WHITE FAIR

AND GRAND SPRING EMBROIDERY SHOW

Friday, Feb. 24th to Saturday Mar. 4th

Right out of the dead of winter to the glorious spirit of Springtime, with the windows and interior of the Big Daylight Store all decorated in white in honor of the first announcement of Spring.

Great Showing of New Embroideries. Handsome Patterns.

Such rare beauty, such vast assortments, such wonderful low prices—never a showing of Embroideries to equal this, has ever been made in Albany. Thousands of yards imported direct by us from the best looms of Switzerland. Embroideries of every imaginable pattern, width and kind—dainty Swiss and Nainsook Baby Sets, Flouncings of Swiss and Nainsook, Match Sets for Undermuslins. Also the more elaborate effects in wide Bands and Flouncings especially for Dresses. Even if you have no thought of buying it will do you good to see this beautiful White Show.

First Authoritative Presentation New Spring Suits.

REPUTATION is never bought, but is earned. We have earned the reputation of always showing the newest and best in Wearables and of exhibiting them first. This is the only Store in the Willamette Valley employing a New York Residence Buyer. This Spring our collection of style specimens overshadows any previous display we have ever brought before the shopping community in smartness of styles, beauty of materials and moderateness of prices. Immaculate Designing is demonstrated by the supremely tailored Suits the Leading Cloak and Suit Store bids you to inspect. The models represent true art, executed by master designers. They are not only attractive in appearance, but dependable for service and moderate in price.

MILLINERY INSPIRATIONS FROM "GAGE," WHOM WE REPRESENT IN ALBANY.

America's most popular modiste contributes to this showing of New Spring Millinery. 100 distinctive styles in all that is new in the Millinery creation. Quaint and charming are the Turban shapes with high crowns and rolling rims. These hats far excel any previous efforts in points of originality and variety. We will hold "open house" commencing Friday and you're welcome to look.

Don't fail to visit the first WHITE SALE ever held in Albany; everything on display white.

DOINGS OF THE WORLD

Mayor C. F. Hulbert, of Junction, has resigned on account of discord in the council.

Alexander Kerr and bride have been put in jail in Mexico, accused of spying. Mexico is a good place to keep away from just now.

The bill appropriating $40,000 for the new P. O. building at this city passed congress yesterday. A former bill appropriated $10,000 for the site.

Hugh Brady, the veteran grappler of Portland, passed through the city for Eugene to grapple for a boy, the son of a widow, who was drowned in the Willamette.

Born in Aberdeen, Wash., recently to Mrs. Blanche Brownell Ellis and husband a daughter. All doing well. Congratulations.

A woman appeared in New York yesterday in a bare skirt, the fashion sensation of the year, and was chased by the crowd. Put her out.

J. M. Philpot of Harrisburg has just received a $150 Holstein calf, a direct descendent from the best dairy cow the world ever produced, says the Bulletin.

The total taxes of Douglas county this year will be $472,388. A special fund of $142,000 for roads will be used under the direction of M. K. Ryan, road master.

Linn county now has two D. S. Smiths, but only one Vanny. The second one arrived this week from Bowbells, S. Dak., and has located at Harrisburg.

The governor hit all the county fair appropriations, asserting that it is not the province of the state to appropriate money for them—local affairs, offering an incentive for log rolling.

John C. Devine has had plans drawn for a concrete hotel building at Lebanon in place of the burned building. It will be 87 by 100, three stories, with fifty rooms, steam heated, of modern arrangement. Two store rooms and an office will be in the front.

W. W. Briggs, of Harrisburg is writing some splendid pioneer articles in the Bulletin, and is entitled to be made an honorary member of the Linn County Historical Society; but it costs only 50 cents a year to be an active member. Send it in to Prof. F. G. Franklin.

M. W. Canter died at Harrisburg on Thursday at the age of 73 years. He was born in Nashville, served in the confederate army under Price and came to Oregon in 1898. He was mayor of Harrisburg twice and in the council a long time. A man of excellent character. He was a member of the Odd Fellows for 34 years.

Empire Photoplay Theatre

"The Owner of L. L. Ranch."—A real Wild West picture, depicting the success and good fortune of a good American cowboy in his business and love affairs. The comedy, in this picture, is good, the scenes great, and the acting the best ever.

"John Dough and the Cherub."—This is a delightful story for the children as well as the grown-ups. A "Wizard of Oz" story with beautiful colorings, and as amny pretty chorus girls as one sees in the up-to-date musical comedies.

"The Greater Call."—This very popular actress, marries, tires of the home returns to the stage, and leaves only when her child is dying. A beautiful sentiment well brought out by a clever company of performers.

"Hank and Lank."—These popular comedians have lots of fun trying to "work the public" as blind men. As usual Lank loses out, and Hank has good luck. A comedy, sure.

Miss Grosno, singing "Fifty Years Ago, Dear Old Chum." Change tomorrow. Admission 10 cents.

DREAMLAND THEATRE

TONIGHT.

1. Rachel.—A drama of peasant life in Russia, with the scenes showing outdoor life and scenery of that country. A fine film.

2. Scenes of Ancient Rome.

3. The Two Paths.—A story by the Biograph people and one of their best.

4. Mr. Woods, Singing, "Every Star has its mate."

5. Running Away from a Fortune.—A good American comedy in which one of the chief characters is played by an intelligent dog and last but not least Mike Hoolihan falls heir to ten thousand dollars.

6. The American Fleet in French Waters.—A timely view of the U. S. squadron now in Europe steaming up the English channel.

7. In Full Cry.—A very fine portrayal of various stages and episodes of the first stag hunt of the season. Accompanied by carriages, cyclists and onlookers on foot, they wend their way through beautiful leafy lanes. We see the meet and before long the dogs are in full cry after a stag, and the hunt begins in earnest. Through a big stretch of wooded country the stag bounds along, and the pack sweeps after the animal in a tightly wedged mass until the quarry takes to water. The dogs follow and finally catch up with their victim. The dead stag is then towed back and then we see the return of the hunting party to one of the fairest castles in France.

Coming.—The greatest sensation of them all, "Lassoing Wild Animals in Africa." Admission 10 cts.

Matinee 2:30. Evening 7:30. Admission 10 cents.

BURNED TO DEATH.

The three year old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Skinner, residing near Lebanon, was burned to death last evening at 5 o'clock. While Mrs. Skinner was out feeding the chickens the clothes of the child caught fire, and were in flames when the mother rushed in, putting them out but the fumes of the fire, breathed by the child had done their work and death followed about 11 o'clock last night, after everything possible had been done to save the little one.

Governor West last night completed his veto privilege, with a record of 72 bills, including appropriation bills amounting to $313,874. Bills with emergency clauses were knifed, and also those the people had voted on. Four road bills, all haggled up by the legislature, were in the list. The public fund bill got the axe, also the second choice bill, interfering with the present statement number one law. The bill increasing the salary of judges from $3,000 to $4,000 with a tremendous pressure against it was cut out, not being opposed to the bill, but because the people had voted on the question. Two or three more of Lair Thompson's bills were vetoed.

Address by Michi Kawi.

There will be an address at Albany College chapel Monday morning at 10:30 that will be of the greatest interest to many people in Albany. The speaker, Miss Michi Kawi, is a highly educated Japanese woman, a graduate of Byrn Mawr College, a member of the World's Committee of the Young Woman's Christian Association. She is speaking for three months in America on her return journey to Japan from the World's Y. M. C. A. Conference held in Berlin, Germany, last summer. The fact that she has two hours in Albany between trains makes possible this address here. Everybody is urged to be present promptly at 10:30.

A Corvallis and Albany Case.

Several weeks ago a young man upon complaint from Corvallis was arrested here for jumping a board bill, settling it by putting up a suit case and two suits of clothes. Today a woman came over from Corvallis, claiming the suit case and contents as hers, and she began arrangements for the arrest of the young man, but a telephone message from Corvallis made it look as if the things had really been bought from a son of the woman.
