

IT IS A BIG THING.

The general opinion is that Albany made a ten-stroke when it made arrangements for the present manufacturers' exposition, something that is bringing the city forward as one of the important industries. Many have been surprised at the showing made, not only in quantity, but as well in quality. It has been discovered that Albany has a good many large and small establishments making things; but what is just as important is the fact that they make high grade articles. The exposition has presented things that cannot be surpassed anywhere, speaking for a grade of workmanship that is uncommon. Along wood working lines particularly this has been striking. Furniture, chairs, sash, doors, columns, ladders, wheelbarrows, swings, fancy things, all are first-class.

Seeing has lead to inquiry and the fact is being appreciated that our institutions are doing a big business, sending goods to distant places. Nothing should be impressed on our minds more, though, than the fact that we owe it to these institutions to also give them our own support and make a specialty of asking for home goods first in the interest of our own city. If not in Albany then in Oregon, price and quality being equal.

This exposition should be made a permanent annual affair, and no doubt will be.

A man from a neighboring town at the depot today remarked that commercial men generally speak in high terms of the business conditions of Albany, its growth and advantages. One man openly said: "Do you know that they say Albany is the best of all of them."

This is primary day, an Oregon institution that is spreading over the country, giving the rule into the hands of the people, and it is their own fault if good men are not put up for office.

AN IMPORTANT ADDRESS.

Editor Democrat:— I have a very important announcement to make to the fruit raisers, small farmers and gardeners of this locality, and from past experience I know that you will assist me in doing so by granting me the use of your columns.

One thing in relation to this valley is settled beyond doubt, and that is that we can produce to perfection all kinds of fruits, berries and vegetables. But what does this amount to, if we cannot sell our products at remunerative prices?

It is a fact patent to all that our fruit, berry and vegetable raisers are now handicapped to a great extent in finding a market. The demand for our products in the green shape is limited, and if we ship to canneries and dryers at a distance the excessive freight rates recedes the profits to a very low figure. Now there is practically only one way out of this difficulty, and that is to form a co-operative association. Other towns of the Valley are doing this, and are not only securing larger markets for their products as they come from the tree and vine, but are able to work off their surplus and culls by the use of canneries and dryers.

The Albany Apple Growers' Association is taking up this matter, and will hold a meeting at the Exposition in this city next Saturday afternoon to discuss it. Mr. J. O. Holt, manager of the Eugene Fruit Association, has kindly consented to address the people directly upon this question at that time. The Eugene Association is now three years old, is a decided success, and Mr. Holt is responsible for this condition to a greater extent than any other man. Having had the experience he absolutely knows what he is talking about. Every fruit grower, small farmer and gardener within ten or fifteen miles of Albany, should go out and hear him next Saturday. Also I want to ask that each of you after reading this should call up your neighbors on the phone and tell them about it.

C. H. STEWART.

THE CARPATHIA ARRIVED.

The Carpathia arrived in New York last night, and the reports of the experiences are thrilling in the extreme. The Titanic went down with her band playing. Some were heroic and calm, others acted like maniacs. Wives had to be torn from their husbands. John Jacob Astor wanted to go with his wife, but was ordered back. Wealth did not rule there. Col. Archie Grace, U. S. A. went down with the vessel, but was picked up and saved from the icy waters.

1601 in all were drowned or killed, 745 saved.

One case of a striking character was that of Mrs. Isadore Straus, who refused to go into the life boat without her husband, and they went down together.

The Catpina was on the bridge as the boat went down giving orders to the last.

$5.00 Hats and $7.50 Dresses.

As advertised in last evening's Democrat for Friday and Saturday special by Chambers & McCune, made the hit of the season and if you don't believe it visit the Millinery Dept or Suit Dept tomorrow and see. At the time this article was written both departments were packed with ladies trying on hats and dresses and all declared them the best bargains ever offered in Albany.

SATURDAY NIGHT THOUGHTS.

The event of the week attracting the most attention was the wrecking of the Titanic among the icebergs off New Foundland, causing a loss of more than sixteen hundred people, mostly men, a steamer costing $10,000,000, besides many diamonds, etc. Because of the wealth represented the world took notice. It was a striking catastrophe. The vessel was going at a criminal speed, considering the surroundings in order to make a reputation for the boat; but it was in vain, worse than vanity. An iceberg stopped the recklessness, and a crowd of lives was the forfeit. The stories of heroism are many, showing the stuff men are made of when it comes to the rub.

In Oregon politics have been on the jump in the regular primaries preceding the biennial election. This is the way the people rule. This year they are practically nominating a president so general has been spreading of the referendum plan. It may be cumbersome, but people are peculiar, and it is their business.

The strength of Roosevelt and the dissatisfaction with President Taft have been a feature. But for the third term record Roosevelt would have swept the country, and as it is he has made a startling showing.

Albany this week has had one of the best things in its history, a manufacturer's exposition, bringing to the front the things made in Albany and Linn county, a striking success, as many have said, an eye-opener. We have shown some of the world that we have a splendid start for a manufacturing city, with the quality as well as the quantity.

A clean-up day this week came when people were very busy, but it was well observed. Nevertheless there is so much building going on, so many streets being torn up for paving, street car tracks, etc., that there is hardly a chance just now to make a showing that way. But the best clean-up is often in the back yard, and this has been well done. No one can afford to be down at the heels.

BURKHART PARK ADDITION.

The beautiful addition in East Albany known as Burkhardt Park addition is now ready for the home-builder, in charge of Hecker & Beam. The Oregon Electric goes thru the property. The streets are graded and sidewalks laid, and will have water and electric lights. A great many of the lots are possessed of beautiful shade trees, and, on account of the location and surroundings, the property will appeal to anyone.

Building restrictions are placed on the entire district. All the residences must be connected with city water and sewers.

Several beautiful bungalows are now on the property and are for sale at popular prices, built more as an advertising feature than for profit, to be sold for immediate occupancy.

The streets of the addition conform to the present streets of Albany, commencing with Second, then north to First, Water, Front, Williamette, Linn and River. From west to east also, Burkhardt, Columbia, Davidson and Evergreen.

Special Shoe Day.

The white shoe question is a worry to all merchants, and Chambers & McCune are happy to announce the arrival of over 100 pairs of White Buckskin shoes and pumps, also 144 pairs of White Duck shoes and pumps for women, misses and children. They are also showing the prettiest, no-biast styles of foot-wear for spring and summer wear ever displayed by this or any other. Chambers & McCune announce tomorrow as Opening Day in the Shoe Dept and invite every woman and miss to see the new styles.

In Honor of Mrs. Wertheimer.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Adolph Senders entertained her guest, Mrs. Wertheimer of Portland, at her pleasant home on Seventh street. Those present were: Mrs. Wertheimer, Mrs. Danna, Mrs. Schlosser, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Leininger, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. A. G. Senders and Little Alison, Miss Fannie Brenner, Misses Lena, Carrie and Vesta Senders and Mrs. Adolph Senders. The afternoon was spent in playing games and Mrs. Allen won the prize. The color scheme was pink and white and a very elaborate lunch was served by the hostess.

Miss Milan's Big Job.

It is doubtful if a young lady ever tackled a bigger job than Miss Ada Milan, the accomplished head of the domestic science department, did this afternoon when she started in to judge the hundred entries of bread and biscuits in the Johnson Best contest. They all looked good to the Democrat, a great advertisement for Johnson as well as for the bread makers.

The Weather.

Range of temperature 45-54
The river is 3.7 feet.
Rainfall .08 inch.
Prediction: fair tonight, with light frost, Saturday fair.

BEST THING ALBANY EVER HAD.

The armory had a big crowd last night on the first evening of the Made in Linn Exposition, which is proving a striking success, and attracting wide attention. "Best thing Albany ever had," some said. It certainly is a fine display of what Albany and Linn county can do.

The brightly lighted booth of the Oregon Power Co. and Ralston's Supply Co. was a center of attraction. Bread was toasted, buttered with Albany butter and served. Next door Johnson's Best served biscuits and people adm red the fine looking loaves made from the flour.

Ira Rivers showed a beautiful assortment of Albany woods in all manner of forms, showing him to be a wood turning expert. He would like a partner for the development of the business. The Albany Creamery Association, with the display, give some striking figures of the increase of their product. A map at the Veal section is a good one, showing where the chairs go, as far as Blaine, Wash., and Boise, down to Salt Lake, San Francisco, San Diego and even into Mexico, then over to the Hawaiian Islands.

The Union Furniture Factory has a very pretty setting of its exhibit, making it home-like.

After seeing the fine exhibit of the Albany Soda Works one should never think of drinking any other water.

J. G. Crawford, Dr. Collins and C. O. Anderson have pretty displays of polished Albany stones.

Dawson & Butzlaff have made their place a popular one with the youngsters, who swing, and the step ladders and wheelbarrows attract attention.

Mrs. Kuller has made the Woodworth exhibit a drawing card.

At the Hamilton booth, a neat one, Miss Hall makes buttons in any pattern desired.

J. Etherington and W. Preble, two experts, certainly did a good job in brick laying at the booth of the Albany Brick Co.

Albany has a new artist of talent, Mrs. Percy Smith, whose display is a good one.

Smokers will find a couple of attractive Eagle's and the Hut. They say Albany cigars can't be beat.

Every flue should have a Ludwig top. During the evening a program was rendered amidst the confusion of the sight-seers, more there to see rather than hear. There were some good talks.

E. Hofer, of Salem, started the program, boosting Oregon made goods, and advocating a united effort. He circulated a pledge to make purchases of necessities and luxuries giving preference to the products of Oregon labor, price and quality being equal.

A. M. Holton, of Portland, spoke in favor of using Oregon goods, keeping the money at home. As it is $25,000,000 annually is sent out of the state.

Chas. Cooney, of Portland, once a part owner of the Albany Woolen Mills, spoke on securing factories. One way is to always demand home made goods, another to invest your money in them. Oregon has done well in boosting, but she needs to have something for newcomers to do, more factories.

A. M. Hammer, chairman of the exposition committee, gave a well prepared and comprehensive statement of the things on exhibition, with some suggestions for the future.

This evening the subject will be industries and education, with addresses by Prof. Reesler of the O. A. C., Prof. Powers, city superintendent of Salem, and Dr. Sharp of the college.

The address tomorrow afternoon by J. O. Holt, of Eugene, specially deserves a big hearing, being of much concern to fruit raisers.

Sam Hill's Lecture.

Albany is to be given a treat Tuesday evening, Samuel Hill, one of the leading good road advocates in the United States and son-in-law of James J. Hill the railroad magnate, is to speak here on the work every community should do in developing its roads. Mr. Hill will illustrate his talk with stereopticon slides which will give a splendid idea of what good work has been done elsewhere on roads.

In the United States there is not a more striking character than Samuel Hill, a splendid speaker, a business man of the broadest experience, and enthusiast of the most intense nature, a man of diversified attainments.

This lecture will be delivered at the armory Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock. It is worth the time of every citizen who wants to see Linn county progress.

Big Animal Circus.

With the coming of Al. G. Barnes big three ring wild animal show the small boy will be in his delight when the first strains of the band announcing the big parade will be heard, and it will continue to be a red-letter day for him until the last car is loaded.

Barnes wild animal show is the only real animal show in the world, with 350 wild trained animals doing feats which border on the impossible not one of which can shirk his duty on former laurels or ancient name. Everywhere this has been acclaimed by the press as the most thrilling and spectacular show which has ever been seen west of the Rocky mountains. April 25 will be the date.

Against Bonded Roads.

The following resolution was recently adopted by Oak Plain Grange No. 6: RESOLVED, that we as a grange are opposed to all of the various Road or Highway Bills that are being proposed by the various road or highway associations, to create a state Highway Commission, and we are opposed to any measure proposing to bond the property of this state, and we believe it is to the best interest of the people that the county should be the unit of all road improvements, and that we are strictly opposed to one man rule.

SATURDAY.

GOOD BREAD MAKERS.

The bread making contest of Johnson's Best at the Made in Linn Ex., at the armory, excited great interest. There were one hundred forty entries in all, and Miss Ada Milan, of the domestic science department of the O. A. C. tested all of them, on this basis: taste, texture and grain, 20, lightness 15, color, crumb and crust 20, shape 10. The awards were as follows, in the order named:

Light bread.—Mrs. J. A. Dumond first, rocking chair; Mrs. J. R. Flynn, jardiner stand; Mrs. Anna Fox, dinner set; Mrs. E. B. Bloomfield, bbl. Johnson's Best; Mrs. Guy Knapp, sack flour; Mrs. Frank Kitchen, sack flour.

Light biscuits.—Mrs. Fisher, first, dinner set; Mrs. Rev. Leech, bbl. Johnson's Best; Mrs. W. A. McClain, sack; Mrs. Geo. Forgy, same; Mrs. E. D. Barrett, same; Mrs. Earl, same. Salt risi g bread.—Mrs. E. Morgan, first, jardiner stand; Mrs. W. P. Small, sack Johnson's Best; Mrs. Amanda Johnson, same.

Another big crowd was present last night. There were some good talks by Dr. Sharp of Albany College on colleges and industries and Prof. Reesler, of the O. A. C. on industrial education, along which line the O. A. C. is doing a great work. Prof. Powers of Salem was unable to be present. Col. Hofer made some remarks.

Albany College has a good booth that is a popular place, with the college colors conspicuous and literature free.

A display showing splendid workmanship is presented by Watson Bros. Iron Works.

In the Brownsville booth a couple tailor made suits, from Brownsville goods, have been admired. Mrs. W. F. Heckman, of this city, made them, speaking for her skill.

This afternoon J. O. Holt, of Eugene, spoke on fruit culture, a very important address. Tonight the exposition will close. The speakers will be Chas. Hoeg, W. F. Scott and L. Samuel, all of Portland, on factories and home industries.

At the exposition tonight the Johnson Best bread will be auctioned off for the benefit of the library fund, and also some of the very fine display of the Beam-Fletcher Co.

A genuine mummy is to be shown in Corvallis soon, but that won't be anything new there.
There is talk of a wholesale produce house here, a business man being here to investigate the matter.
The big audiences of Dr. Hill of the east are only in the Oregonian. They are small ones as a fact, all through the state, a regular frof except when they reach the big tower.
After all it will not be at all surprising if Roosevelt does not get the Oregon delegation. The president's support is small all over the state except in the columns of the Oregonian.

With the privilege of prying for pavement in ten installments it is not probable Albany will be affected materially financially by its pavement. Not only that, but as an investment in the long run it will add decidedly to the city's capital, as well as permanent improvement.
Eighteen knots an hour among icebergs was suicidal. Frank Wood of this city, who has made many trips to Nome, traveling among icebergs, says extreme caution always has to be taken, the boats simply crawling along. On one of Mrs. Wood's trips there to join her husband the boat bumped against an iceberg while going very slow and even then almost went down.
