THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

The M. A. T. has just read the following from the Pendleton E. O. and wonders if it isn't simply a specimen of sarcasm, for Pendleton is quite a town: "Pendleton is a city of 4,500 people, and yet there is not a real estate agent in the city—if there is, he hasn't life enough to let the fact be known in printer's ink. A live, active real estate agent, who knows his business, will do well here."

The M. A. T. observes Prof Langford, the aesthetic music teacher in the city. The Prof comes under the following certificate of his family physician, Dr W P Vicia, of Brownsville: "To who it may concern:—Prof Langford, is now under my treatment and I think a few days' rest advisable." The Prof is getting the rest he deserves. What Prof Langford needs is a good wife.

Brownville has the M. A. T.'s sympathy. It has a new band. This sympathy, though, will develop into congratulation, as soon as the discords taper into harmony and music.

The M. A. T. who reads and hears about the whole of Oregon, through those monstrous powers, the press and ears, is prepared to remark that Albany has the brightest prospects of any city in Oregon besides Portland. He knows of at least one man who files so high as to put our future population at 100,000. Date not named.

WHO HILL IS.—As there has been considerable speculation as to who W A Hill, one of the train wreckers, is, we give the following from the Brownsville Times: "We were acquainted with Mr Hill who helped wreck the overland train and can say it is our belief that this terrible crime can be attributed to intoxication. Young Hill was not a vicious person, when sober, and though he was known to get on a 'drunk' now and then he was considered no worse than hundreds of other young men. He has fine parents, who recently came from Kansas, stopping at Woodburn, where we formed their acquaintance. They moved to Astoria, where they were living at the time of the wreck. They moved to Albany last week, and will likely make that their future home."

LOST IN THE FOG.—Mr W H Greenwood and wife have returned from the Bay. The DEMOCRAT is told of a foggy experience by them, and Mr J G Crawford and daughter, and a niece of Mr Paxton. One day at 2 o'clock they started for Yaquina in a row boat. An awful fog settled on them, and it took them four weary hours to find themselves, to the fright of the ladies. No scenes were taken, as a mountain twenty feet off could not have been seen.

BARNHARD WENCEN.—Last evening Marshal Hoffman received a despatch from officer Mitchell of Montague that he would bring "Barney Wilson," whose real name is Barnhard Wencen, to Albany, and this morning the officer and prisoner arrived on the overland train. The case was set for hearing before Justice Humphrey at 2 o'clock p m Monday. Money is said to have been raised for Wencen's defense.

He has received a fine lot of Wedgwood & Co's Newyacht decorated ware, called ruby ware, handsomest goods in the market. Mr Gradwohl makes crockery a specialty and will meet the demands of the public in any line. Do not send away for goods but give him a call.

They embrace the very latest patterns, are in style and will make up, under the skillful workmanship of Mr. Schiffer into the finest suits to be obtained in the Valley. OBITUARY.

Samantha Jane Archibald died at her home near Albany on Tuesday, August 6th, 1889. Mrs. Archibald's maiden name was Marshall, being a sister of A. H. Clay and Arthur Marshall. She was born in Sangamon county, Illinois, January 25th, 1841 and while yet young moved with her parents to Iowa from which State with her parents in 1851 she crossed the plains. On April 11th, 1858 she was united in marriage to Jesse M Archibald who survives her and mourns the loss of a loving wife. The fruit of this marriage was eleven children all of whom except one are living. For a long time she had been affected with throat troubles which terminated in consumption. Mrs. Archibald was confined to her bed since last November, and though very much weakened yet she was cheerful and rational to the hour of death. INSURE AT ONCE.—Mr. Julius Gradwohl's advice to the people of Albany is to insure at once before it is too late, for the fire fiend is devastating the cities of the N. W. Mr Gradwohl represents seven solid companies, with an aggregate capital of $76,000,000 and a cash deposit of $350,000 at Salem. As well as business men, farmers should insure their crops, for they will burn, as a number of cases already testify. Though Mr Gradwohl's companies best some in Seattle, Vancouver, Ellensburg and Spokane Falls their capital is so great the loss is not felt, and they will continue to place risks and pay losses with their usual promptness, the same as they did after the great Chicago fire, in which their losses were heavy.
