MISFITS.

Genius is principally work.

Things that build up character live.

A good lecture course is an asset for any city.

How fast the birthdays come as one gets older.

The principal business of some people is to tear down.

Some people use their thinkers so little they become rusty.

Dipping and diving in air 500 feet above terra firma doesn't go down with us.

Roosevelt says every dog has his day, but nights belong to cats. Do you bite.

The big modern newspaper is principally heads and yellow. Many just read the heads and quit.

In some places back east the name saloon has been changed to cafe, and the word bartender to server. The same old drunkard makers just the same.

The next legislature will be 83 republicans and 7 democrats, but a majority of the 83 are insurgent, about the same as democrats, and the governor is a democrat. Now get your pencil out.

At Dreamland.

Tonight the management of the above theatre are showing a picture, which is without parallel, it is a story of a young girl who saves George Washington's life at the loss of her own, her father being the paid assassin of the great general mistakes his daughter for the general in the room.

Another good picture is "The Faith Cure," a tale of the awful agonies of a rained consumptive man who is newly married suffers.

"The Hoodoo," a good comedy from start to finish.

Fresh oysters any style Hot Lunches morning, Noon or night. Elite Chocolate Shop.
