

From our regular correspondent. WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 21st, 1889.

Senator John Sherman and the other republicans of the Ohio Congressional delegation are at dagger points. The Senator, with his usual greediness, wants the other fellows to allow him to name the Ohio men who shall have Federal patronage.

Among the disgusted Ohio republicans is Alphonse Hart, who came here prepared to go to work as Solicitor of Internal Revenue, a position which he says Attorney General Miller tendered him and which he accepted several weeks ago.

The new republican officials are very prompt in getting sworn in, so as to let their salaries begin. Then they take their own time about beginning to work. I was forcibly reminded of this when Robert P. Porter, editor of the New York Press, turned up here two days after he was appointed Superintendent of the Census, was sworn in, rushed down, caught on an afternoon train and returned to his private business in New York City.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Tichenor is mad, he is in fact very mad, and does not care who knows it. He had a candidate for the position of appraiser of the port of New York, and the president appointed another fellow. The only consolation that Mr Tichenor has is the fact that the appointment does not please the New York Senators any better than it does himself.

For years it has been the custom to consider the four years commissions of Federal officials as beginning from the date of their confirmation. Now, in order to make vacancies, the republican Congressmen are bringing pressure to bear on President Harrison to have an order issued to consider these commissions as dating from the original appointment.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission has notified the officers of all the railroads in the middle and Eastern states to appear before the Commission May 3rd and set forth the persons and classes of persons, if any, to whom each of them has issued free passes or free transportation to persons other than its own officers or employes and the officers and employes of other railroad companies, and all the conditions and limitations connected therewith in each instance, and how they do this branch of business.

Every mother knows how often little ones get something in the eye. Take hold of the lashes of the upper lid with the left hand pressing the dull point of a pencil against the middle of the lid, turn it upward; then remove the substance with a camel's hair brush or the corner of a soft handkerchief. Particles of lime often cause great pain if they get into the eye, as any one who has ever whitewashed a ceiling can testify. Apply weak vinegar to neutralize the alkali and remove the particle as directed.

The five central American republics, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Salvador and Honduras, have taken another step toward a federal union, by agreeing upon a treaty which provides that any difficulties arising between them shall be settled by the arbitration of some foreign power; that none of the five shall form foreign alliances without the consent of all, and that delegates from all shall meet annually to consider matters of mutual interest.

The freedom of the press seems to be a doctrine exceedingly difficult to comprehend in England. It is undoubtedly true that there may sometimes be too much freedom of personal abuse, but to fine an editor $1,500 for saying that a can-can dance which he himself saw was indecent, is carrying censorship a little too far.

A fine line of gold head ed cases H Ewert's.

In reversing the adverse decision of Commissioner Black upon the application for a pension in the case of death by delirium tremens of a man who had suffered no disability in the army, Commissioner Tanner said it was possible that the man might have contracted the habit of drinking in the army, becoming a drunkard twenty-five years later. There was no evidence that the man ever drank in the army. The $80,000,000 a year in pensions now will easily be multiplied several times under four years of Tanner.
