

APRIL PATTERNS---APRIL FASHION SHEETS---ARE HERE

SPRING HATS EXPRESSING INDIVIDUALITY

It is safe to say that we have never had so charming and authentic an exhibit of new Spring hat fashions so early in the season.

The new hats come first to Chambers & McCune because we go after them. Whether it be a trimmed or a tailored hat you will be certain to find just what will suit your own individual taste.

We are now showing dozens of new Gage models.

Tailored hats of straw with saucy little stick-ups—others and many, too, in a symphony of black and white.

Flower hats fairly sporting all the most vivid colorings of Spring time blossoms. In fact, so unusually beautiful is our hat section that it will be well worth your time to pay this department a visit.

Miss Hibbs, our new trimmer, comes to you with new ideas her hats have a style different, in fact the change you have wanted and just what you would see in the large city stores only at moderate price.—Miss Parson, our second trimmer, makes a specialty of girls' hats, trimming them in a girlish fashion, a long-felt want in Albany.

Visit our Millinery Department often; you will see some surprising novelties every day.

THE WORLD

Mr. and Mrs. William Millsap, of Lebanon, on the 8th celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary, a good record.

Ben Selling's petition for U. S. senator beats Bourne by considerably, and he will probably beat him for the nomination.

The senate committee has reported favorably on $100,000 for a federal building at Corvallis and $112,000 for one at Klamath Falls.

C. K. Fronk, a former S. P. agent at this city, is now agent at Falls Bluff, on the North Bank. An Albany man recently met him there.

In a train wreck at Danville, Ill., yesterday five were killed and 71 injured. Rounding a curve the train went down a thirty foot embankment.

Brownsville is also investigating street pavement, and there are petitions for pavement on Main street, Spaulding ave., Oak, Locust and Depot streets, 80 per cent of the property owners signing the petitions.

The big Dewey Hotel at Nampa, Idaho, is to close on account of Nampa going dry. A hotel that has to have a bar to exist ought to close Nampa and Boise have been connected by electric lines. In the meantime what has become of the old chestnut that there is as much liquor drunk in a dry as a wet town.

Mayor Wennersten.

There is another chapter in the history of the city council of Lebanon. Another mayor has been elected, number three for the present administration: V. S. Wennersten, a Lebanon merchant, and former Albany clerk. On account of the handling of $80,000 bond money Lebanon has been having a hot old time. Mayor Wennersten and Councilmen Crandall, Northup, and Zeising, and City Engineer McArthur and Attorney Newport, last evening returned from Portland, where they had been to investigate pavement.

The Oratorical Contest.

At the state oratorical contest at Forest Grove last night David Pickett, of the U. O., who presented the topic Modern Paradox, won first place; Rev. Barry G. McClain of Willamette, Ideals of Citizenship, second, and R. E. Culver, New Statesman, McMinnville, third. It is not learned where Albany stands, the Albany delegation not having arrived.

An Editor and Councilman.

Victor Moore of the Corvallis G. T., and a member of the city council of Corvallis, went to Portland this morning, without a body guard, to keep in touch with things metropolitan. As a city father he has made a thorough investigation of pavement and says he is against concrete, believing it unsatisfactory. Corvallis continues to use bitulithic, and will this year.

Amundsen at the South Pole.

Amundsen, the Norwegian, telegraphs from Hobart, Tasmania, an account of his reaching the south pole, a great event in exploration. It was a cold trip, with the thermometer at 49 degrees below zero while on the trip the sun was not seen for four months. On Dec. the spot according to the instrument was reached. It is a vast plateau, a long stretch of plain, high above the ocean.

One of the Cols.

E. Hofer was in the city on his way home from Corvallis, where he had been to speak on made in Oregon support, at a convention to consider the subject of supporting home institutions. The Col. is said to have ridden some distance on the now explosive lionie, escaping serious injury, and, if he keeps on with this kind of business will soon be in Col. Roosevelt's class.

Already Rented.

Mr. Boom, agent for Mr. Hess, reports the new block to be built on the corner of Lyon and Third street, already rented to business men. Lyon street looks good to many. The building is to be a one-story brick, and Architect Jennings is now in charge of the plans.

THE COURTS.

Circuit:

The grand jury has returned a number of indictments, of which the following are in charge of the court:

Jack Lynch, larceny from a dwelling, the charge being the theft of about $20 from a man's pocket at a rooming house on Lyon street.

John Miller, larceny from a dwelling, being charged with the theft of a revolver from a section house near Albany.

John Scanlan, larceny from a dwelling, being charged with stealing some furs from Mrs. E. Merrill and selling them to a second hand store.

Frank Patton, assault with a dangerous weapon. This is the case wherein Patton and Harry Halkyer had an encounter in which Halkyer was badly cut in the face with a knife wielded by Patton.

Three against Al. Peacock. The story is that three boys from Crabtree, here to testify before the grand jury in a Crabtree case, bought liquor of Peacock, and gave it away to the grand jury.

There are said to be a number of other indictments against offenders against the local option law.

Jack Lynch took time for pleading and Monday at 8 a. m. was set.

John Miller was in a hurry to begin his residence at Salem, plead guilty, waived time and was sentenced to the penitentiary 1 to 7 years.

Following is the present grand jury, which has been doing business at the old stand for two or three days:

C. C. Burmaster, foreman, Jas. P. McTimmonds, J. W. Evans, E. A. True-love, J. W. Taylor, D. Isom, G. W. Laubner.
