MISFITS.

Life is full of quibbles.

Tongue contests are the best.

The physical and mental must go together.

Some people can only see the faults of others.

The month is more than half gone and over half the resolutions look like pan-cakes.

Miss Pankhurst says the girls are too busy to think about proposing to men. It is just a silly men's notion.

The flattest thing yet is the effort to make capital out of the Harper's incident in the fight against Wilson.

An Albany clerk propounds the following:
If it takes a hump back frog an hour and a half to hop up a railroad track backwards a mile and a half, how long would it take a blind grass hopper to recognize his grandfather.
