NOUSE to discard the frayed

petticoat

Make it into a new one with the Gilberta Flounce. It is simply the flounce part of the skirt with a drawstring at the top making it easy to attach to any foundation. Every woman has some petticoat that she has laid aside because of the frayed flounce. Make them over now and have a new one out of the old. Sew them on by hand or with the machine. They are easily attached.

MAKE YOUR NEW PETTICOAT WITH THE GILBERTA FLOUNCE.

The foundation can be made without much trouble; the Gilberta Flounce does the rest and makes it like a boughten garment. They will be on display in our window for a few days. Shown only in Black or Heatherbloom, Sateen and Silk. The price is fifty cents to two dollars and a half. On sale on the second floor.

THIS MORNING MODERN

News from Albany's Six Early Trains

Rev. F. H. Geselbracht went to Portland to hear Rev. John Balcom Shaw, of Chicago, one of the ablest men in the church. Rev. Shaw will speak several times in the First Presbyterion church at Portland, giving a series of meetings, drawing large crowds.

It was ladies night last night at the Elks Temple, and a large number were present. During the first part of the evening a program was rendered, full of interest. Misses Carret and Blackwell, of the high school gave some delightful readings. Miss Ireland was heard in a vocal aolo that pleased all, Miss Emma Sox's piano solo met with favor, H. K. Lugger captured the house with a song, "Dreamy Eyes." Graudpa Crawford and F. J. Devine were called upon for some bachelor speeches, both golden affairs, because silent; Fred Dawson spoke on Japanese Ladies. C. H. Burggraff preserted a monologue with effect.

Dancing and cards followed, with music by Wilson's orchestra and a fine menu of refreshments was served.

Letter List.

Help the Park.

There have been so many complimentary remarks made about the depot park that the Womens Civic Club are very much encouraged and are going about raising the necessary funds with renewed enthusiasm. Tomorrow afternoon at the of Mrs. Will Pfeiffer there will be a Tea and aside from being a philanthropic affair, it is the desire of the Woman's Club to make it a social feature of the town. What is a more delightful way to spend an afternoon than to meet friends, listen to delightful music and partake of delicious refreshments served in the daintiest manner. Twenty-five cents is asked and ever woman in town is invited. Between the hours of five and six the men are urged to drop in.

TO-NIGHT.

Richard Jose in Silver Threads.

"Silver Threads" which comes to Albany tonight is a simple story beautifully but plainly told in four interesting acts, and in its construction the people of a small New England community are shown as they really are. It overflows with shrewd humor, which relieves at intervals the more serious vein which depicts native pride and dignity, pathos and tenderness, telling in succession a true tale of happiness and suffering.

Sacred hymns appealing to the hearts of all are woven into the story,
