

From our regular correspondent, WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 1st, 1889.

Harrison's conscience or the force of the criticism he has recently received for Sunday junketing, I don't know which, perhaps a little of both, caused him to spend yesterday in the White House, notwithstanding the fact that up to Friday morning he had intended to spend the day at Cape May. He could not, however, withstand the temptation of taking a fun ride to Baltimore and return Saturday afternoon to meet his wife and grandchildren. This week the family go to Deer Park and he goes to Woodstock, Connecticut, to assist in celebrating the Fourth of July. Let's more free railroading.

At last an anti-Malbone Virginia republican has got something. John S. Wise has succeeded in getting his son appointed a cadet to West Point.

Now that the new fiscal year has begun republicans here are looking for the speedy discharge of every democrat in the Government service, who is not protected by the civil service law, and as many of the latter as displaced Union veterans can be found to succeed under the recent order of Harrison.

Another negro has succeeded a prize. This time it is Fred Douglass, who has been appointed minister to Hayti. The appointment is creating much dissatisfaction among the rest of the darkies, with whom Douglass has been very unpopular ever since he married a white woman.

Harrison has compelled Secretary Windom to appoint W. M. Meredith of Chicago superintendent of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, although Windom had a man of his own for the place. The fight was long and bitter and at last Harrison informed Windom that Meredith must be appointed even if he had to have a new Secretary of the Treasury. This brought "Billy" down on his marrow bones very quickly, as star route Dorsey's wild cat scheme which he had been trying to boost for several years offered no inducements, when compared with the salary and perquisites, particularly the latter, of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Sour grapes—Don Cameron don't want to be re-elected to the Senate. It was his father, Simon Cameron, now dead, who put him there and kept him there. Don would hardly be elected a county road supervisor if ability only was considered. Ditto—"granny" Blair, who has suddenly come to the conclusion that he will save the New Hampshire legislature the trouble of defeating him by declining to again be a candidate for the senate. The senate will not find it difficult to survive the loss of these two men.

This is a "protection" administration! see how it protects American labor and capital! in giving out a contract for 550,000 enameled bricks to be used in the construction of the new National library building in this city. The contract was given to an English firm because by remitting the duty they can be delivered here a little cheaper than they can be bought in America. So could almost everything else, and the question naturally arises, why should the Government do what it refuses to let the people do?

In the language of slang it may be remarked that there are "no flies" on the present civil service commission, and that it intends to "run the machine" or "bust" the seller.

The indictments against Dorsey, Brady, et al, in the famous star route cases which have been cumbering the court records for seven or eight years, have all been nolle prossed.

Blaine has told his man William Walter Phelps, just appointed minister to Germany, that he might take his own time about going to Berlin. But it isn't his own time he is taking; it is the people's. He qualified as minister the day he was appointed and his salary of $17,500 a year began.

The new British minister evidently has no idea of making any such blunder as Lord Sackville, his immediate successor, did. He has bought a farm near this city, and not satisfied with having become a taxpayer in the United States he proposes to go with the president and his party to the Fourth of July celebration at Woodstock. If Sir Julian keeps on he will certainly be very solid with the "boys."

The New York politicians have jumped on Harrison again. Friday and Saturday Morton, Hiscock, Depew and a lot more of the "bigguns" were here in the interest of the various candidates for the New York federal appointments. It was stated Saturday that a slate had been agreed upon, at any rate most of the New Yorkers went home, but the appointments haven't been made yet.

The Haytian government recently captured an American steamer and for a time refused to release her, but were only too glad to do so and pay a cash indemnity of $5,000 when Commander Kellogg of the U. S. S. Osage gave them the choice of doing so or of having Port-au-Prince bombarded. The money was paid and the vessel released. What sense there was in keeping news of this character from the public I cannot see.

Mr George Rogers of Salem in hunting a name for his new paper to be started in that city this week selected the name "Capital Democrat". The Capital Journal began to kick about this infringement upon its name. Then Mr Rogers selected the name "State Democrat." Now this is equally an infringement upon the name of this paper and Mr Rogers should reenter the field of nomenclature and select a name for his paper peculiar to itself.
