THE WORLD IS STARTLED.

The wreck of the Titanic is one of the most appalling in history. The finest boat in the world, supposed to be as safe as traveling on land, unsinkable under ordinary circumstances, in an instant met an enemy of greater strength, an iceberg, the accumulation of ages, a monster in size, sneaking southward under the current, and went down with its millions of wealth, rich and poor alike, diamonds and rags together. The mind can hardly conceive of the despair of the situation, a battle against elements knowing only the force of nature.

When the Titanic was built it was thought a boat had been constructed that could meet all the requirements of absolute safety, and the rich took passage upon it accordingly, but, after all, it seems as if man's power is limited, and there are some things he cannot do, nor begin to do. The things he builds may seem strong, but how weak they are when the machinery of the Great Creator works its way against them.

It is a great thing to be able to travel over the world; but it doesn't take much to end it all.

Congressman Hawley is against the Kenyon-Sheppard bill, providing for the prohibition of the shipment of liquor into dry territory, one of the best bills before congress, greatly needed for the protection of states where the law provides for the prohibition of the traffic. After all politics and religion don't mix very well.

Senator Lafollette is a great man, a statesman of character, but he will not be nominated for president, and he will not get the Oregon delegation, which will go to President Taft.

Learn Telegraphy, fine opportunity for a young man who wishes to equip himself for a good paying position. Western Union Telegraph Company.
