DR. FRANKLIN AN AUTHOR.

The Sunday Oregonian gives a picture of Dr. Frank George Franklin of Albany college, with a review of a book by him entitled: "The Legislative History of Naturalization in the United States." It says: "It is a timely and able contribution to the sparse literature on the subject at issue. It is also a learned and painstaking presentation of a topic which should be more understood than it is today, and is a faithful mirror of many Congress debates."

Professor Franklin has consulted quite a mass of authorities in preparing his book, which starts at the revolution and continues to the opening of our civil war. The book consists of 300 pages, and possibly the most interesting portion consists of the description and legislative work of knowntingism. The chapter heads are: The Revolutionary period; the convention of 1787; the acts of 1790, 1795, 1789, 1802, and 1813; act concerning evidence; expatriation; act of 1824; the beginning period and heyday of native Americanism.

There is no fireworks in the book, just scholarship wedded to plain legal facts. Professor Franklin has been at Albany College for two years, as professor of history and political science. During the past year, Dr. Franklin has been dean of the college, and while President H. M. Crooks has been in the east working for the college, Dr. Franklin has had charge of the institution and has managed its affairs with conspicuous ability.

News From Albany's Six Early Trains.

Smith Cox and John Barrett, U. S. jurymen, returned to Portland, where they are serving Uncle Sam, with prospects of being kept there until June. They were accompanied by their families prepared for a long stay if necessary.

Miss Gertrude Reeves, of Lebanon, returned to Willamette after an Easter visit home. Willamette is making rapid strides to the front, showing what a school can do, with a good equipment and an endowment, without any state aid.

Mr. Roy Rabur, of Corvallis, returned from a real estate trip to Myrtle Creek. Rabur was one of the first men the Democrat met in 1880, upon coming up the Willamette. That was also his year for striking Oregon, and he continues a prosperous resident of Corvallis.

Rev. S. A. Douglas left on a Portland trip. Mrs. J. G. Crawford returned from a trip to Donnibrook. Editor Kirkpatrick came down from Lebanon.

Col. J. B. Eddy, returned from an inspection of his Lebanon farm. Lawyer J. Fred Yates, of Corvallis, went to Portland. Mr. Beckley, of the Union Furniture factory left on a week's commercial trip to Portland and elsewhere, selling furniture.

A. D. Anderson left on a Portland trip. Roy Worrell and Claud Ellison left on a Portland trip.

Tom Marsden left for Portland, and Roy Willard will see the big ball game. Miss Nancy Ralston returned from Halsey.

Miss Burch, of the Jefferson schools, walked three miles from the home of her folks, and with the Misses McKnight took the train for Jefferson.

North Benton.

Mr. and Mrs. Filbert, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Delancy have been spending the week with Linn county relatives.

Farmers are rushing their spring seeding and will soon complete it. X. W. Boom was looking after his Tampico farm Thursday.

Mr. Waymire returned Friday from a few days stay at Independence. James Johnston while at Corvallis Saturday bought a new automobile.

Mrs. Isaac McElmurry of Albany came out Friday and is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Willard Cauthorn.

Mrs. Cora Gibson, of near Salem, is visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hoff.

If the city folk want to see something beautiful let them take a drive over the big steel bridge and meander out through North Albany and Oak Grove and behold our good roads, beautiful kept homes and surroundings. The orchards that back the landscape are now in full bloom filling the atmosphere with that aroma, which, when inhaled, makes the recipient feel that he is surely nearing the promised land.

In the City.

J. E. Moon, Ellensburg. E. G. Morse, Billings, Mon. G. E. Pusey and wife, Oregon City. Van M. Kemery, Eugene. R. B. Saward, Toledo. Ben Gibbith, Eugene. Dr. A. Floyd, Oakland. J. Andrew A. Soule, Salem. Mrs. F. D. Wheeler, Cottage Grove. R. L. Oswald, Salem. C. C. Baker, Salem.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 66-84. The river is 4 3/4 feet. Prediction, fair tonight, Tuesday cooler.

The store of D. O. Woodworth & Co. last night was badly soaked by a faucet being left running up stairs the night before, and keeping at it all night. It spread out over different parts of the store, several hundred dollars damage. Things are being gotten out of the water as fast as possible.

DATH OF M. V. KOONTZ

A Prominent Halsey Business Man.

Martin V. Koontz, a leading Halsey business man for many years, died Saturday evening, after an illness of some time, and was buried this afternoon.

He was born in Ohio in 1837, afterwards living in Illinois and Iowa, coming to Oregon across the plains in 1852, taking up a claim at Halsey. He was in Eastern Oregon for a while but returned to Halsey and went on his business, first as clerk, in 1876 on his own account, in 1879 establishing the firm of Koontz & Lame.

A wife and one son Cly E., who continues in charge of the business, survive him.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. H. Rudd and Mrs. J. K. Haight and daughter attended the funeral. Mr. Rudd and Mrs. Haight were friends from childhood. Mrs. Koontz being a member of the Rudd family before her marriage.

Married.

Thomas-Smith.—At the home of the bride's parents on Fourth and Broad-bin St. Saturday evening at Eight o'clock, Roscoe C. Thomas of Jackson ville and Ina M. Smith of this city, Rey. W. S. Gordon officiating.

The bride is the eldest daughter of our County Sheriff D. S. Smith and has an estimable wife, and has a host of friends here, as she has lived in Linn County all her life.

After enjoying an elegant luncheon the happy couple took the train for their new home at Jacksonville where Mr. Thomas is engaged in the mining business.

Miss Linnie Kimsy played the wedding march, and the bride was pretty in white silk voile over white satin, and carried a bouquet of cream roses.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cornell of Grants Pass, Mrs. O. A. Sykes of Salem, Mrs. Cuyce Thomas of Jefferson, and Miss Myra Montgomery of Sheridan.

They were remembered with a large number of beautiful presents, and are followed by the best wishes of their many friends.

Base Ball

A decidedly one-sided game of base ball was played at Rambler Park yesterday between Albany and Salem. The Colts fairly knocked the spots off the ball, winning 15 to 1. Bill Patterson pitched for Albany, and the visitors could do nothing with him, while Albany knocked everything brought out from the box. The Colts are the best aggregation of amateur hitters ever gotten together in the city, and the field is strong at every point in the field.

The Knights of King Arthur of Albany played the Corvallis Cubs a series of two games, one at Corvallis the score being 16 to 1, and one at Albany Albany Saturday, the score being 15 to 4, both won by Albany. Line ups were as follows: Corvallis—Star c, Gloss p, Kemp 1b, McCready 2b, Barton 3b, Adams, Dawson lf, Houser cf, Baliff cf. Albany—Chas Warner c, Louis Schultz p, Clinton Archibald 1b, Loren Davis 2b, Arthur McChesney 3b, John Clelan ss, Cole Nole lf, Menefee cf, Walter Cummings rf.

The High School and Postal Bankers will play ball tomorrow night, the second game of the tournament. This will be a good one. The game is due to begin at 4:30 p. m. Admission 10 cents. Encourage amateur base ball by going.

Boosting Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons Myers, of North Albany, who have been visiting in Pennsylvania for several months, will leave there the 20th for home. They write: "We will be glad to get back to Oregon. We don't like Pennsylvania climate, it is so changeable, one day pleasant, next day cold and the wind is so sharp and cold it freezes a person. We would not live here if we could get a farm given us. The climate of Oregon is fine, and we tell people here if they were to go to Oregon and live awhile they would never live here again. Some of our relatives will go to Oregon to make their home, among others, Mr. Myers mother."

Arrested for Theft.

J. J. Bradley, who has been working on the power line, was arrested yesterday, charged with the larceny of $40 or more from Frank Hitesman, who has been working on the Central addition sewer. Hitesman, who has a room at Mrs. Ho g's, was taken sick Saturday, and Bradley helped take care of him. One purse with $49 and another with a sea mount and a watch disappeared. Complaint was made and Bradley was arrested by Chief of Police Munsters, the purse with $49 being found on the defendant. The other not been found. Bradley was taken before Justice Swan today, waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

In Honor of Miss Train

At the home of E. W. Langdon, Saturday afternoon and evening, Misses Grace Langdon, Frances Nelson and Georgia Dawson entertained in honor of Miss Arlene Train, who is to become Mrs. Sam Dolan in a few weeks. Twenty-two were present. Heart decorations prevailed. One could almost hear the heart throbs of some of them. A pretty reception of the modern artistic social season was held with the feast of the afternoon, a delicious affair.

The Ancient Order of Spearheads yesterday held their annual banquet, given by the retiring head spear, W. M. Worrell. George Roife was elected to the office for the coming year.

TUESDAY. BOETTICHER AT THE HEAD

Of the Albany Schools, Prof. Loyd Marquam Principal.

The Albany school board met last evening and elected some of the teachers for the next school year, the only ones now public being the superintendent and principal.

Prof. C. W. Boetticher of the Silver-ton schools, was elected superintendent and Prof. Loyd Marquam of the Albany schools principal of the high school.

Prof. Boetticher comes with a splendid reputation as a progressive and live teacher. He was formerly of the Ohio schools, is about 45 years of age and has had an experience that counts in school work.

The election of Prof. Marquam to the important position of principal is a splendid recognition of his ability and popularity. He began here in grade work and has made good in an eminent manner. He is not only an able instructor, but has good executive ability, and is thoroughly in touch with the students themselves, entering into all their athletic contests with zeal, as into all the work of the school room, a man of clean personal character.

The other teachers will soon be announced. There will not be many changes, it is said, though there will be a few. Some have not applied for reelection, having other things in view, and others are not desired by the board.

Dr. Lowe April 28 and 29.

Al Gordon went to Harri-burg this afternoon.

Washington defeated U. O. yesterday at Eugene 3 to 2.

G. L. Brown, the Stayton mill man, has been in the city.

The base ball season was due to open in Portland this afternoon.

Mrs. W. F. Moist, of Lebanon, was an Albany visitor today.

A. H. Lea, of the Hazelwood Co., Portland, was in the city today.

Rev. W. P. White yesterday left for a few days outing at Newport.

Baker City has begun a campaign for a $45,000 Y. M. C. A. building.

Jas. E. Godfrey is a candidate for the position of corporation clerk at Salem.

Miss Mae Montgomery has been in the city on Women of Woodcraft business.

Mrs. A. C. Schmitt and son Lawrence went to the Bay this afternoon for a few days' outing.

Miss Lucia Weathered, of Hillsboro, arrived this noon on a visit with Mrs. H. H. Cronise.

Gerard Blackburn, night baggage man at the depot, went to Lebanon this afternoon for a week's vacation.

Roosevelt got back to New York yesterday and said he felt bully. As usual he refused to talk. He never does talk any.

The Mexican federals yesterday were beaten in a fight with the rebels at Agua Prieta. At least got the worst of it.

Prominent old timer drummers in town today were W. F. Jeffries, L. A. Cruickshank, C. B. Pruitt and Wm. A. Noon.

John C. Stubbs, the great railroad magnate has retired at 65. He says that is the age to give the younger man a chance.

Senator Bourne is about to occupy the rooms in the capitol at Washington occupied by Aldrich. Nothing happy about that.

J. H. S. Riley and family, of near Dra, returned home this noon after a visit at the former's father H. H. Safley of North Albany.

Mrs. Stearns, of Roseburg, returned home this afternoon after a visit at the home of her brother-in-law H. A. Stearns, of the Variety Store.

Champ Clark is due to lecture at Eugene next Friday night, but he will not be there. He is more than busy at Washington running the house of representatives.

Hettie Green is about to put the little sum of $100,000,000 into a chain of banks reaching across the country from the banks of the Hudson to the banks of the Columbia.

S. G. Dorris, deputy game warden, with headquarters at Bend, was a Prineville visitor the first of the week, and paid the Review office a very pleasant visit.—Prineville Review. A former Albany printer and editor.

J. W. Barker, a St. Johns teamster, wants $10,000 damages for the theft of his wife. Perhaps he treated her as if she was worth about thirty cents when they lived together.

The total deposits of all the Oregon banks is $100,575,882, total resources $142,954,764, a gain of over 5,000,000. The number of banks in the state is 298, a gain during the year of 29.

Gateway is the name of a new town established over the mountains in Crook county, east of Albany, on the Deschutes road, called the U. W. R. & N. The sage brush country will fit up with mushroom towns.

Eugene Register.—O. P. Coshov, Sr., who has been with his daughter, Mrs. J. M. How for the past six months, went home to Brownsville Sunday, while here he suffered a broken hip and has been laid up a good portion of the time.

There being no quorum the commercial club did not attend to any business last night. Not much doing now any way but considering communications of little importance, propositions for advertising space and the sending of delegates to this an that.

One of the churches in Portland had a chorus of canary birds last Sunday, and it is referred to as a novel affair, but it is not novel. Over thirty years ago in Rochester, N. Y. one of the churches had twenty or thirty cages of canary birds singing every Sabbath on the rear road, and canary birds in church instead of being novel were really common affairs.

GOOD JOB OF COLLECTING.

Counting the rebate Sheriff Smith has collected $364,889.21 of the $422,887.02 of the 1911 tax roll, which has been turned over to the treasurer, with the exception of a few dollars. Last evening J. G. Bryant, who did a good job of expert accounting, completed his work, and the record is a clean one for the sheriff and his clerks. The balance is $57,947.31. Several of the big companies paid only half their taxes, which accounts for quite a sum in this. Collections were not begun until the 20th of the month, leaving a short time for the work.

News from Albany's Six Early Trains.

515 Oregonians arrived on the 4:18 train from Portland for Ben Clelan, the best agent along the line. Coming up early for breakfast has given the Oregonian a big circulation in the valley towns. A special campaign is being made now and over fifty have been added in the past week at this city.

Dr. J. R. N. Bell, of Corvallis, one of Oregon's most noted Presbyterian ministers, passed through for Vancouver, where he will deliver an Easter address at a Masonic service. Thirty-seven years chaplain he is kept busy meeting demands, including a call to Mt. Moriah.

Maurice Winter left with his seven big trunks for points north. A neat little act was the presentation of some sweaters to a couple of the baggage boys for numerous favors.

Rev. H. T. Babcock, of Salem, left for home with his violin, and Lawyer Chas. H. Glos, of Corvallis, with his fine tenor voice, after giving a concert at the Grace Presbyterian church last night. A program of minister and lawyer may be an odd one, but this one just the same was a good treat to the east end audience.

Father Van Navel left for Mt. Angel on a short Easter vacation trip. Before coming back he may take in one of the big ball games at Portland, not having lost his taste for good base ball, worth any man's time.

Rev. Lacy of Lebanon left on a short Portland trip.

Will Cook went to Brownsville.

J. N. (Sam) Chambers left on a Portland business trip.

Mrs. Whiddy, a prominent Benton county Grandee, arrived from Corvallis.

A. J. Caldwell, the sock maker, of Stayton, returned home.

Lawyer Garland came down from Lebanon.

Jim A. Bilyeu left for Scio, though he is about as much at home at Albany.

Another Park Tea.

On Thursday afternoon of this week the Civic Improvement Club will entertain at the home of Mrs. John Simpson. This is one of the most beautiful homes in the city. The rooms are spacious and elegant and will accommodate a large number. The committee in charge will arrange special Japanese decorations for the dining-room, and the program will be very attractive. The Ladies Music Club will render several selections which should insure a large attendance. The park has been seeded and will very soon be a beauty spot in our town and will go farther to advertise Albany than anything that could have been done, as "first impressions are lasting," and the change about the depot should be a cause for rejoicing to every citizen.

A cordial invitation is extended to both ladies and gentlemen to attend the afternoon gathering and help swell the park fund. A free will offering of 25 cents is asked. Help on a good investment for the "Hub of the Valley."

MARRIED.

Peterson-McCreary.—Vr. Tano Peterson and Miss Isabelle McCreary came up from Portland yesterday, and were married by Rev. Esoso at his home last evening. Mr. Peterson is a brother of Mrs. Dr. Cox. Dr. and Mrs. Cox took the youngsters in hand and attended to their wishes. Mr. Peterson for many years has had charge of the claim department of the Northern Express Co., in Portland. Miss McCreary is one of the most valuable employees of the Lippman & Wolf Store, of Portland, having charge of one of the large departments. Going to the pressure of business in Portland the newly-weds returned to their home town at 4:18 this morning.

r. Ferguson's r

Dr. Ferguson arrived this noon from West Grove to begin his work in the interest of Albany College. He will conduct a campaign for the endowment fund, with $250,000 as the goal, and will also have charge of the chair of Biblical History in the college. He is an experienced educator and an indefatigable worker, coming splendidly recommended for the work.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 64-88. Rainfall .52 inch. Prediction ss: fair tonight, and Wednesday.
