

SCOTT SQUIRMS.

Notwithstanding the humiliating rebuke which Harvey Scott drew down on his own head by his inexcusably mean and knavishly dirty attack upon the democratic party, he still persists in repeating it, though it is such as only cowards and slanderers make. Blatherskite-like he attempts to bring in a lot of rot that has no bearing upon the subject. This man Scott attempts to hold the democratic party amenable for all the crimes and wickedness brought to the door of Terry. We prove the utter fallaciousness of his logic by making up the character of the republican party from its character. As an example: When the "youthful indiscretions" of Senator Mitchell were brought to light in 1873 and the moral element of the party was put to shame on account of its hideousness, Scott hastened to the republican convention to be held in Albany and labored with a zeal worthy of a decent cause to induce that body to endorse Mitchell, which it did. After this, not a prominent leader in the party could be induced to accept a nomination to congress, on account of the humiliation, shame and disgrace the party was put to by Scott's conduct. Finally Hiram Smith was nominated, but he was beaten overwhelmingly by a very unpopular democrat. It would have been a slanderous outrage upon the republican party for any democrat to have said then or now that Scott or even Mitchell was then or is now a representative of the methods, purposes and intentions of the republican party, yet that would be the inevitable conclusion of Scott's logic or lack of logic. Every man who lived in Oregon in 1873 will remember the stupendous, wholesale frauds practiced that year by Holladay to elect his ticket. Such bribery, corruption, intimidation and repeating has never been known in the state. Gibbs was U. S. district attorney, and such was the wide-spread alarm created by the manner of carrying the election that he was moved to make an attempt to prosecute the guilty parties. At that time Scott was cheek-by-jowl with Ben Holladay and had been one of the chief managers in electing Ben's ticket. Scott and his partners in the matter grew greatly alarmed at Gibbs' attitude, and it was then that Scott wrote the following letter: (We repeat its publication by request.)

PORTLAND, Feb. 16th, 1874.
MY DEAR SIR:—You will see that I have been and still am making it warm for Deady. I believe that if you and other friends of our cause at Washington would acquaint Butler and other members of the house with these tremendous facts, Deady would be impeached. You know that the Oregonian is constantly attacking Butler, and you know also that Deady is editor of the Oregonian. Now if all these facts were properly made use of we could scare Deady, at least. What do you think about it? All our friends here hope that something will be done to rid the bench of this "feshliest incubus." Please show this to Mr. Holladay. Respectfully,
H. W. SCOTT.

And this is the man who seeks the graves of such illustrious patriots and statesmen as Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Monroe, Tilden, Hancock, Seymour, McClellan, Cleveland, Hendricks and others, and there pours out his slanderous venom to appease his insatiable spirit of hate and party prejudice.

The State Democrat publishes Harvey Scott's "feshliest incubus" letter and then adds: "On the other hand, some scraps of past history, if truthfully told, would plainly show that Harvey was equally as perfidious to his friend Holladay as the above letter conclusively proves that he has treated Judge Deady. For instance, as it is said, the little episode of Harvey's bank account being enormously increased from the corruption fund which, on the night before the election, was lying piled up on a table in Holladay's mansion. If all the statements made in regard to it be true Harvey is a fit subject for the hotel Downing, located one mile or so east of here."

The Brownsville Times says: "It should be the aim of every loyal citizen to help the Government to exclude these land monopolies, and if an agreement to the above effect, were entered into there would be no danger of any monopoly gaining possession of the land."

Our cotemporary seems to think that we have two classes of citizens a loyal and a disloyal class. We have but one class all are law abiding patriotic people.

The Streator, Illinois, Times Independence says that the election of Harrison and a Republican Congress has cost the laboring men of that Congressional district $2,000,000 to date, with the prospect of $1,000,000 more being added, and concludes that the result of next fall's election is rather an expensive luxury.

The Oregonian thinks that Mrs. Maybrick should hang. It is her misfortune that she is only an American woman; if she were a Chinaman, the Oregonian would cry for mercy.—Roseburg Review.

The Democrats of Montana have nominated for governor J. K. Toole, of Helena; for lieutenant governor, Howard Conrad, of Billings; for congress, Martin McGinness, of Helena.

Wright's Myrrh too is soap and oil conquer every tin and you have "a brash" with it. Death to tartar and decay. Sold by Foshay & Mason.

SCOTT VS. TERRY.

The Oregonian has defiled its columns for a number of issues with a lot of venomous slime about the democratic party that is a disgrace to decent journalism. It seized hold of the circumstance of the killing of Terry and rolled it as a sweet morsel under its tongue. If no answer had been made to Scott's slanders against the democratic party he would have straightway said they are true, for no one dares deny them. Now that the DEMOCRAT has not only answered his villainous falsehoods, but paralyzed him on his own record, he flies into a towering passion, calls names and says that because the charges are denied that proves that they are true. Queer logic, but that is the kind Scotty deals in. Here is another sample: If Terry represented the "methods and purposes" of the democratic party, then Judge Field being a prominent and leading democrat, is a part and parcel of the democratic party, and according to Scotty is no better man than Terry. Again, when Terry was elected Judge of the Supreme Court of California he was elected on the Know Nothing ticket and belonged to the same party that Scotty did, and if belonging to a party makes him the representative of its "methods and purposes," then Scotty is no better man than Terry. "The mountain was in labor and brought forth a pismire, and so with the big bully that runs the Oregonian, and be his name Nooks, or Stokes, or Siles, or Scott, or Shot, or Rot, or Pot, with a P, he has simply written himself down an ass.
