Albany is not booming, she is just grow ing right along like a great, hig, stout, healthy boy. The man who stands on the corner singing "wait for the wagon" will get left.

The list of hotel arrivals published in the Oregonian tells its own tale. The rush to Oregon, and the Willamette valley especially, is altogether unprecedented. Albany fe els the effect of it very perceptibly

The loss from insect ravages in this country may appear small, but Prof. Riley estimates the annual damage as high as $500,-000,000. This is enormous, and equals the entire product of some of the cereal crops. This does not include the cost of labor devoted to the destruction of insects, or for methods preventing depredation, but the value of the amount destroyed.

Patrick Egan of Nebraska is said to be booked for the Mexican mission. He is needed by the Administration to curb Brits ish influence in the sister republic. The ink is hardly dry on Patrick Egan's naturalization papers. He has been a citizen, we believe, less than three years. It is a hard commentary upon the people of this country that none can be found to properly represent us in Mexico except this newly made American. The inference that the longer a man has been a citizen the less he is qualified to protect the interests of his country is quite an indictment against our institutions.

From Brownsburg, Indiana, comes the story, (true.of course,) that a young lady sent a note to a discarded lover, requesting the return of a lock of hair, which, in the whilom hours of courtship, he had clipped from her dainty tresses. Rumaging his trunk he collected a number of locks, culled from various 'best girls" during his love making career, and forwarded them in a bundle to the girl, inclosing a note to the effect that he had really forgotten which was hers, but she might select it from those forwarded and return the rest at her convenience.

One day last week thirty-six female doctors were sent out with the professional label by a medical institution in Philadel phia. It was not a rare event. There is no doubt that woman is making her way in that vocation, with a good deal of success. Every considerable town has more or less women doctors, and they are believed to be gaining a fair share of practice. The greatest obstacle they meet is the prejudice in their own sex. It is a singular fact that women are much less ready than men to believe that the female mind can grasp the supposed mysteries of the art that impresses with classic obscurity of terms and wise semblance.

An English syndicate is reported to have purchased 2,000,000 acres of land in New Mexico, and is fitting it up for the largest farm in the world. It is to be devoted to he various departments of production. The owners have great wealth, and will operate it with tenantry from their alien residence. Immense farms have been found in Dako. ta to be detrimental to the development of the country and building up of society. and there should be means for defeating their formation by the use of new or government lands. They drain the country as far as possible, and prevent its settling up with the men who will make permanent homes. But fortunately, great farms do not generally last long in this country. A few severe losses are apt to discourage the owners, and they cut up the vast domain into small farms and sell.

We are informed by the republican press that Mr. Schuyler was finally adjudged unfit to be Assistant Secretary of State because his Americanism was in doubt. we do not pretend that this

The idea of making trouble for the victim of strong drink is not exactly in line with sentimental and reformation theories, but is spreading a good deal. Some of the Eastern legislatures are following the Minnesota example. As drunkenness is shameful and a nuisance, it is insisted that the party guilty of it shall feel the harsh grip of the law in person, rather than in a vicarious way. A Philadelphia paper regards it about as rational to hang up the maker of the gun and let the murderer who used it escape, as to punish the maker or seller of intoxicants for the excess of those who drink them. The illustration will, however, hardly be accepted by prohibitionists.

ant of brave old Philip Schuyler can have any such tried Americanism as is ascribed to Patrick Egan, a veteran citizen of two long years' experience, yet it would seem that after being Consul at Moscow and Revel,Secretary of Legation at St Petersburg and Constantinople, Consul at Birmingham and Consul-General at Rome, Diplomatic Agent, Consul-General and Minister Resident in Roumania, Mr. Schuyler might plead that his country had somewhat cer-Mfied to his Americanism.

Among the coming devices of Edison is promised the "linguagraph." A Minneap olis man is said to be interested with him in this patent. The immediate purpose of it is to do away with the annoying shricks of the steam whistle by substituting a machine that can talk. It will shout "brakes" in place of the whistling for down brakes. It is all a matter of valves, key-boards and pipes. At crossings and stations it will send out a piercing but melodious voice of warning. Of course the ponderous diapa son will be heard all through the train, and can be adjusted to announce the approaching station. It may enable unfamiliar passengers to guess at the name of the place, which the present cheap elocution does not often render possible. If the device does this work on the railroads, there is hardly a limit to its possible uses. It will dispense with the human voice in a large and varied field. If musically inclined, it can entertain travelers with melody and perhaps song.
