At Right Angles to the Kailroads.

The following was passed by the grange at Sweet Home:
Resolved:—lat, That we are unalterably opposed to the bonding of Linn county to build a state highway parallel to the Oregon and California railroad.

Idaho 2nd, That with an open river, the Oregon and California R. R., and the coming of the Oregon Electric, a highway is not at this time needed.

3rd, That we are opposed to the creation of a high salaried road commissioner.

missioner.

4th, That we favor the building of 4th, That we favor the building of the Williamette River, the Oregon and California and the Oregon Electric roads, such highways to lead to convenient trading centers.

5th, That we favor the permanent improvement of all our highways and to this end would favor a special road tax of 4 mills by our County Court.

MABEL WATKINS, Sec.

The worst weather of the year.

This snow is covering up roses and violets.

By having the bad we appreciate the good weather.

The fight down at Salem seems to be principally one for patronage

The first two days of the house of representatives of Oregon was opened without prayer according to custom, but a minister has been secured and hereafter the old custom will prevail. It is already apparent this house needs it.

This is tough weather on the boys who have to carry papers; but the patrons want them and are entitled to them, regardless of the weather. Take it the year tound, though, and this valley has very few days that stop the bicycle.

Without Lights and Power

People some times kick at the electric

People some times kick at the electric light service, but when they are out of the juice it is a different thing. This is from the Eugene Guard:

The abort-circuiting of wires on a switch board in the electric plant at Springfield as a result of the rain storm finding the temporary covering of the workmen, who are rebuiding the plant, insufficient, caused Eugene and Springfield to he left in darkness for a couple of hours last night, with the street cars and for a time the telenhone service out of commission. Many people went to bed in the dark after waiting an hour or so for the "gilm" to reappear. A number of Eugene people were held up in Springfield until almost 12 o'clock, when the light and power were finally restored, and one car load of people were stranded on the high create west of Springfield over two hours. A number were in the moving picture show at Springfield, but others were outside in the cold, already having waited for almost an hour for the street car. An effort was made by several to secure automobiles from Rugene, but when they first phoned to this city they were told that the phones were dependent upon the light current for their ringing power, and it was impossible to call any one. any one.

A Dentist Arrested

Journal:

Judge Wolverton today granted the application of Dr. E. N. North, a Toledo dentist, for a new trial on the charge of sending indecent matter through the United States mails. North was tried and found guilty of sending a letter threatening Judge McGrath, a New Mexico magistrate. A letter written by him to a man in Salem was introduced in the trial for comparison with the letter received by McGrath. The court held this was not properly in evidence. The government has telegraphed Judge McGrath to return to Portland to testify against North at a hearing set for next Monday,

Grace Cameron Coming.

One of the most important of this season's theatrical events will occur on Monday, Jan. 16, when Mr. C. H. Kerr will ofter his 4 act comedy succes "Nancy" with the original Grace Cameron in the title role.

It is a pleasure to the theatre goers to have Miss Cameron with us and there is no doubt that a packed boxes.

is no doubt that a packed house will greet this well known star and her clever company.

After Eugene's Mill Race.

An effort has been begun in Eugene to kill the picturesque mill race, running through the city, by diverting the water from it, leaving it a dry and parren place. The result is a city up in arms. What would Eugene be without that mill race, wherein the bathers port, wherein the canoeists paddle and make love, whereon the boys and girls sit and dangle their teet. It is a beau iful spot and whoever attempts to destroy it should be shot on the spot.

A Peanut Man Arrested.

Richard Watson, a peanut butcher on the S.P. was arrested at Roseburg on the charge of selling an obscene publi-nation called Golden Nuggets to a little girl. A spotter also secured one and thus had a strong case ago of t Watson. Watson escaped and boarded a trans, su was recaptured and taken back. Send him up. The seller of these obscene publications is about the limit.

Henry Laurie, whose wife asked that he be compelled to give bonds to keep the peace, was tried before Justice forter yesterday afternoon on a charge of venue from Justice Swan's court, and was discharged.
