SATURDAY NIGHT' THOUGHTS.

SATURDAY NIGHT' THOUGHTS. Abe Rucf, of San Francisco, will have to spend fourieen years in jail, every effort to evade the sentence of the court has failed and Rucf mast now take his medicine. It serves him of the bemeerat office. Ruch was a no-torious boss and grafter. He un-doubtedly robled San Francisco of humdreds of thousands of dollars. He was like a good many other men in the large clites of the country. Most of them rob and then rob again and are never apprehended; but that has nothing to do with Abe Rucf's case. Every one stands on his own merit, nothing to do with Abe Rucf's case fiver one of the maxels pullished the man with a public trust, who is printless, of all men, should be se-verely pullated. Abe Rucf was one of them. The public conscience and of them the masks of the solution of them do the masks of the solution of them. The public rouse the solution of them and the rob adain and the ease of the rank of the solution of them. The public rouse the solution of them and the rob addition of a striking character. A warning helps but there should be more, the chick isonard, and it can only be done by graduating with the liftle things of ille, matchess of the size, myrightness of character character, the situation of character circumstances.

Snookums, with his awful mouth has arrived. There is no such a child in real life, and yet Snookums inter-ests everybody; because people realize how parents go to excess in indulging their own children, calling them child-ish, pet names, and letting them have their way in almost everything. Exag-geration may help to teach us some lessons. If at least is the thing of the day, and we have opportunities to laugh at things regardless of their im-possibility and absence of even good sense; hut we should not allow oursense; hut we should not allow our-selves to be influenced against our

A Thanksgiving holiday this week has been an event that deserves the attention paid it, one that does much to cement good will and fellowship in the world. * * *

WHOSE SON WAS HE? Ξ¥.

WHOSE SON WAS HE? Whose hoy was the stranger killed at Miller's and buried in the city cen-try at this city? It may never he known, but somewhere there is prob-bably a mother wondering where her by is. Because he was killed while stading a ride on the cars the world called him a hobo, an unpleasant desig-nition; but those who saw him say there was not a bad look in his fact, and perhaps after all he was simply home, where a mother is waiting for him. The heart of the world beats from where a mother is waiting for him. The heart of the world beats from the tranger ont in the cold, even half, and indicretions. The press generally refers to the hand of men-tiverling through this country, what have here a mother is whose heres a tools and tranger, and it get, hard even the designified that here here a to the designified in the the moth or whose and tranger, and it get, hard even the star of here own, whose heart does not like its hardnows, and would have something here own, whose heart does not like its hardnows, and would have something here own, whose heart have always soft for those in allietion, have something here own, whose heart have the bardnows have here a for per-hone.

A Live Empire Program.

The Saturday night crowd will see something decidedly good at the Em-pire to night. A racing scene down in Mexico with a love story is extra, and it is a real race. A Leap for Life is a thriller, A cold storage egg makes a dardy picture and the Dector comedy can't be best, as a whole a program full of snup and interest.

Erownsville's Silver Cup.

The cup awarded the Brownsville Commercial Club for the best 20mmu-nity exhibit prepared by C. C. Cate, was seen at F. M. French's today. It was seen at F. M. French's today. It is a large, Beautifully constructed piece of solid silver, representing the $50 prize; but as a matter of fact is a $65 cup, and is something Brownsville may well be proud of. The engraving, a fine piece of work was done by J. M French.
