MISFITS.

There are plenty of white elephants
this side of Africa.
Men are paid to think of novelties for
a changeable people.
The trusts run a good many things,
but not everything.
Practice during the week living right
for your Sunday thoughts.

Uncle Sam acts as if he was looking for an excuse to lick the Mexicans.
People who make the biggest display
of their religion haven't the most of it sometimes.
Some men get the name of being philosophers whose lives wouldn't bear inspection.
Mighty few people are made better
by growling at them either from the pulpit or the street.

U. S. senators must be elected by the people, so declare the people themselves, and this is their government.
This is an age of freaks. A Los Angeles party at a big dinner will have quacking ducks in the middle of the table in a pond, chickens chirping around, etc. Next.
Harrisburg.

Condensed from the Bulletin:—
Mrs. Emma Lassell, died on Saturday at the age of 64 years.
Harrisburg is to have a market day
April 29. There is to be a free auction, with not more than two articles from
any one seller.
Notwithstanding the government census Harrisburg has nearly 1100.
T. W. Somerville has let the contract for a modern bungalow.
The Joy theater has closed. It didn't pay.
J. R. Cartwright has just sold his 1909 hop crop, two car loads.

Orleans.
Mr. and Mrs. Rader, of Newport,
have returned to their home after several weeks visit with friends.
Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bino have spent several days at the home of Mrs. Bino's parents, H. Abers and family.
Ed Hulburt is seriously ill at the home of Austi Hulcort.
Herman Falk, who has had appendicitis, is reported improving.
There will be Easter exercises at the Orleans chapel Sunday.

Brownsville.
Condensed from the Times:—
The total receipts of the city the past year were $2,235,41, the disbursements $2,207,31 with $152,62 outstanding warrants, showing a net indebtedness only $124,52.
B. S. Norwood, of Harrisburg, will move to Brownsville next week.
A booster meeting will be held Tuesday evening.
M. Born & Co's SALEMAN
