THEY QUARREL.—Clark Braden, the Christian, and C. B. Reynolds, the infidel have been quarrelling up at Walla Walla and the Union tells about it as follows: "Saturday night a large crowd assembled at the opera house, to listen to the fifth discussion between Clark Braden and ex-Rev. C. B. Reynolds. Mr. Braden, in affirmation spoke half an hour, and was replied to by Mr. Reynolds. On Mr. Braden taking the floor for his second speech, his few opening sentences angered Mr. Rosenow, moderator for Mr. Reynolds, and he arose and stated that he had suffered abuse and insult at the hands of the speaker long enough, and would withdraw from the meeting. Mr. Reynolds also stated that he felt he had been vilified sufficiently, and would leave the hall. Mr. Braden would have continued his address, but the audience broke into an uproar, the speaker being assailed with loud hisses and cat calls. When order had been restored, after much difficulty, Braden delivered an inflammatory speech, the audience filling out at the door the while.

THE CITY OF GRANT'S PASS.—The county seat of Josephine county is situated in the lower Rogue River Valley, 300 miles south of Portland, on the line of the Southern Pacific railroad, at a point where the happy union of Oregon soil and California climate takes place. The town is less than six years of age, has a population of 1500, and can truthfully claim to have more handsome dwellings and more substantial industrial enterprises in operation than any city of its age in Oregon or Washington. Grant's Pass, in addition to having the most picturesque town site in Oregon, occupies a most commanding position with reference to the trade of the surrounding country, and will always remain with out a rival. Its resources consist of magnificent forests of a merchantable character, rich gold and silver mines, a vast agricultural and stock country, and thousands of acres of the most productive semi-tropical fruit land on the Pacific coast. What more is needed to make a great city?—Pamphlet.

A LIVELY EVENING.—Last evening first street for awhile presented a pretty lively kind of an appearance, equal to Kearney street for a few minutes. The Big 4s were giving an open air concert and gymnastic exhibition, when the Salvation army attempted to drown out their music with their big bass drum, resulting in a lively episode. In the meantime a fellow with lots of booze threatened to whip Ned Duffy, the bootblack, but Ned never allows anyone to impose on him and the chap was soon measuring two yards on the cold pavement. Altogether Albany wore the traditional metropolitan garb for a few minutes.

STATE APPOINTMENTS.—Governor Penney yesterday made the appointment of the state medical board, which was created by the late legislature. This board is known as the board of examiners for the state of Oregon. The following were appointed: J. Dixon for one year, O. P. Plummer, two years and James Brown, three years. These gentlemen are all residents of Portland, and it is understood, are all of the alphabetic school. The dental board was also appointed as follows: E. G. Clark and S. J. Barber, both of Portland. Dr. E. C. Miles, of Yaquina, was appointed health officer for Yaquina Bay.

A STRIKE.—The hands on the West Side Narrow Gauge have stopped their train at Monmouth and refused to allow it to proceed until they are paid. The road owes its men all the way from $100 up to $1000, the latter sum, it is said, being due one of the employees of the road. It is thought the strike will strike the East Side lines, and trains generally be stopped on the Narrow Gauge until there is some liquidating done; but where is the money to come from.

BASE BALL TO-MORROW.—The game of base ball to-morrow between Monmouth and Albany promises to be an exciting one. We understand that the Monmouth boys have picked up the best players to be found in that part of the valley regardless of their connection with the school. The Albany club is a pretty good one, though, and will rattle the Monmouthites a little.

WHERE DID YOU LEARN IT?—The Oregon Pacific has rails laid four miles beyond Gatsville, the present terminus, and its grade is almost completed for fifteen miles beyond that. The work is expected to begin on the construction of the line eastward within a few weeks. The company will do their own work, in preference to contracting it as in the past.—Journal.

SOME MINERS.—Mr. Calhoun, Superintendent of the Albany Milling & Mining Co.'s Santiam mines, with an old Colorado miner, left for the mines this morning on the Oregon Pacific. Mr. King, Secretary of the Portland Galena Co., also went up to his mines on the same train. Their galena mine is developing considerable gold as the depth increases, contrary to expectations.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.—For the 12 hours beginning at 12 o'clock, noon.
Fair, warmer.

STATE W. C. T. U.

Thursday morning session. Devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. Edwards. Mrs. Kinney, of Astoria, superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, presented a most interesting report, and five minutes were given to the discussion of this department. Mrs. Kinney urged the local superintendents to visit the schools and use their influence in securing thorough teaching in this branch. The law on this branch of instruction is defective in Oregon, and it is to be hoped that it will be strengthened in the future.

Mrs. Grandis, of Astoria, read the report of the Supt. of Legislation. The report said that through the efforts of Mrs. Riggs an appropriation of $2500 annually for the establishing of a Refuge Home in Portland had been secured. Little has been done in circulating general petitions, the plan of writing letters to influential persons in behalf of desired measures having been pursued.

The Superintendent of the Baby Home of East Portland, Mrs. Harlin, reported that the Home is now firmly established.

Number of children cared for in the Home since instituted 135.

Number of adults temporarily cared for 13.

Number of men, boys and women provided employment, 49.

Children adopted to permanent homes, 14.

Number placed in temporary homes, 13.

Number of deaths 11.

Number of children now in charge, 24.

Miss Weeden reported her work for the Temperance Temple in her characteristic style and urged the Unions to contribute to this fund.

Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney made an earnest eulogistic talk on Miss Willard's new book, "Glimpses of Fifty Years." Said she was glad that our National President was setting the fashion for women to tell their ages. She urged the Press Superintendents to bring the book before the public.

Mrs. Shane, Supt. of Music lamented the lack of enthusiasm in her department.

Miss Earmy, of Portland, Supt. of Kindergarten reports the school successful, more so than last year. This work is a most humane one.

The mothers of children who go out for the day to work, bring their children there and leave them for the day. They are carefully cared for and taught, and returned in the evening; this is certainly a benevolent work. Ad. Journal after noon prayer.

Afternoon session.—Mrs. Rounds led the devotional exercises.

Prof. Van Scoy, of the Willamette University, extended an invitation to the Convention to visit the University, and that some lady be designated to address the students. A vote of thanks was returned.

Mrs. Thomas, Supt. of Juvenile work read a favorable report, but finds the work neglected in many localities. Five minutes discussion was granted on this department. One lady stated that if we could get hold of the mothers we would soon have the children.

Committee on Plan of Work reported the following:

PLAN OF WORK.

As thorough, systematic organization is under God the very foundation and strength of our work and as the existence of only forty-three in this great state shows plainly that the crying need of the state is more extensive and complete organization, therefore,

1st. We earnestly recommend that organization shall for the coming year be made the chief line of work.

2nd. In the interest of such organization we recommend that the state officers by solicitation shall secure a special fund, to be known as State Organization Fund. This fund to be kept separate from all other state moneys and to be used solely and only for organization purposes.

3rd. That one or more organizers be employed, by the week or month, by the state officers, the duties of said organizers being to visit unorganized districts and weak Unions, holding public meetings, effecting and renewing Unions, and where ever there are one or more active Unions in a county effect also a county organization. The said organizer to take up a collection in the name of the state Union for the organization fund, and wherever these collections are not sufficient to cover the expense of organization the deficiency to be supplied out of the original state organization fund.

4th. Believing that too much machinery is a burden and an expense, we recommend the abolition of district officers and that the county officers be held responsible not only for the general care and prosperity of the local unions in their respective counties, but also for the further organization of said counties.

5th. We recommend that in all organized counties reports from local unions of that county be sent to the respective county officers, and that county general officers and superintendents in their turn report direct to the state officers and superintendents.

Respectfully submitted,
NARCISSE WHITE KINNEY,
MARY M. ELAIN,
MARY E. K. EDWARDS,
Committee.

This report was adopted by items.

Mrs. Nash, State Press Supt., read one of the most pointed and sensible reports heard during the convention.

After this came the report of the Supt. of Literature. This was meager, the unions seem to have exhausted themselves during the amendment campaign in this work, and but little was reported.

This report finished the business of the afternoon.

EVENING SESSION.

Devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Edwards, of Newberg. Prof. Parvin leading the congregation in singing.

Mrs. Narcissa White Kinney was introduced in a few bright complimentary remarks, as the speaker of the evening. My pen is too feeble to attempt to give even a synopsis of her address. It is sufficient to say she did herself credit, and that is saying much.

The evening closed with a male quartette under the leadership of Prof. Parvin. B.

THE OREGON PACIFIC.

The statement made several days ago by the DEMOCRAT that work was to be resumed at once by the Oregon Pacific is confirmed by the dispatches. One from Corvallis dated yesterday reads: "Instructions were received to-day by Second Vice-President Nash, of the Oregon Pacific office here, direct from the New York headquarters, to push the work on the Oregon Pacific eastward extension energetically. It is expected that operations will be resumed as soon as men and material can be got to the front." And one from New York of same date: "Subscription books for an issue of $5,000,000 first mortgage 6 per cent. Oregon Pacific railroad bonds were opened this morning in this city and Philadelphia." These mean an early forward movement towards Boise City and a steady one until a union with the C & N W.

THE CIRCUS.—The combined Sells Brothers and Barrett circus and menagerie opened on Friday at Central Park to a big house, or rather tent, and the audiences have been on the increase ever since. Last evening every seat was filled, and there must have been fully 7000 people present to enjoy the excellent performance. The show is even better than when it was here before, and one gets full value for the money charged for entrance. There were two rings and an elevated stage, in and upon which varied and entertaining acts were performed without interruption, the program including twenty-two distinct acts and twelve races. Among the principal features were balancing, tight-rope dancing, tumbling, vaulting, all kinds of trapeze and horizontal-bar work, juggling, hip-podrome racing, trained mules and elephants, the splendid bareback riding of Sells, and many other clever performances, making an entertainment well calculated to please all classes.—Alta, Cal., April 28.

Grand Railroad Excursion!

—TO—

GRANT'S PASS!

The Largest and Most Progressive City of Its Age in Oregon.

Special Train, Friday May 31st.

A Magnificent Daylight Ride Through the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River Valleys.

ROUND TRIP, $7.50. DISTANCE 600 MILES.

Regular fare, $24. Making this the lowest railroad rate ever obtained in this State. A three days' outing among the sparkling streams, fruit laden valleys and vine clad hills of Southern Oregon. The Grant's Pass Special, consisting of 10 first class coaches will leave the Southern Pacific depot, East Portland, on Friday, May 31st, at 7 a. m., arriving at destination 12 hours later. Returning, will leave Grant's Pass Sunday, June 2nd, at 7 a. m., arriving at East Portland at 7 p. m., thus making the entire run of 600 miles by daylight. The number of tickets has been limited to 200, and will be on sale at Portland, Oregon City, Salem, Albany and Eugene. First class accommodations have been arranged for at reduced rates, so that the entire expense of the trip, including the fare, need not exceed $10. One of the features of the occasion will be a grand outdoor dinner on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the people of Grant's Pass. The object of the excursion is to exhibit the property of the Grant's Pass Improvement Company, consisting of 5 and 10 acre fruit tracts, also 300 choice residence and business lots in the original townsite, which will be offered for sale on the occasion at prices ranging from $20 to $150 each; terms, one-half cash; balance in one year. The highest priced business lot, right in the midst of business houses, is only $150. Fifty dollars will buy a choice residence lot, five blocks from center of the city. Remember that the future growth of Portland is dependent largely upon the increased settlement of the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River Valleys, and that means that money invested in Grant's Pass, or, in fact, any town on the O & C road from Oregon City to Ashland, must bring a handsome return, in time, to the investor. All those purchasing property from the Improvement Co., on this occasion will have full railroad fare returned. Secure your railroad tickets at once, as the number is limited to 200, and a large number have already been spoken for.

For railroad tickets, maps, views and other particulars, call on or address
