On invitation of the First Presbyterian church, Mr. Violet will speak on Journeys in the Holy Land at their Vesper service at 5 p. m. The attendance has been increasing through out the week, ten persons have been added to the membership of the church and the prospect for a most excellent meeting is very bright. The Albany Christian church is pleased with the work of Evangelist Violet and cordially invites the public to hear him in his nightly meetings which will continue until further notice.

MISFITS.

Several weeks without a word from Col. Roosevelt.

The noiseless soup spoon has not yet reached Albany.

The hobble skirt is doomed; but what about the wearers.

Don't crow yet, we may have a smell of the eastern weather.

Christian Scientists say they will continue to edify the people.

The jingo war talk is a national nuisance that should be stopped.

An eastern woman has given a birthday party for a pet dog. Save the pieces of foolishness.

A writer says that if Mr. Bryan really wishes the democratic party to win he should leave it alone.

The fool ship subsidy bill will be up again, the greatest graft scheme of the age. It will as usual be chopped to pieces.

The hen is being boasted in the papers, a little worker that keeps everlastingly at it, and gets it in the neck if she doesn't.

Washington is going to show Oregon women how to get their rights. With Mrs. Dunnway heading the movement suffrage will never be secured in this state.

Benton's School Census.

The school census of Benton county shows 3232, an increase of only 76. That of the Corvallis district is 1149, a decrease of 56 during the year, not a very good showing. Philomath shows the most gain, 49. There are 86 in North Albany, a decrease of 1. 32 districts gained and 22 lost.

DOWIE'S DREAM COME TRUE

To most of the American people today John Alexander Dowie is but a memory. The world at large was forced for a time at least to acknowledge his transcendent commercial genius. The establishment of Zion City, the immigration to it of followers from all over the civilized world, the founding of the lace industries and other enterprises of magnitude; in that colony, the blending of civil and religious authority in a way which recalled the patriarchal days of old—all stamped Elijah the Second, as Dowie called himself, as a man born once in a century.

Dowie possessed the rare power of converting his visions into realities. In that industrial Utopia which he established, there stands a great monument to his memory. For in establishing the Zion Lace Industries, Dowie gave to this country a new industry.

As late as 1900 this beautiful product was considered a monopoly of the historic lace centers of Europe.

Today the plant is one of the largest and most interesting textile industries in America.

A wonderful development has taken place in this factory during the past three years. It has been thoroughly reorganized. Out of chaos has been made the most efficient plant of its kind.

The plant covers nearly five acres. It is 586 feet long and 284 feet wide, two and three stories high; now employs about 700 people, and during the past three years has operated all machines 18 hours daily, except Saturday, when the factory is closed at 1 p. m. for a weekly half holiday.

The rapid growth of the Zion Lace Industries has not equalled the remarkable increase of the demand. The product is constantly oversold.

The Zion Lace Industries is today the life of the city of 5,000 inhabitants. Many of its most intelligent wage-earners are toiling with the satisfaction of knowing they still have a chance to get back in that way, at least a comfortable existence in return for the fortunes they have lost.

So even if the founder's work may be said to have been unfinished, even though he was crushed out of the minds of the people, a great reality has resulted from his dreams.
