

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

Emperor William of Germany is a very hearty eater. He gets away with four meals a day in royal style. He eats ham and eggs for breakfast, game and salads for luncheon, soups, fish and roasts for dinner and hot sausages and beer for supper. He has grown very fleshy of late.

If the Lodge bill should become a law a condition of affairs would be witnessed in the South similar to that which prevailed during the reconstruction period. Labor would be disorganized and business would be partly paralyzed. Every kind of industry would suffer. The marvelous prosperity which the South is now enjoying would be checked. Northern capital and northern immigration would cease to flow southward.

Assistant Postmaster General Clarkson, having chopped off the heads of about all the democratic postmasters who can be reached, now proposes to tender his resignation. Brother Wannamaker has been splendidly served by Mr. Clarkson and he ought to take him into partnership in the bargain business.

Out of the depths of a rough experience Senator Allison advocates reducing the tariff taxes as much as possible and placing a large number of articles on the free list. This is Senator Allison's idea of western republicanism gained through the Iowa elections. But as the eastern republicans put up most of the money for the last election they propose to insist on payment of their rewards through high protective duties.

Wyoming is the feeblest state we have had yet and its admission the most flagrant piece of party jobbery. New Mexico has double the claim to statehood that Wyoming has or will have for years, and yet she cannot even get considered from a committee. Wyoming is counted upon for two republican electoral votes, while New Mexico would probably go democratic.

Sixty-two presidents, representing county organizations of the Kansas Farmers Alliance, met at Topeka on Monday night last and by a vote of 43 to 19 adopted a resolution declaring that the Alliance would not support, by vote or influence, those members of the state legislature who favor the re-election of John J. Ingalls to the United States Senate. The resolution declares that Ingalls has never championed a single measure which was in the interest of the laboring people.

One of the most remarkable echoes is that described by Sir John Herschel as produced by the suspension bridge across the Menai straits in Wales. The sound of a blow of a hammer on one of the piers is returned in succession from each of the cross beams which support the roadway and from the opposite pier, at the distance of 576 feet; and, in addition to this, the sound is many times repeated between the water and the roadway, at the rate of twenty eight times in five seconds.

WOMEN WRITERS IN FRANCE.

A Paris correspondent says: The most discouraging obstacle the American woman has to contend with in Paris is the great number of English and French writers employed by the American press, while it is impossible for an American writer to be recognized by foreign journals. One of the most rapid anti-Americans, in his personal feelings, receives thousands of dollars a year from American magazines and journals. No woman can live by her pen who has not a regular salary. To attempt it is one of the most hazardous and vexatious undertakings. Haphazard correspondence is casting bread on the water that in nine cases out of ten brings back—the manuscript. Miss Hooper has a stated salary, which enables her to live in cozy apartments and enjoy Parisian life with comfort. Her daughter has studied for the stage, and last June created the role in a play which Mrs Hooper has written, called "Helen's Inheritance."

A SAMPLE STATE.

Yesterday the Republican House of Representatives voted to admit the Territory of Wyoming to the sisterhood of States. This is a case of politics pure and simple.

At the last election Wyoming cast 18,010 votes. Of these votes 4,000 were cast by women. Under the Congressional apportionment we are allowed one Representative in Congress for a population of 151,912. In this State it requires an average of from 30,000 to 45,000 votes to elect a member of Congress. Yet when Wyoming becomes a State, she certainly will under Republican pressure, 14,000 males voters will be able to send a Representative to Congress, while they will have the same sovereign power in the Senate that 1,320,000 voters of New York possess.

It is proposed to admit Wyoming solely because the Republican party means to strengthen its power in the Senate so that it may not be dislodged for years. Of all the rotten-borough schemes this is the worst and most flagrant. It is proper that Territories should be admitted to the Union the very moment that they are fit for Statehood, regardless of their political predilections. Wyoming has no claim at present, and the Democrats of the House who protested yesterday deserve commendation.
