News From Albany's Six Early Trains.

J. E. Hulbert, R. K. Ohling and E. F. Sox left for Portland to attend the state convention of hardware men, an important one. About two hundred will be in attendance, considering one of the greatest businesses of the state.

Superintendent Briggs and E. A. Johnson went to Salem in the interest of a special bill remunerating teachers of the defunct normal schools, under the old contracts, a case calling for a square deal on the part of the state.

Cecil Cathey returned from Corvallis, where he received orders for a couple of the McCloskey bookkeeping systems, a modern institution that is meeting with a good deal of favor. There are six of them in Albany and every city has the new system.

J. B. Coughle returned to Lebanon, to finish the work on the finest church in Linn county. A picture in a Portland paper mentioned it as a $25,000 church, which is said to be the value, but the cost has been about $17,000. The time for dedication has not yet been set.

Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie, of the Merry Makers, returned to Salem. Ex-Sheriff Dave Osborn, of Corvallis, went to Portland.

January's Bargain Climax.

Business has been good with us this month and we shall usher out January 1911, with a Grand Bargain Climax. We expect to make the last week of our sixth annual clearance sale the largest in sales of the month. We will do this by showing the price down still further. Our Clearance Sale success has created many small lots that will be closed out at once, at prices that represent only a very small part of the real value.

The last week of this great annual sale will be rich in phenomenal bargain giving. If you are going to buy a suit, this week is your last chance to buy one that is right up to the minute in style at about half price.

CHAMBERS & McCUNE

A Greek Fight.

A couple of Greeks, out near the depot, had a fight yesterday. One of them was seriously injured, and a policeman had to see that the other fellow was taken to the hospital. The other fellow saw that the policeman took a regular walk and a speed out toward, out of sight.

Country Dance.—At 8:30, 10 Grange hall, Friday, Jan. 27. Come one come all, both short and tall. A good time assured to all. $1.00 per number, including supper.

Jas. A. Hoag is building a henery on the property at Ellsworth and Water streets, where his son will make a specialty of barred Plymouth Rocks, one of the best all-rounds birds.

This paroling system sounds big on paper; but there are two sides to it. One fellow paroled at Portland by Judge McCune, was arrested three times afterwards in quick succession and is now wanted in California for a felony.

The Johnson Jeffries moving pictures were shown in Salem three nights including Sunday, without objection by the people or police, men and women packing the theater, and the state legislature was in session, and the supreme court doing business at the old stand.

A San Francisco woman, married at the time, sued for breach of promise a man who had agreed to marry her when she already had a husband, continuing in divorce, which was obtained. She properly could not recover. The court declaring it against public policy.

MAY HAVE

TWO ELEC-TRIC ROADS.

The extension of the Oregon Electric to Albany this year is assured. Preparations are being made for its coming. Mr. Stevens, though, first will select the survey, one of three. At the same time Corvallis is making an effort to have the road go to Eugene by way of that city, and the Times-Gazette says the commercial club has appointed a special committee, consisting of Judge McCadden, Judge Woodcock, Senator A. J. Johnson, W. F. Groves, A. P. Johnson, W. P. Morgan, B. W. Johnson, John F. Allen and Victor Moses to see the Hill people and convince them that the distance can be shortened thirty miles between Portland and Eugene by taking the west side. It behooves the east side to be good and treat the Oregon Electric fairly in the matter of rights of way. It is too big a thing to monkey with.

Now comes the Salem Junction and states that the other road, the Portland, Eugene and Eastern, will also be extended this year, commencing construction work in the summer, and that the Washington Oregon Corporation is back of it, and will finance it. According to this report Albany, Eugene and Salem, in which the Company now has systems in operation, will be connected. As Albany is between the two places whichever way the road builds this city will get an advantage early. The company already has a franchise here and hence that part of it is attended to.

Died

George Shepherd died at his home near Halsey last night, at the age of 50 years. He was a native of Linn county, and leaves a wife and three children. He was a man of excellent character. Geo. B. Cummings of this city, was a cousin.

Marion Ross died at Halsey this morning at the age of 10 years. He was a bright little fellow whose death will be generally regretted. He was a nephew of Mrs. David F. Oman, of this city, who went to Halsey this afternoon to attend the funeral.

Ella F. Hedrick, wife of R. T. Hedrick, mother of Alice F. and Albert A. Hedrick, formerly of Albany, died in Oakland, California, at the home of her son, Albert A. Hedrick, January 22. Mrs. Hedrick's remains are being sent here for burial. Interment will take place in the family lot, Masonic cemetery, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with services at the grave. Friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

The Climax

By Edward Locke, will be offered by a splendid company at the opera house on Thursday night. This play tells an interesting story in three powerful acts. The company is one that is made up from the best talent of New York. Here is what the big papers say of it: "Joseph Weber found a Gem of Purest Serene when he discovered 'The Climax.'"—N. Y. Times.

"Such a Dramatic Atmosphere is a Positive Relief."—N. Y. Telegraph. "An unusual Play with Music that is effective."—N. Y. Sun. "A Genuine and Novel Treat."—N. Y. World.

Richard Harding Davis.

Wrote The Romance of Hefty Burek, which is produced by the Edison Co. in superb style. The principal interest in this picture will be the different types of individuals which are all characteristic of the water front of New York. He Who Laughs Last—a peerless Vitagraph comedy of high class. Beautiful Scenic Natures and Views, Eclipse film, noted for their beautiful scenic effects. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

MANAGER DREAMLAND.

Where is Kemp.

G. W. Kemp is wanted in Portland. He is under $500 bonds there on the charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes, in sending fake orders for nursery stock. When his case was called he failed to appear, which made his bondsman reliable, but he claims that Kemp committed suicide, a man of his description being seen to jump into the river at Portland. Kemp is said to have canvassed for the Albany Nurseries under the name of Campbell. Is he dead or run away.

Illinois Farmers

The census report shows less farm acreage in Illinois now than ten years ago. The average per farm is 129 acres, average value of land and buildings $108.13, against $53.84 ten years ago. 88,767 owners are free and 65,697 are mortgaged. There are 13,234 less farmers in the state than ten years ago, a suggestive fact.

The Weather.

A little cool this morning but the day has been a good one. The river has been falling and is down to 8 feet.

The prediction is: rain tonight and Wednesday. Some people are predicting another cold snap because of eastern weather; but it is guess work.

The Co. F. basket ball team, of Hordage, Wis., which won the championship at Chicago last year, is soon to be in Oregon, and will play the Dallas team and U. O. among others. Two years ago Dallas beat the Portage team 1-0 in their own floor. On this trip Portage has won 31 out of 25 games played.
