

DAILY DEMOCRAT.

WEATHER BULLETIN No. 9.

Of the Oregon State Weather Bureau, co-operating with U. S. Signal Service, Central Office, Portland, Oregon, for the week ending Saturday, May 10th, 1890:

WEATHER.

The high temperature of the previous two weeks continued up to Wednesday of this week, when it fell, being more near the normal; the temperature fell to near the frost point, but owing to the cloudy weather no frosts are reported to have occurred.

During the week rain fell in all sections of the state, being felt copiously except in the Willamette valley. Nearly two inches fell in Jackson county, an inch in Douglas and Josephine, generally less than one quarter of an inch in the Willamette valley, and in Eastern Oregon from .10 to nearly .75 of an inch. Rain has been needed, and more would prove beneficial; present indications are for more rain.

The amount of sunshine has been about the average. Thunder storms were experienced in Southern and Eastern Oregon on the 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7th instants.

CROPS.

The weather conditions have been very beneficial to crops of all kinds. Spring sown wheat especially needed rain and in those districts where it was most needed it fell. Unusual as it may appear in the Willamette valley the soil is very dry and in sections hard. While all crops are growing, yet good general rain would prove to be very beneficial. The subsoil is generally very moist yet, but small seeds, spring sown grain and the like need surface moisture. The cooler, cloudy weather that has prevailed the latter few days has proven very beneficial. Grasses are heading out in sections, alfalfa has a good stand. The grass is generally reported to be in good condition. Crops are growing finely and rain is needed, is reported from all sections. On the 8th general rain prevailed in Eastern Oregon, which will tend to lessen the possible injurious effects of the warm dry weather.

RIVERS.

The warm weather has rapidly melted the snows in the mountains all streams in Oregon are rising, but no danger is apprehended. The Willamette river at Portland has risen six feet during the week and the current is swift. The Powder, Grande Ronde, Umatilla, Umpqua and Rogue rivers are rising. The Columbia risen and is now on a slow steady rise.
