DOINGS OF THE WORLD

McMinville is talking pavement about time.
Postmaster Van Winkle returned last night from the development league convention at Salem, where he represented the Albany Commercial Club.
C. W. Tebault has returned from his eastern trip in the interest of the Linn County Colony Co., successful and satisfactory. The big orchard of the company is said to be secured.
Tom Thumb will again be married at Corvallis tonight, under the direction of Miss Dunkel. Instead of the old maid's convention there will be other features, living pictures, Giddle Girls, etc.
Prof. E. D. Resler, now of the O. A. C., will undoubtedly be asked to take the presidency of Monmouth normal school, the proper man for the place, one of Oregon's best educators.
B. J. Hecker, who has been in Denver for some time with seven or eight thousand Cotswold bucks, has sold all but a thousand, which he will soon have disposed of and will perhaps get home for Christmas.
Four millionaire cattle kings of Nebraska sentenced to a year in a county jail for fencing government land have begun their sentence. Living like princesses, with a Japanese chef, library, rich furniture, etc. It will be a long year just the same.

MISFITS.

Will Albany ever extend its city limits.
The new directory people are so taking a census of the city it will be interesting.
Three great failures to come back are being cited: Ted, Jeff and Bat.
It is said there have been some colossal grafts in the mouth of Columbia work.
These directories are great friends of a city. Portland's shows a population 265,000 people.
Portland hasn't been probed any in its census. The showing is a big one and a good one.
Once in awhile by accident a personal gets into this misfit column, though the column is never a personal one, just general.
The single tax people spent $15,484.72 to get certain measures before the people, all of which failed except the county tax bill.
J. J. Collins is having a good time for a few weeks with friends in Michigan, his former home state, while east on a business trip.
Albany people are not very anxious to have the official report of the census of this city, about 1400 less than a careful directory census makes it.
Out of the recommendations in one of Roosevelt's messages two were respected. Will Taft's coming message meet with that much favor.
The Democrat has made it a long-time practice not to take sides in the city election in the matter of candidates, and it has no candidates as a newspaper.
All-Northwest and other All-teams are being arranged by so-called experts. An All-Oregon high school team would have at least two Albany men on it, perhaps more.
This is Loud Sock Day among the public students. Those of the boys seen by the Democrat man were terrific, regular confagurations. None of the girls have been seen yet.
All the papers are saying "buy early," even Colliers has a strong editorial on it. This is not an advertisement for the stores, but it is good advice for the shopper as well.
John F. Smith, the head guy of the Mormons, is said to have an income of $2,000,000 exacted from his people, and to live with five wives regardless of the laws of his country. See Everybody's.
An Albany man who is around nights a good deal, says people would be surprised if they could see some of the flirtations carried on, and some by married people and church members. Foolish people.
The official name of the new owners of the Albany water and light plant, and many other plants in the valley has been definitely decided upon, and will hereafter be known as the Oregon Power Co.

A REAL TRAGEDY.

Burns, Or., Nov.—A terrible tragedy in which Arthur Fisher, an escaped convict from the Boise, Idaho penitentiary was killed and Dan W. Ackley, a guard from Boise, was mortally wounded, occurred this morning.
Fisher, who escaped from the Boise prison some four years ago, was captured by Sheriff Richardson in Burns last Friday. Guard Ackley arrived last night, identified Fisher as the escaped convict and was preparing at 5:30 this morning to take the stage for Vale.
Ackley and Sheriff Richardson were placing the Oregon boot on the prisoner, both stooping, with Fisher standing between them. Fisher reached over quickly and slipped Ackley's gun out of his pocket and fired at Sheriff Richardson's head, but missed.
Ackley grappled with the desperado, who shot him through the abdomen, but Ackley fought desperately and soon Sheriff Richardson got an opening and shot Fisher six times, killing him instantly.

AN OREGON MOONSHINER.

A genuine whiskey still passed through Albany yesterday afternoon being shipped to F. D. Dunne, of Portland. It had been captured by H. Schulberg, deputy revenue collector, successor of J. W. Hobbs, and assistant. The big brass kettle was set with a fire already to be lighted. The moonshiner was not captured, but he is known. It is said the still has been running for a couple of years near Lorraine, Lane county, the moonshiner selling his liquor and doing quite a business. It is also claimed there are others up in the hills.
Here is an opportunity for the moving picture people to put Oregon on the map with the Carolinas.

AUTO ROADS

Discussed by the Tangent Grange.
A very interesting and busy meeting of Tangent Grange was held here last Saturday.
One of the charter members, who has been away for a long time, was reinstated, so we now have three of the charter members with us. We now have thirteen young ladies and four young men in our grange with more to follow.
The question of bonding the county to build automobile roads was discussed at length, and we expect to take up that important question at the next meeting and see if we can decide to bond our county for $150,000 to build a road for the benefit of the automobile clubs, who proposed that law and feel highly elated because of its passage.
The farmers should be careful about voting such a large tax on themselves, when so many of them would receive such little benefit from the use of it.
The time of our next meeting will be fully occupied with degree work, besides a full set of officers elected. S.

TANGENT.

Nearly one half of the houses in Tangent are vacant, something very uncommon for our little town.
Ed. Mitchell is running his chopper and is well patronized.
W. J. Tisdale, long an employe of the S. P. Co. is now working at the carpenter trade here.
Rumor says L. B. Marsters will soon leave for Portland to engage in business.
R. J. Moses has bought a store at Beaverton near Portland, and has left the farm in charge of his two boys.

HOW LONG WILL OREGON STAND OUT.

The following from the Chicago Tribune, sent the Democrat from that city, is interesting:
Two years hence the women of the state of Washington will have the right to vote for president. They will no longer view with envy their sisters in Idaho, Colorado, Utah, and Wyoming. There is now a continuous belt of woman suffrage territory stretching from the western boundary of Nebraska to the shores of the Pacific.
While the equal suffragists won an easy victory in Washington, they were defeated in the neighboring state of Oregon. What was worse, the majority against them was greater than on previous occasions. There must be some good reason for this marked difference in sentiment, but it is not apparent at this distance. The citizens of both states have accepted with readiness new ideas and adopted new political methods. In many particulars Oregon has been the more advanced. It has succeeded through the initiative and referendum and in other ways in getting close to direct government by the people. It abolished government by the bosses for the "interests" several years ago, and the voters do not mean to let it be re-established. It may be that the men of Oregon, having shown their ability to manage affairs so well, do not think they need the services of the women. The progressives of Washington—the sweeping victory of Miles Pindexter shows how radically progressive they are—may believe the women would be valuable helpers.
How long will Oregon stand out? Woman suffrage states now bound it on the north and east, and they will undoubtedly exert considerable influence on their suburban neighbors. But while woman suffrage has gained ground in the northwest, it has met with repulse in the southwest. The constitutional convention of New Mexico has decided that men alone shall vote. Probably the equal suffragists will not be greatly disappointed. They could not have expected a victory there.

A GOOD ONE.

From the Medford Sun—
There is one system in vogue in this country that is most demoralizing to the dignity of the law and is undermining citizenship as fast as it can, which is that of persons having free license to commit all sorts of crimes unmolested until some private citizen lays an information against them, meanwhile the prosecuting attorneys and the police powers remaining inert.
It is different in Canada and Great Britain. There if a person commits a crime within the knowledge of the authorities, the police are on top of him with both feet in a minute. Such a system as depending upon citizens to swear out complaints for the commission of crimes is unheard of and would be looked upon with the utmost amazement. While it may be considered a citizen's duty to furnish such information he never is expected and seldom if ever asked to swear out complaints.
How different here! Any of the ordinary misdemeanors can be committed with the full knowledge of prosecuting attorneys and police authorities and if you mention it to them you will be told with surprising candor that they will prosecute if you swear out the complaint; otherwise not.
This system helps to make the laws a joke. It breeds contempt for them and is the same as saying to persons innocent of crime that there is no advantage in their being so.

Oregon Developed.

The development league convention will close today with the reelection of Theodore Wilcox as president and C. C. Chapman as secretary.
At yesterday's convention the speech of the day was by Howard Elliot, president of the Great Northern, who sounded a note of warning for the hill roads, in the matter of over land railroad regulation. One of the best talks as reported to have been that of Frank Morrison of Success. The convention has been a good one for Oregon.

A Editor Acquitted.

Editor Minshall, of the Philomath paper, was tried yesterday at Corvallis for libel, and was properly acquitted, the jury skiddooing in just 23 minutes.
A correspondent said some mean things about a man named Ballard, and Ballard tried to make the editor responsible for it. Judge McFadden appeared for Ballard and paid his respects to the Philomath editor, while J. K. Weatherford, of this city, look'd after Minshall, and decidedly effectively, according to the verdict of the jury.

PORTLAND'S POPULATION.

When the Democrat man steamed up the Columbia and Willamette into Portland, on the rocking steamer George W. Elder, in 1880, he struck a city of a little over 17,000 people according to the census just taken. East Portland was merely a sidehill, with unkempt streets, and the principal business of Portland was on Front, First and Second streets. The Oregonian was then the size of the Democrat, and continued to be for several years afterwards, printed in a type so small as to make one's eyes glimmer.
Just thirty years ago, the size of its growth is marvellous. Seattle's may be more so. It is sufficient that Portland stands out as a great achievement in municipal development. It has become one of the great cities of the United States, solid in its character, because backed by a great commonwealth, with inexhaustible resources.
Portland will continue to grow and some day it will be a city of a million people, and then more. How many?

WHAT IS MONEY FOR?

The life of the wealthy man is not in vain if he spends his money for the good of the world, but if it is a complete failure if he simply hoards it up in order to secure the name of immense wealth. Money is a great thing to have if it is used for the good of the world, but it is worthless if merely spent for selfish purposes. It is a sorry life at the end that has been spent just in the accumulation of money with nothing to show for it in the world. On the other hand it is a grand ending when the life has been spent and the money freely for the good of humanity. This is the Christ life and it commands itself to the world what ever one's personal belief. The evil man is to be blamed on the life of Michael Gasky, who has just died, should not be blamed for the amount of money he left, but for what he spent for others, and the good deeds of his life.

WHEN DOWN IN THE MOUTH

When down in the mouth, be careful of what you say. When in a bad mood, do not let your words be as bitter as your feelings. When you are angry, do not let your tongue be as sharp as your anger. When you are sad, do not let your face be as gloomy as your heart. When you are tired, do not let your eyes be as heavy as your head. When you are hungry, do not let your stomach be as loud as your mouth. When you are hot, do not let your face be as red as your cheeks. When you are cold, do not let your hands be as blue as your fingers. When you are thirsty, do not let your throat be as dry as your lips. When you are lonely, do not let your heart be as empty as your house. When you are alone, do not let your soul be as lost as your mind. When you are in trouble, do not let your faith be as weak as your knees. When you are in danger, do not let your courage be as small as your voice. When you are in pain, do not let your patience be as thin as your skin. When you are in sorrow, do not let your tears be as bitter as your heart. When you are in grief, do not let your heart be as heavy as your head. When you are in despair, do not let your hope be as small as your faith. When you are in doubt, do not let your belief be as weak as your knees. When you are in fear, do not let your courage be as small as your voice. When you are in shame, do not let your pride be as high as your head. When you are in disgrace, do not let your honor be as small as your faith.
