Women are Buying Embroideries as Never Before

Everybody complimented us on the grand showing of Embroideries and were frank in saying it is the most beautiful display ever made in Albany.

THE CARNIVAL OF WHITE and Grand Spring and Summer EMBROIDERY SHOW AND SALE

CONTINUES EVERY DAY UNTIL SATURDAY, MARCH 2ND.

SPRING MODES

The trend of the fashion in ladies' man-tailored suits for Spring wear runs decidedly to dainty color effects. Even some of these hand-some blue serges show dash of color relief, while nearly all of the fancy weaves are similarly adorned.

EVERY DAY we are receiving and opening the beautiful Suits, Coats and Dresses selected by our New York Ambassador (Mr. Kragen) in the great fabric and fashion marts; many more will be coming in daily.—We invite your inspection and assure you you are under no obligation to buy.

F. G. WILL, for Watches

THE WORLD

One foot of snow fell this week around LaGrande.

Boise yesterday voted a commission form of government by 201 majority.

Hops have dropped ten cents or more, and the man who sold when they were up has money in the bank.

N. G. Wilson, box 24, Acme, Or., wants a wife, a widow preferred. He is living alone on a 160 acre farm and is lonesome, poor fellow.

Hanley and Hill are going to put on the market several hundred thousand acres of land, just give it away, more or less, principally the latter.

A good roads commission is trying to adjust the good road bills so they will be acceptable to the people. There will be considerable doctoring.

M. L. Jones and F. G. Eldredge, of Mission Bottom, near Salem, yesterday sold 1261 acres of improved land for $200,000, which is $160 an acre.

Edward B. Alsop, aged 80, and Miss Effie Pope Hill, aged 20, just one fourth, were married yesterday at New York. Alsop is rich and retired, and has several children.

Lawyer R. S. Bryson, of Eugene, a live young man formerly of Corvallis, has announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff, a new departure for a lawyer. His brother is district attorney.

Teddy Roosevelt continues to do mysterious things. Yesterday he went to Boston. To all the newspaper men he said: "I have nothing to say." He ought to have or be dropped eternally.

The fine farm of L. C. Stratton, at Millers, one of the best improved in the valley, the Democrat is informed will be put on the market, for sale. There are 170 acres, and the price reported will be $150 an acre.

Carl R. Gray can have the presidency of the Great Northern if he wants it. He is a very competent and popular railroad official, a man who does things. He is besides a man you can reach without getting on a ten foot ladder.

U. O. was defeated at Eugene last night by Utah in a debate on the recall of judges, with U. O. on the affirmative. The judges were Prof. Hetzel of O. A. C., Dr. Sharp of Albany College and A. C. Schmitt of the First National Bank.

L. F. Knowlton, a former Albany telegraph operator, has been elected president of the newly organized Transportation Club of Portland. Knowlton promoted the Club, a hustler. He was brought up at Cottage Grove, and is making it in the railroad world, now being city ticket agent of the North Bank.

Not having enough Johnsons at Corvallis, through a strenuous campaign another one and his family has been secured, Jas. Edward Johnson, an old school-mate of Bob Huston, whom he had not seen for 26 years, who may locate at the same place. He was there this week talking about it, and causing such a surprise to Bob that he cried: "I'll be hanged."

SCHOOL OFFICIAL CONVENTION

With Gov. West as a Speaker.

A big convention of school directors and clerks, is being arranged by School Superintendent Jackson, assisted by the Albany Commercial Club. Tuesday, March 5 has been set for the date.

GOV. WEST this afternoon notified

Manager Stewart, of the commercial club, that, in response to an urgent invitation he will be here and speak on matters of concern to Oregonians. The meeting will convene at 10 a. m., but it is probable the Gov. will come on the noon train and speak in the afternoon.

HERE TO STAY.

Mr. H. P. Barnum, Manager of the Home Telephone business of this city reports a good time at the banquet of employees this week, in Portland, in which they were the guests of Samuel Hill, the president, at the Hotel Portland, with 300 present. Mr. Hill a nephew of J. J. Hill, A. L. Mills, Dr. Mackenzie, Dr. Tucker and C. S. Jackson were the speakers. It was an elaborate and elegant affair.

In a private letter to Mr. Barnum, Mr. Hill states that the Home Telephone Company is in the field at this city and Linn county to stay, and the business will not be turned over to any monopoly. The people want a good competitive service and the Home Co. will give it.

Eight trainloads of 812 freight cars, containing 1,142 automobiles, to the selling value of which is over $1,569,000.

Not Dead but Crazy.

A man was reported to have been killed out beyond the saw mill today, and a hand car went out after the body. The men found a man lying beside the track, but instead of being dead he was simply daff. He was taken home, where he grabbed a gun, and was going to do things. Then he quieted down and seemed to be behaving himself.
