Progressive Electric Companies Help Progressive Cities Grow.

An electric light and power company that strives to make itself efficient deserves public support and encouragement.

An efficient and progressive electric company is a decided factor in making the community it serves grow in prosperity and population.

If such a utility company succeeds it is fairly entitled to reasonable participation in the prosperity it has share in creating.

During the past year the Oregon Power Company has made many extensions and improvements in its property—all in the interest of wider and better service.
