took away a big shipment of apples in boxes, by V. D. Looney, of Jefferson, to himself, at Portland. A good many apples are being sent away to the larger markets.

A. W. Dockstetter unloading a car of Mendota coal, which Mr. Dockstetter reports gives general satisfaction. Coal is coming into favor as a fuel here.

Louis Miller of Eugene, setting up the machinery in the former Stetter store, for a shoe repair shop. Mr. Miller has been in his father's shop at Eugene several years. He is a brother of George Miller, the plumber. He does his work entirely by machinery. Mr. Miller will have the east half of the store room, a partition being run through the room, leaving the corner room for rent, a good place for a small business.

Here or Nowhere.

The third number of the Albany College lecture course is Harold Morton Kramer, novelist and lecturer. He will be at the United Presbyterian church, Friday night, subject "Here or Nowhere." It is said of this lecture, "It contains the broad sympathy, the soul depth, optimistic philosophy that have characterized all of Mr. Kramer's novels. Many of each audience will go away clinging to the cheering message and from that hour find new possibilities in life. The value of such a lecture to a community cannot be estimated."

The reserve seat sale begins tomorrow at Woodworth's drug store. Season tickets for the remaining six numbers can be had at Albany College, Albany High School, Commercial Club, Woodworth's and several young people's societies. Coupons on season tickets have been made interchangeable.
