DOWN THE TREE.—A few days ago being reborn, printed in this city, set in their spiny editorial columns that that time on and for evermore they publish no communication if the did not allow his or her name to be with the same. It would seem sorrow that they, however, "come the tree," and published a communiunder an assumed name over the Non-ame "A Friend." It is the policy to publish anything that interest to its readers. At the same is strange that everybody wants to up the authorship of their articles.

AN OWL THEN.—A Portland boy who was visiting his cousin in Linn county shot a Chinese pheasant one day while they were out hunting, says the Silverton Appeal. As they approached town in returning from their hunt the astute country cousin took the pheasant from the Portland boy's hands and deliberately pulled its tail feathers out. "Why did you do that?" indignantly asked the city youth.
"That makes him an owl," said the country-jake with a knowing wink. "There aint no law 'gint killin' owls in Linn county." The Portland boy whose father belongs to the Portland Rod and Gun Club, sneered as he said: "Well, you must be a jay; when my old man does up a China, he brings him home tail and all." "That's all right for Portland," said the country cousin, "but I tell you we have law up here in the 'Forks.' You Rod and Gun Club fellows wouldn't know a law if you was to meet it in the road."

NEW THINGS.—That is what we are al-after, and here is a list of new things just received at the Willamette Packing Co's store:

Also a full line of best canned fruits and vegetables.

ANOTHER CONFESSION.—An old democrat approached a republican friend yesterday just after the news had been received that Iowa had gone democratic and began to talk in the most familiar way about that state. The republican who had on a very large disgust asked in a fretful manner, "what do you know about Iowa?" "I was born there," said the jubilant democrat, "but this is the first time the people of that state have done anything that inspired me to confess it."

FATHERLESS.—The Morning Journal is the name of a new paper just started in Portland. Just what it means no one knows, nor how it is backed, nor where it was born; but it is to be hoped it will do something in the metropolis, just to stir up the enterprising Oregonian that has been having a regular full fledged monopoly.

A SPORTING TRIP.—Mr Chester Skeels has returned from a sporting trip of a couple months through Washington, and reports having killed nearly everything but a cayote. He reports five people coming from Washington to Oregon to one going that way.

AN EASTERN WIFE.—Mr St Helens, the plano tuner, has returned from a trip East, while gone running the gamut from single misery to double blessedness, Mrs St Helens returning with him. They are at the Russ.

GOOD PROPERTY.—About ten acres of land right in the city being the north ten eres of the Milton Hale place. The land a-sleeps nicely and has a large frontage on the road. This is very desirable property and is for sale for a few days at a reasonable figure and on easy terms.—E G Beardsley Real Estate Agt Broadalbin St Albany.

NEXT WEEK.—Next week our people will be given a treat in having with them for a week the Chicago Comedy company which played here with such great success several months ago. In their tour through the Northwest they have been universally well received, securing in every instance the economies of the press and the good will of the people.
