SIGNIFICANT INTERVIEWS.

Puyallup Citizens Say Paved Streets Helped their City Most in 1910.

Cause for Congratulation in the Particular Kind of Hard Surface Used.

Here is substantial encouragement for that class of enterprising citizens in this city who believe that bitulithic streets make the best, quickest and most effective vehicle upon which any town or city may ride into "fast growth" and "prosperity," extracts taken from Puyallup staff correspondence in the Tacoma Ledger of February 20th:

"During 1910 this city showed more material progress than during any preceding year in its history, developing from a country town into a thriving city."

"What one thing benefited Puyallup most in 1910 and what would benefit it most in 1911?" was the question asked of a number of prominent Puyallup citizens by the Ledger. They were asked to answer in 25 words and the answers were many and varied.

"Among those of interest are the following:

"Senator W. K. Paulhamus—It will not require 25 words to cover my answer. The six miles of paved streets is the answer to the first question and more miles of paved streets is the answer to the second."

"J. P. Leavitt—Street work in answer to the first question and a reduction in the Tacoma-Puyallup fare and better service in answer to the second."

"W. R. Scott—In my opinion the many miles of new bitulithic street paving and cement walks were the greatest benefit to Puyallup in 1910. The one thing that would benefit it the most in 1911 would be a reduction of the car fare on the Tacoma-Puyallup lines."

"Dr. S. D. Barry—The greatest good of 1910 was the improvement of the streets."

"G. A. Eastbrook—The improvement of the city streets did more for Puyallup than any other thing in 1910. A continuation of the same would benefit it most in 1911."

"Streeter Beall—The city council through its efforts toward paving the streets helped Puyallup more than any other one thing in 1910. I think perhaps the commercial club will benefit it the most in 1911."

"A. Clarke—The street paving benefited us most in 1910."

"Prof. E. B. Walker—I believe the street improvement work benefited Puyallup most in 1910."

"Thomas Farrell—Street paving and substantial buildings benefited Puyallup the greatest in 1910. A "stand together" spirit among the citizens would benefit it the greatest in 1911."

"John Mills—The street paving surely helped Puyallup the most in 1910."

"Clarence Utterback—The street paving benefited this city the greatest in 1910."

"H. A. Holmes—The street paving benefited the greatest in 1910."

"Ed. K. Watts—Street improvement benefited this city most in 1910. Nothing could be more beneficial during 1911 than a continuation along these same lines."

"Judge O. A. Boynton—The five miles of street pavements certainly benefited us most during 1910."

"S. P. Gray—The street paving benefited this city the most in 1910."

"C. H. Johnson—The street paving benefited this city the most in 1910. More paving would benefit it most in 1911."

SEATTLE'S RECALL.

By G. A. Hill, a Former Albany Man.

A Seattle Man's Dream:—One winter night when floods of rain down from the clouds were streaming.

While slumbering in my quiet home I learned strange things while dreaming.

Saw men of every walk of life, in earnest, one and all.

For son or daughter, sister, wife;—and heard them say, "Recall."

Anon the explanation came: Our mayor was the cause.

Complaints were made that he ignored his pledges and the laws. "Emergency" was in the air; election day was named.

"Recall the mayor" was the word; and so it was proclaimed.

The mayor found a host of friends who came to his support.

With "bluffs," and pleas for sympathy, and as a last resort.

Asked of the courts that they enjoin execution of the will.

Of those who wished to have no more of Mayor Hiram Gill.

But all in vain. The courts declined to meddle in the fray.

we should not refuse him." Saw cunning "Maques" with oily tongues and well laid schemes.

The young and unsophisticated men to enter dens of vice.

Saw men whose minds, by age were weak, allured to "joints" of wronz. Made drunk with wine, robbed of their wealth and then regaled with song.

Saw bright young men led to disgrace, their brains in "rum holes" steeping. While gray-haired mothers far away were all alone and weeping.

Saw painted women, flushed with "grog," the Gill procession filling. While decent ones were "all agog" and in the line for Dilling.

Then witches who had "strangled babes" before me danced and whirled.

Saying "Vice prevails, and love is dead, and God forsakes the world."

My heart throbs ceased. I feared 'twas true. But then a gleam of light.

And then a gentle whisper came: "All things are coming right."

"My name is Virtue—I prevail;—the 'people,' my resort.

"Will safely guide the ship of state and land her in the port."

"Upon your mast place Gill and Graft, if conscience makes you willing."

"The label on my sturdy craft is Decency and Dilling."

Feb. 8—The dream is past;—my waking hours are greeted with delight.

The prophecy announced before:— "All things are coming right."

Was verified on yesterday;—and now before me rolls.

An ocean of corruption's wreck, fast ebbing from the polls.

I read the words in letters bright, on banners clean unfurled.

That God is in a magic flight returning to the world.

All hail the "P. I." and the "Star"; They made a gallant fight.

To crush debauchery and vice, and place our city right.

And now, throughout the nation, sounds the truth just as I dreamed.

"The people rose in sovereignty." "The city is redeemed."

Now take the helm and guide the ship correctly Mr. Dilling.

Lest "recall" be again invoked,—and then,—another killing.

(FRIDAY.)

Basket Ball.

Tonight at 7:30 p. m. at the college a game of basket ball will be played between the Albany Stars and the Albany Rogulars. It will be a hard fought contest between the two teams for championship.

The line-up is as follows, Albany Stars.—Clean and Fortmiller forwards, Archibald, center, Bain and Laimenger guards.

Albany Rogulars. Simons and Tucker, forwards, Douglas, center, Green and Weider, guards.

Although the Albany Rogulars are heavier than the Albany Stars, the latter will put up a hard fight. The Albany Stars have played together for three years, and have not lost a game.

The last game with the Senators, the Albany Stars won by a score of 10 to 0. Admission free tonight.

Same Team Twenty Years

Big Bill Walker was in the city yesterday afternoon driving his frisky team, and therein lies this story.

Walker has driven the same team for just twenty years to a day, and during the time neither horse has been sick, and they have worked together through thick and thin.

One of them is 25 and the other 22, and they are chuck full of life yet.

"See how they can go," said Bill, as he started for home down Second street at a live gait that would have made a five year old team hustle to keep up with them.

Burkhart took a picture of the team, with Bill hold of the lines. Is there any other Linn county team that has been driven twenty years by the same man.

Was Drowned.

Toledo, Or., Feb. 16.—Roy Butterfield, the present mail carrier between Siletz and Kernville, last night found the mail pouch which was lost when Mail Carrier Guy Chapman disappeared some two months ago.

The pouch was lying in the river near where the boat, which Chapman was using, was found. The letter mail was in thorough order and most of it is legible and can be delivered.

Guy Chapman, while carrying the mail about two months ago, suddenly disappeared and has never been located and as the pouch which has just been found contained valuable registered mail, many thought he had robbed the pouch and left the country, but the finding of the pouch proves beyond doubt that he was drowned in the river.

A Trip Through the Yellowstone Park.

Through the courtesy of Major C. B. Winn, and the Northern Pacific Railroad, Albany College invites the citizens of Albany to a trip through Yellowstone Park Saturday evening at the Presbyterian church. Mr. Winn will describe the beautiful stereoscopic views and tell about his trip through the park last summer.

The Weather.

Range of temperature was 52-32. The rainfall was slight, .04 inch. The river has been falling and is only 5.6 feet.

SATURDAY NIGHT' THOUGHTS.

The Oregon state legislature completed its forty days' session this week, and the principal thing done has been to make appropriations for an excess of anything in past years.

Many bills have been passed of different kinds, mostly changing former laws, tinkering with the salaries of county officers or creating new commissions and officers.

A state must progress and as it does so, must increase its appropriations, but it should not double up annually, and should keep within bounds.

The session has been characterized by men getting even for political credits and debts, much trading, back scratching and quibbling.

The news given that the Oregon Power Co. is preparing to put in an up-to-date filtration plant is good news to Albany people.

The water is filtered, now; but it is not complete. Under the new arrangement it is not only filtered, but as well purified.

The plant will be the most complete for the purpose manufactured, one costing a good deal of money to institute.

The water from the Santiam has always been found pure when analysed; but it is not always clean.

This will keep it pure and make it absolutely clean at all times, rain or shine.

The Oregon legislature might have turned several things down in preference to the bill providing for a building for the Oregon Historical Society.

This society has gotten together a splendid lot of very valuable matter in connection with the history of the state, and it needs to be in a building absolutely safe, insuring its protection.

It is essentially a state affair, one in which the people of Oregon justly take a pride. The history of Oregon is alive with vital records, and we do well to help perpetuate and keep safe the evidences of the development of a great commonwealth.

Col. Roosevelt on his coming western trip will at different places speak on civic righteousness. This is a great subject and one that deserves being considered.

Roosevelt will handle it in a manner that will make it one of today. The papers are telling about how the Col. has been completely eclipsed; but so long as he lives he is a man who will be heard from in some form.

When he speaks it will be for progress along moral lines as well as along political lines. Roosevelt makes a good many blunders, and doesn't always hew to the line, but in the main he represents a high standard of citizenship.

LEGISLATURE

The house yesterday passed Rusk's second choice bill, one that will eliminate a plurality of nominations. It is said it will pass the senate.

The bills appropriating over $503,000 for the U. O. have passed both houses and await the signature of the Governor.

A bill protecting Chinese pheasants for two years will probably be passed before the legislature adjourns.

Good roads legislation continues to be incomplete. Yesterday the senate tabled the substitute bill of the house, providing for a state highway board, and last night there was a conference between Judge Webster, representatives of the Grange, and others, but nothing agreed upon.

The apportionment bill is not yet through. Under it Linn county will get one senator and only two representatives.

Before adjourning it is proposed to make a big appropriation for another state building at Salem, one for the library, R. R. Com., attorney general, and supreme court.

Another wack was taken at Jonathan Bourne by the assembly, a minority report declaring that you can not examine his private record without a clothespin on your nose or rubber gloves on your hands.

$1,322,468 69 is asked for the maintenance of state institutions at Salem and will be granted.

Last night the house ordered $9,000 appropriated for street improvements at Corvallis for the O. A. C., one creating the Oregon Naval Militia and for a chaplain for the penitentiary and reformatory school.

SATURDAY.

The Eldridge Entertainment.

A good sized audience at the United Presbyterian church last night enjoyed the entertainment of Gilbert A. Eldridge. He is an impersonator of versatile genius, covering a wide range of effort, beginning with Shylock and ending with David Harum.

The Sister's school will open again on Monday. The weather prediction is fair tonight and Sunday.

The sprinkler was running today, newly painted. The annual inspection of G. Co. will be held March 7, the first in the new armory.

Tom Psychogee, who recently recently from Greece, has bought the business of Grant Butcher, at Bruce & Anderson's and is now porter there, a very competent man and polished boot black.

The Electric Light Co. have just completed the installing of the arc lights for the system, covering 51 arc lights and two 50 candle power incandescents, the latter not yet in, making the city well lighted.

The lamps have been well distributed. A dispatch from Sergeant Will Bond, of Ft. Crook, Neb., stated that he would leave at once for Albany to attend the funeral of his mother, the time for which will be set when it is known on what train he will arrive, probably Tuesday forenoon.

The Albany Stars last night defeated the regulars 26 to 13, at the college gym. At the end of the first half the regulars were ahead, but the youngsters of the Stars then pulled themselves together and played like a Nebraska cyclone.

Prof. Sam Dolan and Scott Hart of the O. A. C. arrived yesterday afternoon, from Corvallis, several hours late by reason of a wreck on a trestle at the west side junction. The track was torn up and the cars thrown off the trestle.

Some of the passengers thought their time had come and the rush for the doors was a fast one.

Albany College invites everybody in Albany to take a trip through Yellowstone Park tonight. Over a hundred finely-colored views will be shown.

They will be described by Major C. B. Winn who recently traveled through the park. The trip is entirely free to everyone who comes to the First Presbyterian church tonight at eight o'clock.

The total roll calls for $422,837.02, as follows: State, county and school $249,697.74, regular road $42,491.44, special road $23,772.89, special school $62,274.56, cities $48,400.39.

News from Albans Six Early Trains.

W. A. Ewing, of Scio, returned from a trip to Los Angeles and reported a pleasant time. It was estimated that about one thousand tourists arrived there daily. The weather was fine. The annual rainfall is 12 inches, and this had already been reached.

Rev. W. P. White went to Portland, where tomorrow he will preach the opening sermon in the new third United Presbyterian church, of which Rev. John Achison, formerly of this city is pastor. A fourth church is to be organized at Portland the coming year.

President Kerr and Dr. Withycombe, went to Salem for the last day of the legislature, a fight to the finish for needed appropriation for the buildings and maintenance.

Wm. Ritchie, of the Western Land Co. went to Portland on real estate business. W. F. Howard went to Lebanon. Father Butler, of Spokane, returned from Corvallis, his former pastorate. J. Otto Lee left for Portland on a short business trip.

Prof. Wilson went to Salem. Rev. I. G. Knotts went to Crawfordsville to hold services tomorrow.

Floyd South left on a Portland trip. Prof. Hargrove returned to Portland. Mrs. W. H. Mattoon, of Escatada, returned home after a visit at J. O. Brown's. Mr. Mattison, who is one of the county commissioners of Clackamas county, was also here the first of the week.

MISFITS.

The legislature will end up in a blaze of extravagance. The Legislature is almost over, and not a cent for Long Tom. Bridges at Corvallis and Harrisburg this year. Do you guess it. Our public and high schools are the ones that deserve the big slices.

Russia had better leave China alone. The worm may turn and eat her up. Any way we are progressing. Our taxes are increasing faster than our population.

Oregon would have been just as well off if the present legislature had not met. Borah says the north uses the negro as a political foot ball, and he should be protected.

A Walla Walla man is heir to part of $25,000,000. Would hate to give him 25c for his share of the estate.

A legislative session is a great game to secure the money of the people, and as much of it as they will stand.

Does Bowerman know he has been set down on. Is it said he never found out he was whipped for governor.

Some one suggests that a hand-car be used for a street car on the Albany line, one that Eugene has worn out.

Another war cloud is on the horizon. Russia is talking about whipping China. Better remember the story of the Japs.

A new law in Massachusetts requires skirts to be at least six inches below the patella, creating a demand for dictionaries.

The legislature has no right to interfere with anything the people themselves voted. That's their business. Let them do the repealing.

The legislature has rubbed it into the tax payer good and hard. The old games of trade and back scratching have been carried out to the limit.

A sample of the election of a U. S. senator by a state legislature is being given in Colorado as well as in New York, a system that ties up an entire legislative session.

The franchise of the street railway company on all the streets except Lyon and First will expire in June and the Company had better be good and not foist upon Albany old cast off street cars.

If nose pins are to be used when Bourne's private record is mentioned it will take a big supply for some of the members of the state legislature who have done nothing during the session but What's Bourne.
