WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 28, 1890.
The injustice and absurdity of the McKinley tariff bill excited such general dissatisfaction that the republicans are obliged to abandon it. It is conceded that the bill can never become a law, but the republican majority in the House has so thoroughly committed itself that the bill is expected to pass the House by a strict party vote. In the meantime the republicans of the Senate Finance committee are at work on another bill as a substitute for the McKinley bill. They expect to report it to the senate very soon after the McKinley bill passes the House. This shows the importance of Mr McKinley's specious oratory, that captivates a careless crowd, to convince the business interests of the country of the propriety of a single idea he entertains on the subject of tariff.

The republican joint caucus committee of the House and senate have agreed upon the basis for the preparation of a silver bill. It directs the secretary of the treasury to purchase 4,500,000 ounces of free silver per month at the market price, not to exceed $1 for 371.25 grains of pure silver, and issue treasury notes in payment of the bullion. These notes shall be payable on demand in lawful money of the United States, and are receivable for all public dues. No greater or less amount of such notes shall be outstanding at any time than the cost of the silver bullion then held in the treasury, purchased by such notes. Upon demand of the holder of any such treasury notes, the secretary of the treasury may, at his discretion, pay off such notes with silver bullion at its market price. The secretary is also permitted to coin this bullion, should it be necessary, for the redemption of these proposed treasury notes, $78,000,000 held to redeem the circulation of banks will be restored to general circulation.

The investigating committee on interstate commerce charged with inquiry into the relations of railroads of the United States and Canada has concluded its labors. Chairman Cullom has completed a report which, with sundry remedial recommendations, awaits the approval of the committee. The report states that the good effects of the interstate commerce law are partially nullified by the competition of the Canadian lines. Unjust discrimination is made by Canada against U S vessels in Welland canal tolls, in violation of the treaty of Washington. The Canadian railroads control lines operating over a large part of New England and Northern States. Canada owns a system of canals that cost $54,000,000. The intercolonial railway has cost $47,000,000. To the Canadian Pacific railway, which was begun as a government line Canada has $215,000,000 but the road cost only $167,000,000. The report states that it has been the uncalculated purpose of the Canadian government to secure a railroad across the continent of commanding influence which in connection with subsidized steamer lines, would be able to dominate the transcontinental commerce of the United States and deflect from American railroads, vessels and seaports a large share of our commerce with countries of Asia, Australia and New Zealand. In this endeavor it has met with marked success and is progressing. Canada subsidizes lines of steamers from Vancouver the western terminus of the Canadian R R., with $425,000; and one line from St. Johns N B, its eastern terminus receives a subsidy of $80,000.

The report refers to a conference of the commercial and industrial bodies of the Pacific coast held at San Francisco, July 1889. The report of the conference declares that with such special advantages the Canadian Pacific could afford to quote rates that must drive the American steamer lines out of the China trade, to the almost irreparable injury of San Francisco and predicts general destruction for the larger part of the American steamer traffic on the Pacific ocean, unless some vigorous measures be adopted by the U S government.

A bill to make a territory of Oklahoma has passed the senate; 50 yeas, 5 nays. Whenever the Indian interests in surrounding territory shall be extinguished it will be annexed to Oklahoma. The laws of Nebraska are extended over the new territory.

ITS FUTURE GROWTH ASSURED.—Pres. ident Reid, of the Astoria and South Coast Railway Co., in his recent report to the directors, says: "There are only four large safe ocean ports on the Pacific Coast of the United States; San Diego, San Francisco, Puget Sound and Astoria, the last named the terminus of your road, which with suburbs, has seven miles of deep water frontage adjoining the jetty improvements, made by the government at an expense of $2,000,000. With steamers a connection in twenty-six hours is had between Astoria and all ports on Puget Sound, without constructing any railway there to. When the steamboat railway at the Upper Cascades is finished, the interior river grain traffic of Eastern Oregon and Washington for 800 miles will terminate at Astoria, and there be placed on foreign bottoms to Europe, just as the Willamette Valley and Western Oregon grain trade will do at Astoria, when this road is connected with the valley system of roads. The growth of Astoria is thus assured." The Oregon Land Co., has lots in Astoria which it offers as desirable bargains.
