Bulletin.—Att'y Swan was up from Albany on professional business Wednesday.

Another son graces the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McCart. This is the eleventh child. Congratulations.

E. E. Upmeyer is home from Eugene where he is taking treatment for an infection of the jaw, a complaint that has been under the surgeons' knife but continues to annoy him.

Bob White is at home once more in Albany. He feels on easy street since he rented his farm. Talks of going to Madras to help his nephew, Silas White, build a house on his farm.

Fred Blumberg is again able to be at the store. He is feeling fine and says he never was so glad in his life to shake hands with the people as he is since his confinement at home.

Death has again visited this community, this time calling home Lulu Grace Cunningham the beloved wife of Grant Cunningham. The sad ending came early Tuesday morning, after some weeks of illness which had confined her to her bed.

Important Notice.

Mr. Carl Replogle, expert demonstrator of the Richmond Electric Vacuum Cleaner, is in town and will make free demonstrations of the "Richmond" upon application.

This wonderful household machine must be seen to be appreciated, as no amount of circulars, etc., can set forth its money saving, labor saving and sanitary merits. Its low cost has made it possible for every one in the land to have vacuum cleaning every day. Investigate, it will cost you nothing. Phone for free trial in your home. Both phones 25. MISFITS.

4229 newspapers died last year. Ugh!

The people should vote on the state printer's bill.

The referendum needs polishing up. It will be needed.

Some of the members of the legislature have been spotted.

The mule may be a kicker, but there are worse ones at the Hub.

A collar button has been invented that will stop just where dropped. Bring it on.

The most extravagant legislature in the history of Oregon. What will the people do about it.

The Czar has made a universal peace pronouncement. Better begin at home and not monkey with China.

An exchange says more men are made good by their wives than are born that way. What about the other side of it.

The Dutchess of Albany, wife of Prince Leopold, was 59 years old yesterday. The name suggests a fine woman deserving the attention of the world.

Albany did well to get in on the ground floor on the armory proposition. The legislature cut the appropriation asked in two, and hereafter the city getting an armory will have to hustle for it.

The Brownsville Times is very properly demanding a man for mayor who has made a success of his own business. This ought to be the demand in reference to councilmen and officials of all kinds.

About the only appropriations Speaker Ross has wanted to prune have been Western Oregon bills. The Eastern Oregon appropriations are all right. As a matter of fact though, E. O. doesn't get very much.

Some Albany Layers.

The Homestead.—Hart & Dannais, the well-known poultry breeders of Albany, Oregon, do not keep a large number of birds but have made a name for their Barred Rocks as record layers that are known all over the country. They have not lost track of the fine feathers but most of their development has been along the line of breeding for eggs. They have succeeded in getting a strain that are almost without exception good layers. In one of their pens this year they have a cockerel whose mother has a record of 227 eggs in one year and he is mated with pullets from a 244-egg hen and their sire is from a 238 egg hen. Should not this mating produce some fine layers?

Interested in Albany.

An Oklahoma man writes the Commercial club: You have a wonderful country. Correct, but how did he find it out. Perhaps he was here, the best way to know for sure. This valley does not fear inspection. On the contrary courts it. The best way is to come and see for yourself.

An Indiana man writes that he was greatly pleased with the Albany booklet, one that speaks for this section.

Carrying Lamps from Room to Room Is Dangerous

The kerosene lamp has a long list of accidents to its discredit.

It is so easy to trip and fall while carrying a lighted lamp—then fire and personal injury.

Electric light is so much safer. The pressing of a button gives you plenty of light in any room at any time.

Telephone 15 and ask for figures on wiring your home—you will find it reasonable.
