Was the Way Eugene Didn't Get Even.

Eugene came to Albany yesterday to get even with the Albany boys for last year's beating, and even sent notice ahead to that effect. According to the Eugene Register they had the material with which to do it. They certainly had a husky crowd, said to average 155, nearly as heavy as Albany's fast aggregation. But they proved comparatively easy. Albany plowed through them at will.

Albany kicked off, and got Eugene before much of an advance. Eugene failed to gain, Albany got the ball and steadily carried it down the field by splendid line bucks and runs by Carson Bigbee, Abrahams and Sanford Archibald, all three of whom played star games to the finish, and Archibald carried it over, but failed to kick the goal.

Eugene could not make yardage, and never did during the game except by two end runs past Archibald by Wagers. Albany got the ball again and had it down the field close to the Eugene goal at the end of the half. It looked like a sure goal. On a mass play that was a mistake the ball was really over when the whistle blew, but Referee Moulten called it in the field as it was crowded back, and it was gotten out of danger.

In the third quarter a twenty yard run by Abrahams again brought 6 points, with a goal by Archibald. While near the Albany goal a block by Crowell sent the ball back and it was downed by a Eugene man over the Albany goal, scoring two. In the fourth quarter Abrahams again went over for the third touchdown. One field goal was attempted by Bigbee and failed by small margin.

The score was 19 to 0. In merit it was practically a 30 to 0 game. Albany rarely failed to make yardage. Carson Bigbee in his great quarter back plays and Abrahams and S. Archibald in their fast plunges and end runs being sure gainers whenever they got the ball.

Both in the science of the game and strength Albany outplayed the visitors. The team is strong, but needs bracing up at two or three points.

The officials were Fred Moulten, of U. of foot ball fame and Prof. Flo, in the field, Prof. Hugg of Eugene and Prof. Marquam officiated as time keepers.

Ho-d line man Fortmiller, field judge Morris Bigbee.

There was good rooting by the girls of the high school, with their songs and the boys on the field.

Bids for a New Church.

Bids were opened at Lebanon this week for a new Presbyterian church, 72 by 72, stucco finish, under practically the same plans of the new Albany church, except of different and cheaper material. Zeph Bro. of Lebanon bid $14,825. Edward Keap of Portland much less, $12,321. Geo. West & Son of Portland, $14,323. J. B. Congill, of Albany, $18,000 and J. A. McChesney, of Albany, $18,275. The lowest bid was more than the amount voted and a meeting will be called to consider the matter.

Rolia Rajston a Yell Leader

Eugene, Oct. 20.—Last evening Rolia Rajston, of Albany, won out in the try-out for a freshman yell leader, of the U. O., in a competition with several aspirants, after a spirited contest, in which all trying took turns in leading the rosters. Rolia is well fitted for the position, having had several years' experience as yell leader at the Albany high school. He expects to lead the freshmen to victory in cheering at the annual sophomore freshmen contest to be held on Saturday.

OUR SHOW.

J. C. Holbrook arrived at Omaha on Tuesday, Oct. 11th and found Mr. Groves of Corvallis had just got in—Freeman of Eugene arriving a few days later. He says our exhibit was the first on the ground, and on Saturday when the letter was written, it was nearer ready for the public than any other. Many people have the idea that nothing but fruit can be grown in the Willamette Valley, and when the men were unpacking the grains and grasses from the boxes the onlookers were continually expressing their wonder. California, Idaho, and a few other localities are putting up good exhibits, but our representatives think there is nothing there equal to ours in quality, and the great diversity of crops shown.

Today manager Stewart received a free gift from the Harrisburg fair people of a fine collection of vegetables, which will be expressed at once to Omaha. They were: Burbanks, by W. A. Murdock; American Wonder, by Tom Grimes; Burbanks, by Willard Ing'ram; Early Rose, by Arch. Wasson; Peerless, by C. H. Landy; Ohio Beauty, by G. B. Needles; Uncle Sams, by Ira Tanton; Rural New Yorker, by J. D. Miller; Blue Vectors, by S. F. Reynolds; rice pop corn, by Merle Hewitt; White Dent corn, by Tom Grimes; Bloody Butcher, by J. M. Murphy; Yellow Dent, by Luther Hathaway. All splendid specimens that will make a showing in the big fair.
