FOR A SALES AGENCY.

Before adjournment last evening the following delegates to the Northwest Association's convention to be held, were appointed: W. K. Newell, of Gaston; J. O. Holt, of Eugene; F. W. Wallace, of McMinnville; H. C. Atwell, of Forest Grove and Frank Groves, of Corvallis. These will meet with a like number of delegates elected in the other districts, the object being to establish a general sales agency for the Northwest. It is said the Wenatche district has refused to enter the compact, but this may not stop it.

H. C. Atwell, J. O. Holt and H. G. Rumbaugh were appointed a committee on constitution and by-laws for an Association for the Western Oregon district, and for a Western Oregon selling agency if the general agency fails. Mr. Atwell is at the head of the movement, a great one, following plans of the California exchange which has proven a success. It is an experiment in the Northwest and has met with some opposition, but whether with enough to defeat it is not yet known.

Besides the delegates present at this meeting there were other fruit men, interested in what is a very big thing for the fruit business.

The Biggest of All.

The Modern Woodmen of America has been running 28 years, and the last year was the best of all. It has 1,166,207 members. The receipts were $12,180,057.45. Disbursements $10,929,477.60.

Empire Photoplay Theatre

"Marguerite's Birthday."—A lively mixup caused by a burglar conveying the articles he has stolen from one flat into another where a woman discovers them and thinks they are birthday presents. The controversy ends by the discovery of the burglar.

"Saved by Her Prayers."—The scenic part of this picture cannot be excelled and the pretty sentiment upheld is very good.

"The Rival Sculptors."—A classic drama, portraying the wonderful works of art in Ancient Greece. A beautiful picture.

"Too Much Mother-in-Law."—A comedy with a moral lesson. A very pretty ending with excellent acting and the story throughout holds your heart interest.

Miss Crosno, singing "Down in Honey Jungle Town." Complete change tomorrow. Admission 10 cents.

DREAMLAND THEATRE

TONIGHT

1. The Intrigue.—A beautifully hand colored historical play by M. De Mornion, acted out by the foremost of French actors. The piece is a careful study and scrupulous regard to detail has been invoked. This is a treat for all lovers of good acting.

2. Scenes—Shaniko.
3. The Argonauts.—A dramatic story depicting the struggles of the early settlers in the far West. A young man and his sister start west in search of gold and after many troubles, success smiles upon them in a way that is both unique and original. This is a good one.

4. Illustrated Song—"Baby Days."

5. The Widow's Choice.—Jack and Harold are madly in love with the widow, but both are called away on business and the pretty widow is left in care of their father and when the boys return the widow had married the father and was their stepmother. Father may have seemed slow at first but when he got started he was a regular human comet. There is something doing every minute in this comedy.

This is an extra fine program and one of the best shown at Dreamland for some time. Admission 10 cents.

THE P. O.

Postmaster Van Winkle Ends Four Years Service.

Postmaster J. S. van Winkle last night ended his first four years service as postmaster of Albany, an able and efficient executive, administering the office in the interest of our people. Yesterday he received his commission for another four years, with an increase of salary to $2600. Deputy Postmaster F. M. Powell will now receive $1200. The event was celebrated last night with a banquet at the Broadabin, with a splendid service. The following twenty-one employees were present: Postmaster Van Winkle, Deputy Powell, W. H. Worrell, Robert Torbet, Wm. Myers and J. A. Humphrey, of the office force; Roland Hackleman, Ivin Cady, Will and Dave Patterson and Lofty Bilyeu, carriers; John Douglas, Roy Houser, Eugene Cornett, John Goin, Joe Warner and G. W. Fiddeman R.F.D. carriers; Tom Humphrey, postal clerk; Al Joeffrey, distributing clerk at the depot; Judd Ross messenger and Stanley Van Winkle janitor. Chas. Serling was unable to be present.

The total receipts of the office for the closing fiscal year were $20,651.24, an increase of $3,084.31 over the previous year. The receipts of the quarter were $5,724.28, an increase of $1,002.15 over the corresponding quarter.

The showing speaks for Albany's growth.

College Notes.

J. M. Hodge, who has had the care of the buildings and grounds for the past two years, is about to return to his home in Coos county, a very faithful employee.

The college gives a picnic this afternoon, going by team to Knox's Butte.

The Conservatory of Music will give a student recital Monday at 4 p. m. at Tremont Hall.

Postmaster Van Winkle has orders to close the post office Sundays if the people want it. If done the general delivery will not be open from 1 to 2 as now, giving the employees two or three hours away from the post office at that time.

DOINGS OF THE WORLD

Otto Ringling, of Ringling Bros, died yesterday.

A church in Los Angeles will show moving pictures as a crowd drawer.

The $50,000,000 mark was passed during March, in Portland, in bank clearances, the most of any month in the history of the city.

Lippman & Wolf, of Portland, are preparing to erect a $650,000 building for their business, not to be outdone by the other big stores.

A lot of Lincoln high school students caused a sensation by appearing in very loud socks and stockings. Last year the Albany high school students did this a year ahead of Portland.

Judge Jas. A. O'Gorman, of the supreme court of New York yesterday was elected U. S. senator of that state, after a long and ugly contest, in which Tammany attempted to dominate the election.

The U. O. last night defeated both Stanford in California and Washington at Eugene. The ship subsidy question was debated, Oregon having the affirmative at home and the negative in California.

Jefferson Review: Lynn Humphry, S.P. agent at Marcola and youngest heir to the vast wealth of the Review editor, passed Saturday with us, being en route to San Francisco to receive treatment for a throat trouble.

Jefferson Review: Michael Kelly was at Albany Monday. Mike has the misfortune to be afflicted with a cancer on his neck, but his friends (and that's everybody) will be glad to know that his physician says he can surely cure it.

Ralph Watson, who has been in Portland for a number of years and who is now selling East Moroland and West Moroland real estate in the vicinity of the Reed institute, is here for a week or two looking after that business.—Eugene Register.

In civilized Oregon last night at Klamath Falls, notwithstanding a strict law against prize fighting there was a contest between Frank Edwards of Oakland and E. Tucker of Portland. Tucker was done up, bleeding throughout the contest, and the Klamath Falls officials allowed the fight. The recall ought to be put into place that way.

The fishing time has come. It is lawful to catch trout and the Albany boy will be on hand with his hook and line. Tommy Beard has given his idea of the matter in a poetic and artistic way.
