

Munsingwear

Munsing Union Underwear has become so popular, the demand so strong, that the word MUNSING is known nearly every where. You naturally connect it with underwear whenever you think of it. Just say MUNSINGWEAR—saves time, and really don't you think it sounds more REFINED. Anyway, when you say MUNSINGWEAR to the salesperson you are taking no chances. You are sure to get the underwear that has stood the test of many seasons' demands. Underwear that has gained its popularity and increased the demand through its own merits. A garment that will fit YOU, because they are made for all sizes of people, the SHORT of the TALL, the STOUT or the SLENDER. You can get most any grade or material you choose. You will pay just about the same price you have been in the habit of paying. You will get more satisfaction and comfort in the wearing. Wearers of MUNSINGWEAR rarely can be induced to buy any other kind. YOU try MUNSINGWEAR this season and become a regular satisfied wearer. For men, women and children.

THIS MORNING

News From Albany's Six Early Train.

H. Richards returned to Portland, where he is now residing, with his 150 year old violin. He did not make five others altogether, making a specialty of Oregon wood, when he has demonstrated has the tone. His first was in 1878. One made in 1880 is now owned by D. B. Troutman, of Monteville, a fine instrument, formerly owned by several, taking the prize at Albany's last county fair in 1880.

R. Rogoway went to Portland to attend the funeral of Nathan Rogoway. The body was taken through last evening from Ashland, and was buried today in Portland, where he formerly resided. The identification was complete. There is said to be little doubt that he was murdered.

Mrs. J. J. Whitney returned to her home at Lawson, next the farm of W. W. Crawford, dealer in automobiles and windmills.

P. Kester went to Portland on his regular sixth week eye trip.

Mrs. F. H. Colpitts returned to her home at Gates.

THE WRONG IDEA

Many people have the idea that the medicine they have taken for their stomach, liver, kidneys, etc., is the cause of bad teeth.

THIS IS NOT SO

It is an excuse for neglect of your teeth, and on the other hand the neglect of your teeth, in many cases, is the cause of the diseases which require medicine. Best to have your teeth attended to before they cause any disease.
