DOINGS OF THE WORLD

F. P. Talkington, a prominent Salem man, was in the city today. It rained good and hard on the corn-tossing services yesterday.

After being almost captured the Shasta Limited robbers have escaped. The state convention of R. F. D. men will be held in Eugene on Sept. 4.

At San Francisco yesterday eight thousand men marched in the S. S. parade, carrying Bibles.

Rev. R. F. Jameson, of the Baptist church, Brownsville, has resigned his pastorate there and will go to Lebanon.

On June 28 W. R. Tripp and Miss Elsie Powell are to be married at Brownsville, prominent young people there.

In the city: S. N. Steele, Portland; Mrs. M. E. Watson, Eugene; Wil Turpin, Medicine Hat Springs; E. T. Barnes and family, Salem.

P. A. Cochrane, a former Linn county man, and Miss Mame Hesser were married at Portland this week. Both are residents of Woodburn.

The Eugene Register reports an open rupture between Al. Welch and J. O. Storey, a prominent stockholder of the Portland Eugene and Eastern. Storey is endeavoring to sell his stock.

Billy Sunday, who now owns a fruit orchard near Hood River, will make an address to the Grangers there soon. Wonder if it will be a slangy affair or one full of hay seeds.

Mayor Berger, of Eugene, was in the city this week and bought the sprinkler at the race track, paying $200 for it, for the Eugene race track. And we need one just like it on our streets.

The Roberts team of Eugene yesterday defeated the Japs 4 to 0. Eugene made 6 hits to Keio's 2 and 1 error to 2 for the Japs. Rankin pitched for Eugene, and among the players were Van Marter and Smith, well known here.

Mr. Hardy, of Hardy and Sawyer, lawyers, of Portland, attorneys for the Portland, Eugene and Eastern R. R. in the Tubbs damage case, has been in the city getting testimony for the defendant.

Judge A. L. Collins, of Dallas, has the distinction of being the first white man to tread upon the present site of Eugene. This occurred in 1846, when he wintered at the foot of Skinner's butte. He was again treading on Eugene this week, being there to see his son graduate from the U. O.

Following are the teachers for the Harrisburg school elected for next year: E. K. Barnes, of Creswell, formerly of Lebanon and Cottage Grove, superintendent; Irma Snere of Ashland, assistant; Amanda Fuller, Dallas, 7th and 8th grades; Lloyd Shisler, Harrisburg, 5th and 6th grades; Mrs. E. J. Kimball, Seio, primary, and one vacant.

THE FAIR AT LEBANON.

The strawberry fair at Lebanon this week has drawn large crowds, a great success, enjoyed by all attending it. It has made Lebanon a strawberry center.

There has also been a fine display of roses. The prize winners were Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Lee Bilyeu, Mrs. A. C. Lewis, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. Bert Milsap and Mrs. Frank Griggs.

Yesterday was Grange day and today is Governor West day with other celebrities on the program. But Gov. West will not be there, being engaged at Portland in visiting the Boston, presenting the commandant with his commission.

Dr. Andrew C. Smith, C. C. Chapman and Phil Bates were actually there, going in an automobile. They all have made speeches, and among others Judge Duncan, who talked good roads. Senator Miller was heard from on the same subject. C. T. Prall, of Portland, a good roads specialist made an address that was appreciated.

Several hundred Albany people have attended the fair.

The balloon after the ascension yesterday failed to come down, the weight having fallen off. Instead it kept going up and was lost sight of.

ALBANY MAN'S First Impression at San Francisco.

The city of the Golden Gateway is still the well known cosmopolitan city of contrasts. The men continue to wear straw hats and overcoats, the ladies white waists and seal skins, questionable frivolity and strong faith abide side by side.

The first day began with a rush, zeal and fervor. Some one has said when visiting his sweetheart he spent the first half-hour wishing he could begin where he had left off. No such a desire animates the heart of any Sabbath school man in S. F. For this convention is the biggest and best ever held. The programs literally groan with "good things" and yesterday six simultaneous conferences were held morning and afternoon. In the evening, 6000-7000 people thronged each other and crowded the Coliseum, Oregon is well represented.

The delegates and visitors come to this Triennial from the ends of the earth. They represent 17 million officers, teachers and scholars. Strong men and noble women are they. Just the kind one likes on first sight. One and all say: "Save the boys and girls from wrong and for Christ." Such a shibboleth appeals to every right minded individual.

At the big formal opening last night Gov. Johnson failed to appear, and sent a substitute—much to the disappointment of all. Mayor McCarthy was received with bantering laughter and audible questionings greeted his assertion that S. F. contained "the best and most God-fearing people on the earth." However he cautiously added: "every one can be better." Dr. Bell, so well-known and beloved in Albany, chairman of the California general committee, was treated to a royal ovation. Many arose cheering and waving handkerchiefs. Dr. Chapman is the great favorite and deservedly so.

A Pioneer of '47.

Jack Alphin died last night at the home of his son-in-law, C. C. McBride, at Eddyville, one of the best known men of Lincoln county. He was born in Marion county, Ind., in 1828, and crossed the plains with his father in 1847. He leaves three sons and three daughters, and many relatives, including Mrs. P. H. Bowman, a sister, of this city.

At Dreamland Tonight.

The funniest comedy shown there in months Max and the Fly paper in "Max is Stuck Up." Also a new singer commencing next Monday.
