The Democrat.

MORE "FREE TRADERS."

Let a democrat intimate that it would be for the best interest of the country that a reduction in part or altogether of the duty on some imported article of merchandise should be made, and at once the charge is made by all the republican papers, high or low, that such democrat is a "free trader," and he is held up as an enemy of our home industrial interests and a friend of English interests. To such an extent has the idea been carried by republicans that a duty is imposed on many articles not produced to any extent in this country, and some republicans are opening their eyes to this fact. On the 7th of September the republicans of Pratt County Kansas adopted resolutions declaring that "duty levied on imported fibres, suitable for making binding twine, has failed in its protective features to develop or give the farmers a home product to take the place of the foreign fibres, and that American grain growers are compelled to rely on imported fibres of which to make binding twine suitable for binding grain. To continue collecting a duty on such imports is working a hardship on the grain growers by increasing the cost of their binding materials."

Congressman S R Peters was requested to frame and introduce a bill into Congress to place all raw fibres that are used and are suitable for making binding twine on the free list, and to use every means in his power to have the bill passed at the earliest possible date The President was petitioned to call the attention of Congress to the matter, asking immediate relief.

Now, these farmers in Kansas are, after the "most strictest" class, republicans. They are orthodox in the strongest sense. They have always been regarded by the leaders of that party throughout the country as models in their devotion and loyalty to that party. Now, here in broad day light, in the eighth month of the reign of Ben Harrison, these loyal republicans par excellence, put themselves on record as "free traders" by all the rules of logic of the Mountaineer, Statesman and Oregonian. To be consistent these papers must without delay rise up and denounce these brethren as "free traders" and enemies of their country. But will they do it? Nay, verily. In the estimation of these papers, that, that is a crime for a democrat to do, becomes an act of great good sense when performed by a republican. Such is the transmogrifying influence of the blind devotion of the these papers to their party.

Of the fifty-four Presidential postmasters appointed just one succeeds a predecessor whose term had expired, while thirty-three step into the places of Democrats removed to make room for Republican "workers." Mr. HARRISON'S gleaming snickarsee seems to have been whetted anew by the utterances of the New York and Massachusetts Republicans in favor of Civil-Service Reform. Mr. HARRISON is something of a joker himself.

The democrats elect everything in Montana but congressman. They have a majority of seven and maybe nine on joint ballot in the legislature. This will secure two United States Senators. Montana went republican last fall by 3,126 majority and that party had 18 majority on joint ballot in the legislature. Upon the whole the result of the elections in the territories are favorable to the democrats.

Last year the aggregate republican majority in the four territories of Washington, Montana, and the two Dakotas was 35553. The aggregate majority this year is approximately 30000 showing a republican loss in the four territories of 5000 votes. And this result the republicans called a "cold" one for democrats. So be it. Let the "winter" set right in.

The democrats made large gains in Montana and North Dakota and the republicans made some gains in the other two, but the democratic gains exceed the republican gains by about 8000. Nice, if it was "cold."

If any more Republican papers in Virginia go back on Mahone he will have to rent a dozen phonographs to talk for him.

TOO INDISCREET.—We conversed with a man yesterday who had lately made a visit to his old home in the east, and he speaks of affairs in general as very deplorable. Laborers receive very small wages, and mechanics but a little more. Farmers are satisfied with small returns, and the proceeds of their harvests are nothing in comparison with those in the North west.—Times Mountaineer.

What, wages low under Harrison and our high tariff? Is it possible for such things to be? Were we not promised good times, good wages if Harrison should be elected? And now things are deplorable—much worse than under Cleveland? The Mountaineer is usually more discreet than this letting the "cat out of the bag" in this candid way.
