

Daily Democrat

Dead men tell no tales, but, in St. Louis, they vote the Republican ticket.

Governor Hill, of New York, denies the report that he intends to be married. He says that bachelorhood suits him well enough.

Indiana men who now go to Washington feel so much at home there that they insist on calling the Goddess of Liberty by her first name.

The important announcement comes by telegraph from Washington that Baby McKee kept the whole White House awake night before last.

The Emperor of Germany is an early riser. When he takes his usual drive through the Thiergarten at 8:30 he has not only breakfasted but done more than an hour's hard work. The Empress is nearly always her consort's companion of these early drives.

President Harrison's decision to make congressmen and senators brokers who shall deal in the offices of their several states is a long step backward. Harrison evidently does not believe in the civil service declaration of his party platform.

The Prince of Wales has, perhaps, the finest railway coach in Europe. The South-eastern built it and it contains seven rooms, there being a study, with a little library, a couple of bed rooms, a dressing room and a bath room. The bed room is most luxuriously furnished in old gold silk, being lighted by electricity, and the paneling is beautifully painted. The Prince uses his carriage for all his journeys south.

Two more iron mills connected with the Reading works have gone down, throwing 1800 men and boys out of employment. These failures and collapses in the iron trade have averaged about one a day since March 4, which fact goes a great way to show that neither wages nor business nor wealth can depend upon customs duties for existence; much less upon an elective endorsement of such customs duties.

The report comes from Washington that Col. Dudley, of Indiana, is to be assistant secretary of state. Chairman Huston, of the Indiana state committee, is to be treasurer, instead of assistant secretary, as originally arranged. Richard C. Parsons, formerly marshal of the supreme court, who was mixed up in the DeGolyer pavement and Memphis and El Paso legislation, expects to be comptroller of currency. It is understood that the minutes of the court at the time he retired from the marshal's office will be filed with his other recommendations. The District of Columbia politicians say that Myron M. Parker, a real estate agent, and formerly assistant postmaster at Washington, will be nominated for district commissioner, to succeed Mr. Webb.

They are telling a very funny story about Major Stofer, late of the St. Louis Republic. It seems Stofer was at the races, or something equally absorbing, and entered his office late at night, sans news, sans energy, sans nerve, sans hustle. He found a splendid local story in a Baltimore paper concerning a Missouri man, and hastily clipped it out, marked it "Special to the Republic," and fired it into the telegraph office. The next morning he received a telegram from the home office, asking why in thunder he had telegraphed the Baltimore market as "news" to a St. Louis paper. It had turned out that Stofer had pasted his matter wrong side up. Instead of sending his good story, he had pasted that down and left the market report to be sent, and the St. Louis paper received word that in Baltimore lard was worth thirteen cents, butter twenty-five cents, potatoes $1.13 per bushel, etc. Stofer is one of the best fellows in the world, which is demonstrated by the fact that he enjoys a good joke, even when it is on him self—a rare good faculty, as most of us want the joke on the other fellow.

The average weight of male adults is 130 pounds; of women, about 110 pounds. The average height of American recruits is about 5 feet 9 inches. The average height of well built men is 5 feet 9 inches; of women, 5 feet 4 inches. One inch of height should add two pounds to weight. The specific gravity of the body ranges from 0.950 to 1.030. The heart weighs 260 grammes in women and 330 grammes (10 1/2 ounces) in men; the average weight is 292 grammes. The period of its maximum weight is between 50 and 80. The amount of blood in the body is one-thirteenth the weight of the body, or 5 or 6 quarts, or 11 or 12 pounds. A man dies when he has lost a fifth of his blood. The heart with each contraction ejects 6 ounces of blood from each ventricle, at a pressure in the left ventricle of one fourth of an atmosphere. The heart sends all the blood around the body twice every minute, or in about thirty-five contractions. A deadly poison injected into a vein kills in fifteen seconds, on the average; injected under the skin in four minutes. A cubic millimetre of blood contains 5,000,000 blood cells in men, 4,500,000 in women. There are 300 red cells to every one white blood cell. The red cells have an average diameter of 1-3200 inch, the white cells of 1-25000 inch. The specific gravity of the blood is 1.055. The frequency of the pulse in the new born is 150; in infants of one year, 110; at two years, 95; at seven to fourteen years, 85; in the adult man, 72; women, 80. The aspirations are one-fourth as rapid as the pulse.

A druggist recently received a visit from a lantern jawed, hollow eyed man, who asked in cadaverous tones if he could give him any remedy that would drive away a nightmare like care that was preying upon his health. The man of drugs nodded and compounded a mixture of quinine, wormwood, rhubarb and epsom salts, with a dash of castor oil, and offered it to the despairing patient, who apathetically gulped it down. History avers that for six months he could not think of anything except new schemes for getting the taste out of his mouth.

John Scott Harrison, brother of the president, has been having a jolly time in Washington. He is smaller than the president and younger, and they have many points of resemblance. Brother John wears a full beard, and the expression of his face is like Benjamin's. His home is in Kansas City, Mo.
